A FEW FARM NOTES

The price of eggs is gradually advancing and there will be no more low prices until the latter part of next winter.

A representative of the British government is in Eastern Oregon with a view of buying 2000 head of horses for use in South Africa.

The Jefferson Review reports that Barber Bros. are making extensive improvements on their cranberry near Marion, Oregon.

A band of 150 mares and colts were shipped Friday from Heppner to Salt Lake. They had been bought in the Long Creek country, at $5 per head.

Three trainloads of range horses were shipped from Heppner, Wash. recently to the Eastern market. There were 50 cars in all, containing about 1200 head.

The Herald is informed that there is a good crop of peaches this year on the island below Wheelbarrow, Oregon. Andrew Hewitt, J. LaBullette and F. Post are among those who will have large crops.

This was a good year for strawberries at Milton, Oregon. The Eagle reports that William Clark sold 520 crates from one and three-fourths acres. His net receipts after paying for picking, packing and shipping, were $460.

It is estimated that the weekly loss of Unstilla county hives 3000 head of range horses. They have been large shippers to the Linton country for the past two seasons, but seem to have a good foundation.

The Coquille Herald reports that Mr. Woodward, a dairyman near Norway, Oregon, has just brought 30 blooded calves from Humboldt county, California. The calves are about three months old and cost $25 each in California.

Professor Snyder, of the Minnesota Experiment station, has found by investigation that corn-fodder grown on irrigated land contained 8.83 per cent of protein, while that on unimproved soil contained only 6.32 per cent.

Dr. W. Seward Webb has had 135,000 white and Scotch pine trees planted this year on farms belonging to him in Oregon. The trees were from two to three feet high and the cost of the trees and planting amounted to about $20,000.

At an auction sale of farm stock at the John Burns place in Polk county, Oregon, a few days ago, the following prices were obtained: Each spring lamb, $2.50; yearling, $3.00; calves, $5 to $8; yearlings, $10 to $18; and hogs, $7 to $15.

There is a scarcity of farm lands in Oregon to harvest the crop. Farmers are securing the county for help and are offering $1.50 to $2 per day for extra work men. There is more attraction in the gold fields, than in the harvest fields, which is the cause of the scarcity of men.

Harvest has commenced both east and west of the Cascade mountains. The poor grain crop of the Willamette valley is offset by an unusually good crop in the greater part of Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Idaho. The wheat crop of the three states will probably aggregate close to 40,000,000 bushels.

C. H. Markham, of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, is keeping right on with his campaign in behalf of right development. Hardly a week passes without a large train of cars, with Willycombe, of the Oregon Experiment station, is ably assisting Mr. Markham in carrying on this campaign.

It is expensive to mail low-priced farm products. The farmer who sometimes has to deal with a sometimes overworked market, and the best farmers have about ceased to do so. It is a difficult matter to grind prosperity out of that sort of mail business.

The apples exhibited at the Paris exposition by all other nations are vastly inferior to the apples raised in Oregon in size and color. In fact, the red apple is entirely unknown as a local product, and its growing popularity as a foreign luxury gives promise of a great future export trade at handsome profits for the central Mississippi region—Farmer's Voice.

The Live Stock Report quoted good to choice dressed beef and shipping steers in Chicago, July 25, at $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt. One year ago on the same date the quotation was $3.25 to $3.50. Good to choice short mutton sheep were $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt. and $4.50 to $5.25 one year ago. Good hogs were $3.25 to $4.40 this year, and $3.85 to $4.00 one year ago.

George H. Honek, who bought a large flock of Angoras in California a few months ago and sold them in Oregon, is about to bring another lot of 800 from California to Oregon. Chapman, Aiken & Thornton, who bought a big flock in Northern California last year and disposed of them in Douglas county, Oregon, are now driving another flock of 2000 from California to Douglas county.

The Orange Judd Farmer for June 30, says: "At a recent sale of the wheat crop of the three Northwestern states will not this year exceed 100,000,000 bushels, against a crop last year of at least 220,000,000 bushels, as shown by the records of crop movements."

Dull Headaches, Pains in various parts of the body, Sickness at the top of the stomach, Loss of appetite, Feverishness, Pimples or Sores are all positive evidences of impure blood. No matter how it became so it must be purified in order to obtain real good health. Acker's Blood Purifier has never failed to cure Scrofulous or Syphilitic poisons or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful and trustworthy remedy. Sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Peery & Peery, druggist.

