

The Truth

about woman's ills can be frankly told by one woman to another.

Remember that Mrs. Pinkham is a woman. Remember that her advice and medicine have cured a million women of weaknesses peculiar to their sex.

Remember that no man ever sees a letter written to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, that the letter is opened, read and answered by women, and no testimonial ever published without special permission.

Remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the recognized safeguard of woman's health.

Remember these things when some other remedy is suggested, and remember them when you want advice. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

"If Any Man Will Do Me Wrong"

These are days of intense intellectual activity. To be accepted a proposition must be backed by incontrovertible scientific proof. Because of this many earnest souls seem to find themselves hindered in their spiritual growth and their fellowship for which they long and strive. It is well to remember that logic cannot decide everything; that the truths to be gained by faith are still the transforming truths; and that only those who live in the spirit can talk of proving or disproving the things of the spirit. We must seek to find. We must seek to know.

HEALTHY WOMEN.

Mary J. Kennedy, manager of Armour & Co.'s exhibit at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition, at Omaha, Neb., writes the following of Peruna, as a cure for that common phase of summer catarrh, known as indigestion. Miss Kennedy says:

"I found the continual change of diet incidental to a 12 1/2 years' traveling completely upset my digestive system. In consulting several physicians they decided I suffered with catarrh of the stomach. Their prescriptions did not seem to help me any, so, reading of the remarkable cures effected by the use of Peruna I decided to try it and soon found myself well repaid. I have now used Peruna for about three months and feel completely rejuvenated. I believe I am permanently cured, and do not hesitate to give unstinted praise to your great remedy, Peruna."

The causes of summer catarrh are first, chronic catarrh; second, derangements of the stomach and liver; third, impure blood.

Such being the case anyone who knows anything whatever about the operations of Peruna can understand why this remedy is a permanent cure for summer catarrh. It eradicates chronic catarrh from the system, invigorates the stomach and liver, cleanses the blood of all impurities, and therefore permanently cures by removing the causing host of malarial poisons to hot weather. The cause being removed the symptoms disappear of themselves. "Summer Catarrh" sent free to any address by the Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

MINES AND MINING.

Men With New Ideas Needed to Prospect Eastern Oregon Mineral Fields.

James Duckworth, one of the original locators of the E. and E. mine, in Cracker creek district, near Sumpter, Oregon, and one of the best informed men in the camp, says that what this country needs is a thorough prospecting by men with new ideas. The old timers always look for a certain kind of coal, and are particular about the formation. Now hardly a week passes without some find being made on hillsides that has been run over for years by the old timers and pronounced worthless.

Mr. Duckworth visited a property at the foot of the mountain on the Sumpter-Cracker creek road, and found Ben Yeager and his partner, Montana mining men, working on a 200-foot ledge that has been over many times and considered worthless. Development shows that the ledge is filled with strata of quartz of a bluish appearance, and all of it pans gold. A number of assays have been made, giving $3 to $12. The ledge can be traced for over two miles, from one side of the mountain to the other, and it prospects throughout. At present a 25-foot shaft is being sunk, from which a cross cut will be run to determine if the values run down. If favorable results shall be obtained, machinery will be secured and a shaft sunk 300 to 400 feet. There is such a large body of ore that, with present values, $3 to $4 per ton, the property is another Treadwell. Facilities for mining and milling are excellent. At the head of Bull Run creek, running alongside of this ledge, in early days there was placer mining. There was little wash gravel in the creek bed, and the diggings frequently dipped to the hillsides, where no gravel was found, but rich dirt. At that time it was wondered where the gold came from, and no one ever thought the big dike was guilty, but this recent discovery is almost proof positive that the placer gold came from the dike.

A MOUNTAIN OF QUARTZ.

Remarkable Formation in the Blue River District.

The Blue river, Oregon, district is rapidly forging to the front, and is now enjoying an era of activity but little dreamed of a year or two ago. Extensive development work is being done, and most without exception claims are proving valuable. The stability of the district has been conclusively proved, and as a result prospectors have flocked in here this spring by the hundreds. Mining capital has been attracted, and one mill is in successful operation and several more are in course of construction. New theories are being made in almost every direction; most notable among which are the discoveries on the Calapooia and McKenzie rivers, which show extremely rich ore, and the immense mountain of quartz four miles up Blue river. This mountain of quartz is a remarkable formation, and is probably unparalleled in mining discoveries. The mountain is 1,270 feet high, and appears to be nearly all quartz. At the top several cliffs of solid quartz project for a hundred feet or more above the surface, while veins of ore crop out in all directions. The ore assays from $1.50 to $12 per ton.

