BY THE EDITOR

They photographed a lightning flash at the Hamburg Observatory lately. There are no slow scientists around that ranch.

An Oregon woman fell a thousand feet down a precipitous mountain cliff—and is expected to recover. No wonder the Filipino insurgents found those Web-Foot volunteers a hard proposition.

A woman convicted of killing a small boy has been made matron of the Ensenada prison in Lower California. The ideas as to the eternal fitness of things which seem to prevail south of the line are something fearful and wonderful.

The Shah of Persia is said to have spent $1,600,000 during his stay in Paris, every day there meaning the distribution of tens of thousands of dollars among local shopkeepers. No wonder the latter were indignant at the attempt to kill him off.

A German who has seen much of the Chinese as fighters says they shoot well up to 700 yards, but that beyond that their aim is poor. The next man who becomes involved in a row with a Chinaman should remember, therefore, to keep away and slog him from about 701 yards or so.

Members of the Indiana W. C. T. U. are pledging themselves to pray that McKinley may be forced to give up the Presidency in favor of someone who will be a total abstainer. Which places Bryan in the embarrassing position of having to choose between trying for those prayers or for the electoral vote of Kentucky.

One man is saving money to build a house and another is trying to sell his for less than it cost to build. One man is spending all he can make taking his girl to theatres and sending her flowers, with the hopes of making her his wife, while his neighbor is using what money he has in trying to get a divorce. One man escapes the diseases flesh is heir to and gets killed on the railroad. Another escapes with only a scratch and dies with the whooping cough.

Ambition controlled by conscience is good and wholesome, and contributory to the welfare of the world. It is stimulative of action, attainment and advancement. Self-sacrifice is cheerfully endured to the end that achievements may be accomplished and the lustre thereof worn as a laurel wreath of glory. It is the ambition that "o'erleaps itself," crushing conscience and committing cruelty in its mad haste, that is to be condemned and will soon or late poison its possessor. In the highest exemplification of manhood, conscience ever sits in the saddle, directing the energies of its noble steed. Rather than to disregard its mandates, the fondest purpose will be immolated. And in the very immolation, man acquires a grandeur of spirit more truly to be coveted than the consummation of any selfish aim. Great and noble is he, whether prince or peasant, who enthrones Conscience and suffers any penalty rather than to resist its leadings.

He Owes His Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. L. Stump, of Normantown, W. Va., had a severe attack of Bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral.—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

English Partridges for Oregon.

The fund for the purpose of importing English partridges into Oregon and introducing them into our fields and forests, has at last been raised. It is now intended to have the birds here by November. They will be distributed in good-sized groups in the Willamette valley, and as they propogate very fast, they may afford excellent sport in the not far distant future. In the past several days, the fund has been considerably swelled by the contribution of $50 from the sportsmen of Albany and $50 from Astoria, $25 of this amount being from the Astoria Gun club. The Marion County Rod and Gun club, of Salem, subscribed $100. It is expected that the funds will be sufficient to obtain 100 pairs at least.—Telegram.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea after 30 Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for 30 years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

As Seen by a Visitor.

The following is from the pen of H G. Shedd, a young man who resides in Nebraska, and who visited this state a short time ago with a party of excursionists. He evidently had his eyes open, and saw many things which we cannot see and appreciate. Following is a part of his letter as it appeared in the Ashland (Eeb.) Gazette:

"In my eyes, Portland, Ore., is the most beautiful city on all the Pacific coast. San Francisco is the busiest city, as well as the largest, and will always be the metropolis of the western slope. Just now Seattle is enjoying a rapid and healthy growth—almost a boom—but Portland is undoubtedly, for all round advantages, the best city on the coast. Its business blocks are large and substantial, and its homes well built and attractive. Everywhere the beautiful predominates. There are flowers in abundance, and the lawns are of the greenest. From the heights above the city the view is magnificient, looking over miles of gleaming river and wooden mountain, with five distinct snow-capped peaks rising above it all. Unlike the other cities in the west, it has enough attractions in the immediate vicinity to charm a visitor for many days. The steamer trip down the Columbia carries one through varied panorama of verdant forests and beautiful hills, mingled with the changing life of the logging camp, the salmon fisheries and the farming industries of the little valley, while the ride up the Columbia, past the giant rocks, gigantic gorges and roaring waterfalls is unsurpassed in the world. A trip to the seashore at the mouth of the Columbia brings one to the longest beach on the Pacific, the surf bathing of which is renowned throughout all the west, while a two hours' ride takes the tourist up above the clouds on the snow-covered Mount Hood. In fact, the resources of Portland as a resort and point of interest for the tourist are so many and so varied that the people of the city do not appreciate them. It is certainly delightful to happen upon so many pleasant places unexpectedly and, by a sort of right of discovery, appropriate their beauties to yourself, but, nevertheless, one cannot help feeling how much it would mean to Portland and the state of Oregon if they were thoroughly advertised throughout the east, as the natural attractions of Colorado and California have been published broadcast.

