Editor's Awful Flight

F. M. Higgins, editor Seneca (Ill.) News, was afflicted for years with Piles that no doctor or remedy helped until he tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world. He writes, two boxes wholly cured him. Infallible for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by Peery & Peery, druggists.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After 30 Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for 30 years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

Costly Game Birds.

Sunday morning three young men, and who are not so very young either, who live near Tangent, concluded they would have a few Chinese pheasants for a Sunday dinner, so they went into the vicinity of the home of Deputy Sheriff Munkers and began killing the festive game, when that alert official proceeded to arrest them without warrant, having caught them in the act. He took into custody Herman Shoel, Henry Shoel and Julius Voss. Not desiring to bring them to town Sunday, on their promise to come in Monday they were allowed to go home. Mr. Herman Shoel came in Monday morning and replenished the coffers of Linn county about $25, and the pocket of the justice of the peace his costs for the two birds he killed. He says Chinese pheasants come too high for him to hunt out of season. The other two men did not report and may find themselves in a worst fix than their partner.

The Bravery of Woman

Was grandly shown by Mrs. John Dowling of Butler, Pa., in a three years' struggle with a maligant stomach trouble that caused distressing attacks of nausea and indigestion. All remedies failed to relieve her until she tried Electric Bitters. After taking it two months, she wrote: "I am now wholly cured and can eat anything. It is truly a grand tonic for the whole system as I gained in weight and feel much stronger since using it." It aids digestion, cures dyspepsia, improves appetite, gives new life. Only 50c. Guaranteed, at Peery & Peery's drug store.

Astonishing

A man traveling through the country between Albany and Harrisburg counted 13 new barns, six new houses and 10 new windmills all put up this year. This is a pretty good sign of prosperity regardless of a poor wheat crop and low wheat prices. Farmers have turned their attention to other things sufficiently so that they are not completely dependent upon their wheat crop.—Democrat.

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHING

Use Acker's English Remedy in any case of coughs, cold or croup. Should it fail to give immediate relief money refunded. 25cts. and 50 cts. Peery & Peery, druggist.

A FEW FARM NOTES

The Russian government has ordered 6,000,000 pounds of American beef.

Michigan has a law making it a felony to falsify the pedigree of an animal.

Contracts for 226,000 pounds of hops have been filed at Albany by Faber & Neiss. The prices range from 9 to 12 cents.

Portland shipped nearly 1,000,000 bushels of wheat during the month of August. This is not a bad showing for such a poor season.

Wallace's Farmer states that this year the calf crop on the praires is 20 per cent less than usual. This is due mainly to a mysterious disease known as calf cholera.

The firm of Lux & Miller, of San Francisco, recently sold 500 head of horses for cavalry purposes in China for $50 a head. They paid $2.50 a head for them in Nevada in 1898.

Weeding the garden, the truck patch and other fields is one thing necessary on the farm, and "weeding out" the cows that are eating their heads off is another. Trim up the herd ever year.

Eastern people have of late been looking over the logging camps of the Northwest with a view to purchasing the stumps of trees cut for logs, thinking to utilize them for the manufacture of pitch tar, pyroligneous acid and charcoal.

C. W. Vail is the turkey king of Douglas county. He has some 700 fowls now, and many more contracted for. Recently he leased the 450-acre ranch of Fendal Southerlin, near Oakland, and will graze turkeys upon it, probably to the number of 2,000. Most of these will be put in condition for the holiday markets, only the old ones being placed on the market at present.

That alfafa will grow and thrive on the "desert" land is conclusively proven by the experience of William Staats at the Bend. Last year he sowed an acre where it could be irrigated, and he now states that it furnished this year more pasturage than all the rest of his 160 acres, and would have made, if not pastured, two good crops of hay.—Prineville paper.

The Willamette Valley Fruitgrowers' association last Saturday made a sale of six carloads of prunes—82 tons—which go to parties in New York, Pittsburg and Johnstown, Pa. This is the first large sale this season. The fruit will average the grower at least 4½ cents a pound. There is an immense crop of fruit in Marion county this year. Estimates from very reliable sources place the yield in the Liberty and Rosedale district, a few miles south of Salem, at 75 carloads or 900 tons.