The Lucky No. 9 Mine Has Been Compelled to Shut Down Five Stamps, Owing to Shortage of Water, Since the Dry Season Set In. The Remaining Five Stamps are Kept Going Day and Night.

The company has the machinery for a sawmill on the ground, and as soon as it can be set up, lumber will be saved and a flume constructed which will furnish plenty of water for operating all of the stamps.

Jones & Co. have the foundation laid for a sawmill at the Blue river bridge, and already have a number of logs ready to saw. The machinery for the mill is expected to arrive in a short time. The mill will be situated at the new Blue river city townsite, and is intended to supply the local market. It will be operated by steam power, and will have a capacity of 10,000 feet per day.

Stampede to Stewart River.

The steamer Danube, which recently arrived at Victoria, B. C., brings news of a rich strike on the headwaters of Stewart river, 400 miles from Dawson. A stampede is on, boats going up in a continuous string. At White Horse a whisky famine prevails. Saloons are licensed, but cannot get permits to bring in liquor. The police are watching the boundary for smugglers, and have made many seizures.

THE MIDSUMMER TRADE.

Improvement of Tone, Rather Than of Demand.

Bradstreet's says: While trade is still only of mid-summer volume, the beginnings of improvement in demands are apparently becoming visible. The improvement is still one of tone, rather than of demand, but with a yield of 540,000,000 bushels of wheat, a neat to record breaking yield of corn, and a very large proportion of oats, the Western crop situation contains many encouraging features. The Southern cotton crop has undoubtedly suffered, and conditions are unprecedentedly low for this season of the year, but the acreage planted was a large one, and prices are so much higher that a satisfactory financial return is confidently looked for.

The effort of the big iron and steel concerns to control prices, if really made, has proven abortive, and another wholesale slashing of quotations is to be reported this week.

The industrial situation is rather better as a result of agreements upon wages by a number of iron and steel manufacturing concerns and their employees.

Lower prices for lumber are apparent, indicating more activity in building, though how much is due to this or how much to the settlement of labor disturbances is hard to measure.

Wheat, including floor, shipments for the week aggregating 2,829,910 bushels, against 3,018,823 bushels last week.

BIBLICAL BOOKWORKS

"A Manifest Destiny," by Julia Ma-gruder, will appeal especially to girls of about 16, as the heroine, Bettina Mowbray, is of the old-fashioned type.

"The Seekers," by Stanley Waterloo, points out the "recrudescence of superstition in the United States," as exemplified in faith cures and similar fads.

"Old Madame, and Other Tragedies," by Harriet Prescott Spofford, is a collection of five stories, all intensifying human agony and replete with dramatic effects.

Within the last year, three of J. M. Barrie's books, "The Little Minister," "A Window in Thrums," and "Margaret Ogilvy" have been translated and published in Germany.

Alan McAnlay, a Scottish writer comparatively unknown in this country, has written a romance of Edinburgh and Scotch rural life, called "The Rhymer," having Robert Burns for the central figure.

James A. Wickersham, a professor of modern languages, who lives in Terre Haute, Ind., has published "Enoch Willoughby: A Novel of the Middle West," dealing with characters of a generation ago.

One million, six hundred and ten thousand copies of the novels of Linn Boyd Porter—"Albert Ross"—have already been sold. He is at work on his twenty-third, the title of which will be "A Sugar Princess."

"Geber: A Tale of the Reign of Harun al Raschid," by Mrs. Kate A. Benton, is said to be a remarkable book—the author's first prison work. It is pronounced worthy to be a companion volume to "The Arabian Nights."

A historical romance, by Mary E. Wilkins, called "The Heart's Highway," has its scene laid in Virginia, in the seventeenth century, though the writer keeps to the realistic style so well known in her New England stories.

A favorite subject of Kipling's was the possibilities of what might happen to a man in a London fog. The idea also struck Robert Barr forcibly, and when I was lunching with him one day he got so carried away by it as to plan a story in which a highly respectable man who hated another highly respectable man was to walk up behind No. 1 in the fog and percolate him with a bowie knife. Then the ghost of the murdered man was to dog the other in the fog and make him sinking to his knees. I don't know whether the story was ever written. Barr probably forgot all about it.

Law as Interpreted.

Publication of charges against a candidate for judge is held, in Stacy vs. Hoskins (Iowa), 47 L. R. A. 223, not to be privileged when they are published outside of the judicial district for which the judge is to be elected.