The new century must dawn brightly indeed, if it drive the memory of the horrors amid which the old is ending.

P. H. McDonald, Frank Morris and Wm. Hrook were up at Lebanon last Saturday evening installing the officers of the local Odd Fellows' lodge, at that place, "Pete" being the installing officer for this district.

Miss Anna Morris returned the latter part of last week from eastern Oregon, where she had been for several weeks at work in a print shop. She said that the weather was a little too tropical up in that section.

This office has turned out a good deal of job printing during the past couple of weeks, and we have just received a large invoice of new stock and are prepared to take orders for all kinds of work in the printing line.

A gang of horse traders are conning the hill north of town in the Scio valley, and we have just one or more good race horses among the gang and have their eyes on the $10 purse which will go to some good horse Saturday.

Much interest is being taken in the races which are to take place at this city Saturday, and several good horses will be here. The bicycle races are attracting the attention of riders from all parts of the valley, and some good contests are looked for.

A. M. Young is in Southern Oregon, working in the interest of the M. W. A. He reports everything pretty lively in that section, and prospects for better times as new mines are being developed, which show up equal to those of the famous Klondike.

Some time ago W. C. Klotz, who is living on W. A. Ewing's farm near Larwood, decided to return to Scio, and he has just returned. He is pleased to state that he has changed his mind, and leased the farm for another year, and will remain with us.

There were services at the Providence church on Sunday, August 1st last, and the attendance was quite large. Several from this city were out there, and as it is one of the most picturesque places in this section many of our people enjoy spending the day out there.

Rev. Jarosgan went to Seaside the first of the week, taking Mrs. King up there for the benefit of her health. The old lady is quite feeble and it is thought that a few weeks spent at the springs will be beneficial to her, and her many friends trust that this may prove true.

J. A. Bilyeu was up on top of Mt. Jefferson last week while out in the Cascades, and says the grandness in the view from the summit of this famous old mountain supply replenish for the hardships required in making the ascent. None of the other members of the party went to the top.

Miss Lila Morrow was quite sick Wednesday of this week, but is now much improved.

The C. & E. railroad has placed on sale at Mankers and Shelburn excursion tickets to Detroit and return, good until October 10th, for $3 for the round trip. This gives our people a good opportunity to spend a week or so in the woods on the Santiam at a very small cost for traveling.

Robert L. Cary, of Woodburn, and Miss Edna Gilmore, of Independence, were married at Portland Monday, July 15th, the service being pronounced by Chaplain Gilbert. Mr. Cary is a son of Robert Cary, of this city, and his many friends here are extending congratulations by the score.

J. S. Morris has embarked in the produce business in this city, and is now prepared to pay the highest cash price for all kinds of farm products. He will make a specialty of poultry, eggs and butter. If you have any of this sort of merchandise to dispose of you can get the cash for it by calling on Mr. Morris.

J. W. Garland and Miss Matilda Grume were married at Albany Wednesday, July 18, 1900. Justice Palmer officiating. They are both residents of this section, Mr. Garland owning a fine farm about six miles south of this city, and they have a host of friends who give them all kinds of happiness and prosperity.

A trotting race was made the first of the week to take place just after the bicycle races Saturday, between J. N. Morris' buggy horse and a litte bay horse belonging to M. W. Phillips. A small sized colt has been deposited, and a good race is looked for. No one seems to know just what either of the horses is capable of doing.

William J. Stewart, an old resident of Linn county, died at his home in Hayes on July 13, at the age of 87 years. He was born in Pennsylvania, moving from there to Illinois, and thence to Oregon in 1872. He leaves a wife and four children and many friends to mourn his death. Mr. Stewart was justice of the peace at Hayes for a good many years, filling the office well.

Some of our local bicyclists are doing a good deal of hard riding these days in anticipation of carrying off some of the money at tomorrow's races. There will be some hard riders here, but the race for the Linn county championship will be out of the question, as the riders residing within the county, and some of our riders are just as apt to get there as any other.

Lacomb is soon to be connected with the outside world by telephone and there is possibility of carrying the line from this city instead of Lebanon. The distance from this city is less than from Lebanon, and the company have not yet decided whether to carry the line to Scio or to Lebanon. The expense of construction, and should they do the line will probably go from that city.