Col. H. E. Dosch, secretary of the state board of agriculture, and who has paid great attention to all foreign fruit markets for years, advises fruit growers to look to the Orient in the future. He says "the Orient market is practically our own, and when we realize this and turn our attention to it, we will sever the Gordian knot of competition with one clean cut." There is no doubt but that the Orient offers the best market for the fruit of the Pacific coast.

The first of every month is pay day at Brownsville creamery, and you never see any disappointed patrons on that day. Last Saturday Mr. Bruckman paid out $977.40 for milk delivered during the month of July. Butter fat to the amount of 4,887 pounds was delivered and 20 cents per pound was paid. Butter has advanced about 20 per cent and the farmer who has a few good cows in this neighborhood need not worry about the failure of his wheat crop—his cows will bring him out all right.—Times.

Gathering the bark of the barberry tree, known to science as cascara segrada, and to local parties as chittim wood, has become quite an industry in the vicinity of Salem for the first time this fall, though for some years the industry has flourished in Lincoln, Benton and Linn counties. Four men have been engaged in the work the past two months along the Willamette river, near Lincoln, and have brought to Salem over 15 tons, for which they realize about an average of 3 cents per pound, or $60 per ton.

No agricultural country can long survive the drain of wheat and cereal crops without flocks and herds. The times are changing each year, showing an increasing number of men who are changing from grain farming to the higher and more intelligent branch of agriculture—the breeding of live stock and the making of high grade butter and cheese. There is no more promising field for intelligent industry among the productive callings of life, no surer guarantee of the future prosperity, progress and wealth of our state, that is found in the proper and systematic development of of the live stock industry of Oregon, and among its subdivisions or departments, dairying must be considered as deserving the pre-eminence when judged by any standard or from any point of view.

Yearlings should always be separated from older colts, while their food should be more nutritious, and their requirements will best be met by substituting clover hay for straw fodder, says a correspondent of the London Live Stock Journal. Not only is the straw deficient in nutritive substance for young delicate flesh and bone forming purposes, but the older and stronger colts will invariably drive the yearlings back. They will never get forward to eat until the former retire satisfied, and if there is a sweeter rip of straw than another it will be carefully selected and only the refuse left for the poor handicapped yearlings. Therefore if all farmers who go in for rearing colts will take the trouble to separate them—the weak from the strong—they will be amply compensated for their labor and humanity by the enhanced improvement of the yearlings.

Bridge Repairing.

The Santiam bridge at Stayton is being repaired on rush orders. It is to be finished, according to the terms of the contract, October 1, and from present activity, it will be accomplished. Contractor Tillotson, of Albany, has a force of skilled workmen engaged on the job. The false supports under the north spans has been completed and the clearing away of the upper deck is going on rapidly.—Mail.

Endured Death's Agonies.

Only a roaring fire enabled J. M. Garrettson, of San Antonio, Tex., to lie down when attacked by Asthma, from which he suffered for years. He writes, his misery was often so great that it seemed he endured the agonies of death; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption wholly cured him. The marvelous medicine is the only known cure for Asthma and Colds, and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Peery & Peery's drug store.

Arrangements were completed on Monday for a game of base ball between the Scio and Albany ball teams to play in Albany, Sunday, September 16, for a purse of $200. The game is made more interesting by the fact that both nines are to be composed of men from their respective towns, and any violation of this rule will forfeit the game. Both teams will practice hard, and as each is confident of winning, the game promises to be exciting. The game will be called promtly at 2:30 o'clock.

There was quite a number of Scio's citizens attending the big circus at Salem on Saturday, and all were unanimous in its praise, both for its bewildering magnitude and its honest dealings with its patrons. All claim that the procession itself was well worth anyone's while to see, as it consisted of about 100 beautiful dens and cages of wild animals, hundreds of horses, 25 elephants and nearly a thousand people, and the costumes throughout were excellent. The performance which followed was the best that as ever visited the state capital.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

Petitioning for Pardon.

The petition for the pardon of ex-County Treasurer P. G. Morris will be presented to the governor in a few days. It has the signature of 2000 citizens, including ten of the jurymen, before whom he was tried, who ask that he be pardoned. It is evident that a good many people are doubtful of his guilt or are influenced by sympathy for a man who has always been upright heretofore. At all events it is a strong petition that goes up asking for his pardon.—Herald.
