S. E. YOUNG & SON, ALBANY, OREGON

PURELY PERSONAL

H. H. Henline was at Woodburn this week. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Miller were Albany visitors over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butcher spent Sunday at the county seat, visiting with relatives. Miss Davy, of Salem, visited in Scio over Sunday, the guest of Mrs. E. E. Larimore. Sna'l Goin, was in Scio Sunday, shaking hands with his numerous friends in this section. Miss Martha Jackson, of Halsey, is visiting with numerous relatives in this section this week. W. A. Ewing and Uncle James Williams were at Albany the first of the week on a business trip. H. S. Johnston was down from Mehama this week, looking after business at the planing mills. Grandson Butcher visited with her daughter, Mrs. E. Goin, in Albany the latter part of last week. Joe Johnston was at Salem Wednesday, attending the corner stone ceremonies of the Old Fellows temple. Claud Calavan was at Lafayette the first of the week, visiting with the family of his uncle, R. D. Calavan. Albert Cole came up from Portland the first of the week for a days visit with his family and numerous friends. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hagey were visiting near Gervais the first of the week, making the trip on their wheels. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Daniels of Salem, were on Sunday for a short visit with relatives. They returned home in the evening. Henry Myer and M. M. Peery were at Sodeville Wednesday of this week, and brought back a quantity of mineral water with them. Attorney T. J. Wilson was at Salem the first of the week, he having a case before the circuit court of Marion county to look after. J. A. Bilyeu was a county seat visitor the first of the week, he having some business before the probate court, in relation to his father's estate. Miss Sylvia and Winnie Mank, who have been attending the Albany college, returned home the first of the week, and will remain during the vacation. L. L. Calavan and family left this week for Helknap springs, where it is hoped the hot water baths of those famous springs will assist Mr. Calavan in regaining his health. T. Turner, Wm. Abbott and Lee Baker left the latter part of last week for Eastern Oregon, where the two last named will seek employment and Mr. Turner health. V. B. Goin and N. T. Higgins left Saturday evening on their bicycles for Southern Oregon, where they will look the country over for a week or so with a view to future location. A. M. Young was at Fall City, in Polk county, Saturday last, where he organized a camp of the M. W. A. He was assisted by Clarence Worwick, and together they returned to this city the first of the week. W. W. Hepburn, of Salem, accompanied by an eastern lumberman, was in Scio the first of the week. He states that the flume proposition which was talked of a few weeks ago by some Portland parties, is by no means dead and that in all probability the flume will be built without much further delay. Harry Shelton, who for some years past has made his home near Jordan, has decided to move to Eastern Oregon, and in about two weeks will move with his family to Shaniko, where he will reside in the future—provided that the country is what is claimed for it. THE NEWS will visit him each week all his new home and keep him posted on the doings of his many friends in this section.

Excursion to Detroit.

The C. & E. railroad will run an excursion to Detroit and return on Sunday, June 17, leaving Albany at 7:30 o'clock a. m., and returning will leave Detroit at 4:30 o'clock p. m. A fine picnic ground has been fitted up by the people of Detroit, and fishing in the river was never better. This is an ideal chance for an outing. The fare for the round trip is only $1.50.

Accident at Magnolia Mills. Just before noon Monday John Goin, one of the proprietors of the Magnolia mills, was working at the top of big wheat bins, and while crossing over one of the bins he stepped on an old iron pipe which was lying across the bin, his foot slipped and he fell to the bottom of the empty bin, a distance of about twelve feet, striking on the side of his head, cutting a deep gash in the side of his head and almost severing one of his ears. It was a very difficult task to get him out of the deep bin. A block and tackle was fastened to the top girls in the mill and he was hoisted in that manner, and taken home by Dr. W. H. Davis called and attended him. He was severely hurt, but will probably recover.

The cannon at the O. A. C. will be heard from no more. It was shipped Tuesday to its owner, Roake & Son, at Oregon City, by whom it was loaned to the cadet battalion, during its stay at the college, the gun has been the vehicle for many a student prank. It has thundered at all hours of the night, to the great dismay of the nervous females. It has often rattled windows and shook doors and has started many a town rooster to crowing at times inopportune. Its departure is a harbinger of peace and will serve to reduce expenses of some of the boys whose means have been liberally laid out in the purchase of gunpowder. —Corvallis Times.

"Next week," announced a Missourite editor, who has the Sheldon episode still fresh in his mind, "we will be running this paper as Jessie James would have run it. Delinquent subscribers may expect a call from us with their accounts stuck in the muzzle of a six shooter. Otherwise this paper will have to be run as the sheriff would run it."

The case against Matt Craft which was dismissed at Salem this week seems to be a peculiar one. There was no evidence produced at the trial in the justice court which had any weight, and when the case was called in the circuit court it was dismissed without a witness being called. Matt's many friends in this section are all congratulating him upon his victory against persecution.

In our last issue we neglected to note that there were two road supervisors, a justice and constable elected in this city at the late election. R. Shelton was re-elected justice of the peace, and Wm. May will look after the thoroughfares on the south side for the next two years.

A large number of our people went out picnicking on Sunday last, and the city presented a desolated appearance most of the day. The day was an ideal one, and those who could do so spent the greater part of it on the shady banks of our dithorous mountain streams. The fish, however, had evidently been warned of their coming, as many of the most famous of our knights of the large failed to land anything like a large string.

It is estimated that there are 1,000 acres of flax that will be harvested in Linn county this year. The greater part of the flax cultivated in Linn is located on the forks of the Santiam and in the immediate vicinity of Scio. The seed when harvested is worth about 15c per bushel, and the fiber is used in the manufacture of grain sacks, burlap etc.—Rural spirit.

Spraying is a thing that needs to be very effectively done if it is to be of value. The mild winter of 1899-00 was favorable to the increase of pests, and more vigilance will be required every year to protect a garden them until another severe winter comes and reduces their number. Fighting noxious insects now means and more vigilance will be required every year to protect a garden them until another severe winter comes and reduces their number. The winter wheat has been certainly damaged. This is the consensus of opinion gathered from all sources. The crop is now heading and in many places it is striking rust to such an extent that the yield will be much reduced. Mill men speak of the situation with much apprehension, although it is clear there are no doubts there will be a fall crop. Just at present no one is pointing out a field that will go to bushels per acre.

It is said that a large number of the British soldiers now in South Africa express a desire to settle there when the war is over. It is altogether likely that at least a few more of them may settle there before the war is over.