An Arizona editor has a neat way of expressing himself. Referring to a recent lynching in Skull Valley, a local paper thus quietly chronicles the exciting event: "There was no regular trial in the case of Denver Jones. He had a brief interview with a few friends in the woods, and it is certain that hereafter he will not interfere with his neighbor's horses."

WANTED—Active man of good character to deliver and collect in Oregon for an old established manufacturing wholesale house, $900 a year, sure pay. Honesty more than experience required. Our reference, any bank in any city. Enclose self addressed stamped envelope. Manufacturers, Third Floor, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

DO YOU KNOW?

That W. A. Ewing is thinking of trying his hand at farming.

That the Battleship Wyoming will be launched September 8, at San Francisco.

That wisdom is better than riches—that is if it is our own wisdom and other people's riches.

That the distance from the farthest point of polar discovery to the pole itself is 400 miles.

That if the Lord loves only the cheerful giver there will be lots of vacant mansions in the sky.

That one reason that women are successful in the legal profession is that their word is law.

That after this campaign is over it will be noticed that some of our politicel guns are only air guns.

That as an act of sisterly regard, it might be well for Ladysmith to tell Pekin how she was relieved.

That Spain is not very well represented on the seas, but she makes a very good showing on the bottom.

That when the guest refuses dessert, the applause of the children at the table is sincere, though it may be silent.

That the stamp photo man did quite a business in this city last week, judging from the display of samples.

That Dr. A. G. Prill has about the finest collection of mounted birds and animals to be found in the country.

That Ross Hibler and Ralph Gill are pretty good sheep herders. They bought a band one week and sold them the next—and are still in the business.

That there is only one excuse for buying on credit; the hope that the merchant will forget to charge your purchase.

That the flax industry is the means of putting a whole lot of money in circulation in this neck o' the woods.

That no doubt David said in haste, "all men are liars," but he might have made the same remark after due deliberation.

That there are always lots of political pessimists who persist is having the country going to the devil and never getting there.

That there are a large number of people in this city who do not take THE NEWS; likewise a number who do take it whose subscription is unpaid.

That the Jap army is giving a good account of itself in the Chinese war, as well as testifying to the value of the American school of training.

That whatever difference of opinion may exist as to the paramount issue, it will have to be admitted that America is the paramount power of the world.

That at every man's door, and almost beneath his feet, lie a wealth of opportunities which, if properly utilized, might prove the long-sought key to the portals of success.

That it is now being discovered that the Russian Thistle pest may be made something of by actual use as fodder, if the thistles be cut when young, either fed green or as hay.

That the truly honest man is guided so by his conscience. The man who is honest only because he believes "honesty is the best policy" is not honest at all. He is afraid to be dishonest.

That there are a number of things that Scio could get along without, and chief among them is poor sidewalks, filthy alleys and streets and a less number of hogpens in the same condition.

That the Adjutant General of the United States Army reports that the total organized militiamen is 106,339 while the number of men available for military service, but unorganized, is 10,343,252.

YOUR FACE

Shows the state of your feelings and the state of your health as well. Impure blood makes itself apparent in a pale and sallow complexion, Pimples and Skin Eruptions. If you are feeling weak and worn out and do not have a healthy appearance, you should try Acker's Blood Elixir. It cures all blood diseases where cheap Sarsaparillas and so called purifies fail; knowing this, we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Peery & Peery, druggist.

A Weston paper figures that a carpenter of its town has walked 182 miles in five years, carrying more than 30,000 gallons of water to milch cows, rather than build a water trough and attach a piece of pipe.

From a G. A. R. Man

"My attack of miller's Asthma was very bad. I was afraid to lie down at night for fear of smothering. I couldn't get my breath. No matter if all the doors and windows in the house were open, it seemed as if there was no air and that I must surely smother to death. Mr. W. B. Long, of this city, called my attention to Acker's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles. I thought little of it but bought a bottle in the hopes that it might help me a little. It gave me wonderful relief, and the second bottle cured me completely. My recovery is permanent, too, for ever since I have not had the slightest return of my old enemy. I consider Acker's English Remedy by long odds the best medicine in the world for hacking coughs, asthma and bronchitis. It completely masters those stubborn diseases that many people wrongly suppose to be incurable. If sufferers will just try a single bottle, it will prove every word I have said, and more too." (Signed.) JOHN D. ELLIOTT.

Commander John Megarah Post, No. 132, Portland, Mich.

Summer Resorts.

"To the mountains of our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have decided that the annual outing should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brawn and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, unadulterated mountain air."

"In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf, or play with equal facility."

"Or if you look for healing waters none better can be found, hot or cold than the springs of Ashland, Colestin, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles."

"Before visiting Europe, the people of the Northwest should see the glories of Yosemite Valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts."

Send to Mr. C. H. Markham, General Passenger Agent, Portland, for new booklets on Castle Crag, Shasta Springs, McCloud River, Yosemite, and excursion rates thereto."
