BY THE EDITOR

Clarence W. Warwick is this week engaged in soliciting for THE NEWS in the country tributary to this city, and we trust that our friends will treat him kindly. We are endeavoring to give our readers a good local and general newspaper, and expect in return the liberal support of all residents of this section. We have received a very liberal patronage in the past, still there are quite a large number of people living right in the city who do not take our paper.

In glancing over our political column this week our readers will notice the announcement of F. M. Brown, of Brownsville, who is a candidate for representative, on the republican ticket. Mr. Brown has lived in this county for a number of years, and has been engaged in the newspaper business at Brownsville for several years, and is a man well and favorably known, and eminently qualified to fill the position to which he aspires.

A man living near Columbus, Ohio, lately traded his wife for a horse and wagon, the woman gladly consenting. It is a little difficult to figure out which of the three interested parties pofited most by the trade, but the chances seem rather in favor of the man who got the wagon.

Before he allowed his men to be trapped by the Boers as they were Saturday night, Colonel Broadwood was spoken of as an officer "who always slept with one eye open." It looks a little as if he sometimes varies the performance by being awake with both eyes closed.

A man in New Orleans has been arrested for obtaining by false pretenses a one-cent revenue stamp from his brother-in-law. This thing of legal rows over family fortunes is becoming wearisome.

Hon. Thos. Tongue was nominated for representative to congress from this district, at the convention held in McMinnville Tuesday of this week.

TAILOR MADE SUITS

We have now got our spring samples—4 big books—containing over one thousand samples, and nary a two alike. Out of these you can surely get a choice, suit you both in price and material

The great number of tailor made suits that we get every season is the surest advertisement as to how much better they are than COMMON READY MADE ones. Indeed you get 100 per cent more wear and 500 per cent more looks. There is no question about FIT our clothes have got to fit—and positively guaranteed to. With our 10 years of experience measuring for these suits, we know all about how to get neat fits, and have the clothes set properly etc. Don't be deluded with the notion, either, that "anybody" can measure and get good fits. That is impossible, and poor fits are little better than hand-me-downs. Once you wear a tailor made suit, you will have no other ever after. For they look so neat and new, and feel so good on a fellow. And you can never appear like a real 20th century man without you have on one of our tailor made suits.

A Testimonial from Old England.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufactures of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is For sale by Peery & Peery.

Prof. G. W. Shaw, who has ably filled his position as head of the chemical department at the agricultural college and experiment station for several years past, has accepted a position as chemist and assistant superintendent of a large beet sugar factory at Grand Junction, Colorado. He expects to enter upon his new duties at the close of the present college year. It will be remembered that Professor Shaw resigned his position at the O. A. C. several months ago, the resignation to take effect in June next. The prospective departure of Professor Shaw and family is regretted by many friends.—Corvallis Union.

Marion Kooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine millinery at 1658 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to attend my work during the day. One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by Peery & Peery.

Application of J S Lewis et al for a county road was disallowed.

The county judge was directed to contract the bridge at Sweet Home.

The clerk was directed to turn the delinquent tax roll for 1896 over to the sheriff for collection.

Circuit Court.

Judge Boise, in the circuit court Friday, rendered a decision of some importance to the county and to those who buy property at tax sales. The case was that of Thos. Morgan vs P. H. Marley, and grew out of the fact that a few years ago Marley bought the farm of Morgan at the regular tax sale of the sheriff when the property was sold for delinquent taxes. In due course of time the sheriff executed to Marley a tax deed to the land. The present suit was brought to set aside that deed on the ground that the sheriff had not followed strictly all the provisions of the law regarding the levy and sale. The court held that the law should be strictly construed and followed and ordered that the deed be set aside. The tax collecting laws of this state have been amended so many times by poor legislators who did not understand the law that it is now absolutely impossible for the sheriff to do the work of collecting the taxes in accordance with all the conflicting laws on the subject.

Linn County Pioneer Dead.

Mrs. Julia Temple, widow of the late W. K. Temple, died at her home near Plainview, Wednesday evening, April 4, 1900, aged nearly 62 years. Deceased was born in Illinois, on July 4, 1838. She came to Oregon in 1852, and since 1867 has resided on the home place near Plainview. She was an excellent woman esteemed and respected by all who knew her. She leaves seven children—four girls and three boys. The funeral was held at the home at 10 o'clock Friday morning conducted by C. C. Sperry, of Brownsville, after which the remains were interred in the Sand Ridge cemetery.