Right to a mechanic's lien for the improvement of grounds by enrichment of the soil, planting flowers, shrubs, trees, etc., without making any structure thereon, except a rustic bridge of light importance, is denied in Nancy vs. Cumberland Gap Park Company (Tenn.), 47 L. R. A. 273, where the statutes clearly contemplate such liens shall be created only by the erection of some building.

Authority to set apart a portion of a public highway for a bicycle path is held, in State vs. Bradford (Minnesota), 47 L. R. A. 144, to be granted by implication when a statute makes it unlawful to drive animals on such bicycle path, but it is held that this act must be restricted to bicycle paths which are public, and that it would be invalid as to those constructed on private grounds for private use.

Judgment against a solvent garnishee which the plaintiff fails to collect, with an excuse, is held, in Bowen vs. Port Huron E. and T. Co. (Iowa), 47 L. R. A. 131, to constitute a satisfaction of the claim against the original debtor for the amount of such judgment. With this case there is a note collecting the other authorities on the effect of a judgment against a garnishee to merge or satisfy the liability of the principal debtor.

Ejection of a trespasser from the footboard of a locomotive, though his presence there does not interfere with the manipulation of the machinery by the engineer, whose position is inside the cab, is held, in Galveston H. & S. A. R. Co. vs. Zantlinger (Texas), 47 L. R. A. 282, to be within the authority of the engineer, when he has possession and control of the engine, so that the railroad company is liable for the wrongful exercise of his authority.

A provision of an insurance policy to the effect that none of its terms can be modified, nor any forfeiture under it waived, save by agreement in writing signed by the president or secretary, is held, in Cole vs. Union Central Life Insurance Company (Wash.), 47 L. R. A. 201, to be inoperative on a person who made a contract for insurance with the general agent and manager of a foreign company and did not assent or have any knowledge of such a provision or any information that it would be contained in the policy to be issued.

Full and Explicit Directions.

Two bicyclists passing through a small town on the Long Island shore decided to take the train from there home. Being unfamiliar with the place they stopped to inquire of a colored woman the way to the railway station. "We are strangers," they said; "would you kindly direct us to the station?" "Certainly, sah," she replied; "Keep a gain' right on till yo' come to de corner wha de ole postoffice used ter be, den yo' go 'fo' left an' yo'll go right to de station."

As they rode off she beamed with pride, but with amusement; and although they found the station they have yet to discover the "corner wha de ole postoffice used ter be."—New York Sun.

Phases of Hunger.

The kinds of hunger are described, and are told, by Drs. Mathien and Beachcroft, and have been named "painful hunger" and "agonizing hunger." The need of taking food generally produces secretion of the gastric juice, and with some persons the excess of acid in this fluid causes pain, which may be allayed by taking an alkali to neutralize it. The variety of hunger referred to above as "agonizing hunger" is characterized by painful anxiety of mind. Those who suffer from it fear that some terrible accident is about to happen to them; they break out into perspiration, tremble, and sometimes lose their reason. If food is taken, all these symptoms disappear.

The ordinary string bean, the pods of which are eaten, is a good crop to grow for seed, provided the seed is ground and used for stock. It produces but little vine, but the seed can be broadcasted and when the beans are dry the vines should be pulled up and thrown in the barn floor to be eaten out, which work may be postponed until winter if preferred.

Weariness of Sin and Suffering.

If there is an sin, sorrow and pain in the world—if it is all an illusion—why did Jesus weep? If there were no pain in His death on the cross, why did He die? "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me." If there was no torment needed, why did He die? He was a man of sorrow and acquainted with grief—how could He sorrow over imaginary afflictions and be acquainted with griefs which had no reality?

Mr. Soundrop sniffed and observed: "If Time doesn't, some woman will."

It is hardly consistent to say that interest in the Bible is declining while 2,500,000 copies of it are being printed every year.

Horace Greeley once said: "Show me a drunkard who does not use tobacco, and I will show you a white blackbird."

MITCHELL WAGONS

Are the best that can be made. Nothing is or can be superior to a Mitchell Wagon, because it is made of the best material—by experienced workmen—which, coupled with 65 years' experience in building wagons, during which time the manufacturers have had but one aim, and to produce the best possible to build, is a guarantee of quality. If you buy a Mitchell Wagon, you get the best that can be made. AGENTS EVERYWHERE—If none in your vicinity, we will sell to you direct. Send for circular.