Within a week or so we are going to send out statements to all those who are behind on subscription to this paper one year or more, and anyone receiving same will know just how they stand on our books. These statements are not meant as a card that we are afraid to ask, but we must collect what is due in order to continue in business. Some of the accounts have been running from the very birth of our paper, and should be settled at once.

The writer and his family spent Sunday at the beautiful farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Craft, a few miles south of this city, and to say that we spent a pleasant day is only putting it in a mild form. Mr. Craft is just completing a fine two-story dwelling, and it is located on a hill sufficiently high to afford a fine view of the surrounding country.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Galt, of Astoria, and he who could visit the day and say that the day was not an enjoyable one knows not the true value of genuine hospitality.

The Scio Creamery Co. have decided to make butter for a while, and when the price suits they will make cheese again. They have on hand about ten tons of fine cheese, and are selling considerable of it in the Portland markets, where it is getting the very best of satisfaction. Butter has advanced in price and Manager Morris has decided to make butter as long as the price will justify, and perhaps will make both butter and cheese, if the supply of milk will enable him to do so.

The Albany papers the first of the week gave an account of a young lady by the name of Hall, who lives near Crabtree station, losing her horse and buggy in Albany Saturday evening. It seems, though, that the young woman drove to town Saturday and tied her horse in front of a residence and left it there all night, and some time Sunday forenoon the policeman took the animal to the stable. The young woman came after it later in the day, and when she found it had been moved went home and left the horse in town.

Grain cutting will soon begin in earnest in this section, and from present indications the yield will be high in most sections of the valley. In this immediate neighborhood the field-corn well, but the grain will be light. The flax is in bloom, and generally looks well, and will make a good crop of both seed and straw. This is one of the crops which there is very little loss in to the farmer. The oil mills buy the seed and the fiber mill at this city will use all the straw that will be produced in this section this year.

Mrs. Henry Ramsey, of Arlington, Oregon, who with her husband was badly injured by jumping from a buggy in Albany last week, and later died from her injuries, was buried in that city Monday. Mr. Ramsey is improving and will soon be fully recovered. They had entered a carriage and were being driven to the country to visit relatives when the horses began running, and both jumped out, and were badly injured. Some after they jumped from the carriage the driver got the team under control, and had they remained in the rig they would not have met with any accident.

There came near being a disastrous fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson Monday evening. Little Darrel happened to find a few matches in one of the upper rooms, and struck a few of them and threw them out at the window, and as he was thus amusing himself one of the lighted matches blew back into the room and set the lace curtain on fire. His screams attracted attention, and Mr. Johnson and several others were near the fire was soon extinguished, although it was indeed a lucky escape. The paper was burned off a large section of the ceiling, and the curtains entirely consumed, but aside from this the loss is small.

A tour of the creameries of Oregon is to be begun this week by Prof. Kent, of the agricultural department of the O. A. C. All of the creamery establishments in the state will be visited, and notes will be taken of their methods, environments and work. The results of this investigation will be made the subject of a bulletin to be issued next winter by the experiment station.

The agricultural department of the college is firmly impressed with the importance of dairying as a future factor in the welfare and material progress of the Willamette valley and intends to push the industry with all its sources and influence—Corvallis Times.

V. B. Goin has received a letter from Dr. L. J. Todd, who is in Cuba, and gives him a glowing description of that country. The doctor is highly pleased with the country, and will doubtless make it his home in the future. He says that it is simply a paradise, and is well worth the expense of seeing even if one did not intend to make it their home. According to his idea it is just the spot for a poor man to acquire a start and perhaps a fortune, and is besides a delightful place to live. The country possesses for more advanced people of their methods, environments and work. The results of this investigation will be made the subject of a bulletin to be issued next winter by the experiment station.

Dr. A. G. Prill has just received a complete case of eyeglasses for use in testing eyes that require glasses. The case comprises a large variety of glasses—almost every kind known to science, and is accompanied by a full set of instruments for testing the eyes, and getting glasses to fit each eye. Heretofore our people have had to depend on sending away for glasses, or get them of traveling fakirs, and if they did not fit there was no show of ever getting the money out of them. Dr. Prill is now prepared to test the eyes and get glasses that will fit, and it is not satisfactory the first time they can be exchanged, and he guarantees satisfaction in all cases. Call and see him when you need anything in this line.