Goat Men Organize

A meeting of considerable importance was held in this city on Saturday of last week, and one which was pretty well attended by the principal goat raisers of this section. The meeting was held for the purpose of organizing an association for the protection of the goat raisers, which was done, and about thirty of our substantial farmers formed what will be known as the Angora Goat Association, with B. H. Irvine, president, and F. T. Thayer, secretary. W. R. Ray, Henry Cyrus and James Hassler were elected as selling committee. The next meeting of the association will be held in this city on the first Saturday in October. There were about 2250 fleeces of mohair pooled by members, which will be sold to the highest bidder, in this city, Tuesday, April 17th, the committee reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

There is no doubt but that there will be a great deal of good accomplished by the formation of such associations, and in-as-much as all the leading industries of the country are forming just such organizations it is no more than right that the farmer should do so also, and therefore protect himself and the products of his labor.

Bryans Sayings

Among the terse things said by Mr. Bryan in a recent address were these:

No king on earth would have the unlimited power of the President, if the people approve the Porto Rican tariff bill.

The republican party is borrowing from England all that is bad, but will not take the income tax which is good.

If the people do not get the trust question in their heads, they will get it in their necks.

The plea of destiny is the plea of cowardice.

No nation is strong enough to do wrong.

Admiral Dewey should be made correspond with Layfayette and not Lord Clain.

Conquest does not mean destiny but covetousness and temptation.

God does not inspire one man to conquor another, and inspire the other to die for independence.

It is not the producer, but the nonproducer of wealth, that makes the laws.

So long as the farmer lets the monopolist make the laws, they will not meet at summer resorts.

Monopolists opposed the democracy because it was the party of the common-wealth.

If the republican party destroys trust it will destroy the goose that lays the golden egg.

No larger standing army is needed. The country is safe in the volunteers.

Government should be made so that every citizen will be ready to die to preserve it.

The historical magazine, "Oregon Native Son," for March, has just reached us. Unlike monthly publications generally, the "Native Son" is published the last of the month instead of the first. The following are the contents: "The Pilgrims of the plains" poem. Joaquin Miller; "A Tour of the World," (illustrated) John J Valentine; Multnomah Indian Tradition." F H Saylor; "Willamette," poem, G. A. Waggoner; "Prehistoric North Pacific Wrecks," James Wickersham; "Tales of the Mines," G. A. Waggoner and other articles of merit.

While the distinctive features of this magazine, generally, have been its historical articles and Indian Legends from the pens of authoritative writers, illustrative pictures of the lakes and mountains of the Northwest, and the portraits and biographies of the pioneers, it commences with this issue the publication of a "Tour of the World," by John J. Valentine, president of Wells Fargo & Co., and a writer and philanthropist of natural repute. This article, composed of a series of letters, will probably run through a dozen months. It is written in a very interesting style, and will prove very instructive to those who follow, in reading it, Mr. Valentine in his meanderings abroad.

The illustrations are unusually fine, and would do credit to a magazine of far more pretentions than the "Native Son."

Death of James P. Combs

A letter received by James Elkins, of Albany, from his son Charles states that James P. Combs, of Prineville, died at his home in that city last week, aged about 76 years. Mr. Combs was a pioneer settler of Linn county, residing in the forks of the Santiam for several years. He suffered from rheumatism, and following an attack of la grippe, it was found necessary to amputate his left leg, and he did not survive the shock. He was a prominent citizen of Crook county and had accumulated considerable property.

Profits in Sheep

The true story about the profits to be derived from the handling of of sheep is told by the Corvallis Times:

"A Benton county man, who for the purpose of this article is to be nameless, bought on a certain day in last January, 28 head of sheep, and within the brief space of 48 days made off of them a clear profit of $82.50, or an average of nearly three dollars per head. To be exact, his net profit was $3.94½. The sheep were ewes, all in good condition. He paid for them $5 per head. During the 48 days the increase was 35 lambs. Before the end of the 48 days the lambs were sold to the butcher at $2.50 per head, or $87.50. For pasturage on the outfit, during the 48 days he paid in all $5. He sold the original stock—28 head of ewes—for the same price he paid for them, or $5 per head.

But few men know when they have got enough in the way of money, land, office and the like. With most men the pleasure of living consists in toil and worry to get more of the very things which they no not really need.

J TURNER, Agent, Albany.

C. H. Markman, general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific railroad, gives some pointers for the poultry men of Oregon that would be well to heed. He says that their company last year hauled over 254 car loads of poultry from Kansas and Nebraska to California. The rate from Kansas is $1.75 per 100. The average number of chickens in a car is 4,000, which brings the average price to 31 cts per pound or $1.44 a dozen for the average chicken, and as the northwest can raise chickens so easily there is no reason why these hundreds of car loads that go into California markets should not come from this section. It is time to say that the chicken business is overdone, or that it does not pay, when we have succeeded in supplying all the wants of ourselves and our neighbor state.
