Miss Eva Myers has accepted a position in the general merchandise store of Ross & Hibler.

For Sale.—A limited number of pure bred brown leghorn roosters, inquire of M. M. Peery.

Lot 8, Harris was reported quite ill the first of the week, but is much improved at this writing.

Any child can take a picture with a Brownie camera. It only costs $1 at Dawson's pill shop, Albany.

All kinds of billings, artificial teeth and painless extraction are my specialties. Clyde L. Hill, at the Scio hotel.

The Harnish photo gallery has received a new coat of paint, which adds greatly to the appearance of the building.

The first time you come to Albany come and see the samples of photos our $1 Kodak takes. Yours for pills, Dawson.

FOR SALE.—A limited amount of good clean chest seed. For further particulars call on J. S. Morris, Scio, Oregon.

A force of linemen arrived in Lebanon Monday and have commenced putting up the telephone line to Lacombe.

What is the use of howling with the toothache when you can get instant relief by calling on Clyde L. Hill, at the Scio hotel.

Starling Bilyeu, of Jefferson, has moved his family to this city, and now occupies the residence lately vacated by Walter Bilyeu.

WANTED.—All kinds of dried fruit, pitless plums, 8 cents per lb. until further notice. Call and see me.

F. M. DANFIEL.

Put on a clean front!—by wearing white shirts done up by the Salem Steam Laundry. Laundry leaves for Scio every Monday and returns Friday.

Mehama, near Lyons, has been connected with the outside world by the Oregon Telephone company, and in a short time Lyons will also be on the line.

The many friends of J. L. Chapman, who lives near Crabtree, will regret to learn that he is quite ill, and has been confined to his room for the past week.

W. C. Klotz has intended to move back to Nebraska, and on Monday, September 24, will offer at public sale his household furniture and farm stock and machinery.

Dr. Prill's office now presents quite a wild appearance. He has a large number of birds, two mounted in a cougar, and a deer, all couched in line shape, making them look as natural as life.

Milton Morris, who has been visiting relatives here, is quite ill, and is circulating a petition for the pardon of his brother, ex-county treasurer, left Monday for his home in Eastern Oregon.

Frank Butcher was on the sick list last week, and for a time his life was thought to be in danger. The illness was something in the nature of appendicitis, and it took several days to get him in shape again.

Mrs. Ira Richardson, who lives with her husband near Jordan, and who has been quite ill for the past seven months, is now better, and her condition is now thought to be serious. She is under the care of Dr. Hawk, of Jefferson.

On account of the large number of persons returning from the hop yards it has been decided to hold the first fall meeting of the Franklin Butte Sunday school on Sunday, September 23, instead of the first Sunday in October. All are most cordially invited.

J. S. Morris is pretty busy these days. He has his fruit evaporator in full operation, and will have plenty of fruit to keep him going for some time yet. He has thoroughly overhauled the evaporator and it is doing more effective work than heretofore.

The state fair opened at Salem Monday, and from the extensive preparation made by the managers of the big fair, and the local co-operation of the local managers of the various counties of the state, it is safe to say it will undoubtedly be the finest fair ever held in Oregon.

A petition is being circulated asking the city council to release the bondsmen of City Treasurer Rice. The city treasurer had about $500 of city funds deposited with the Lebanon Banking company, which failed a few months ago. The bondsmen are J. G. Reed and J. Nichols.—Lebanon E-A.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

At the last meeting of the city council an order was made instructing the immediate repair of numerous sidewalks within the city limits, and some of the most needed of these repairs have not as yet been made. Let us all fix up the dilapidated walks and thus make traveling a more safe undertaking and improve the looks of our city as well.

Mr. Denny, who lives between Scio and Jefferson, has a large hop yard that is said to be almost destroyed with mold, and Mr. Denny is contemplating abandoning further picking.

The Portland Telegram sums up the hop situation in a convincing manner. In an exhaustive compilation of statistics, it demonstrates that the world's hop crop for the current year is $30,000 bales short.

A movement is on foot to have the Lacombe main leave Lacombe in the morning and arrive here at noon; going back to Lacombe in the afternoon. This change is said to be desired by the Lacombe people.—Lebanon Critic.

Last Monday as Joe Hackstep, a boy 16 years of age, was returning to Harrisburg from the hop yards, in a buggy with his parents, a shotgun which he was carrying was accidentally discharged, the charge went in the proper direction, causing his death the following day.

Most of the people who went from here to the numerous hop yards have returned. They had very poor weather for hop picking, and many were unable to pick on full time on account of the rain. As a general thing the hop crop is pretty good, and the prices range a little higher than last year.

B. N. Washburn has traded his store and town property in Shelburn to some Brownsville people, and as soon as the proper transfers can be made he will move to the latter place to reside. Mr. Washburn is the pioneer merchant of Shelburn, and has many friends in this section who wish him much success in his new home.

On account of the unsafe condition of the railroad track between this city and West Scio, the mill company have decided not to use the locomotive for hauling cars over the line, but are hauling flour to the station with teams. The track will be repaired—especially two bridges—and then they will again resume the use of the engine.

A large number of our people are attending the state fair this week; and the weather is particularly suited to the occasion. This state fair this year is a new affair as compared to former exhibits, and we are pleased to know that the people of this section are taking an active interest in the fair, to the extent of their patronage, at least.

One of the largest deals in farm property that ever took place in Gilliam county was consummated last week. W. W. Weatherford, of Arlington, sold his Shuller Farm of 22,999 acres to Edward Tolby for $25,000. Mr. Tolby now owns something like 6000 acres of brother land. W. W. Weatherford is a brother of J. K. Weatherford of Albany.

Harvesting of the hop crop in this section is over, and the crop is all dried. As a rule the hops in the yards in this locality are of a very high quality, and if the growers can only realize what they should for them they will undoubtedly make good money out of the crop. It is indeed gratifying to know that some of our people have an opportunity to make a little money out of their crops, as those who depended solely upon grain did not make anything, only those who had fields of fax were fortunate in making anything out of their year's labor.

The Scio public schools will open Monday, October 1st, and all should see to it that their children are ready for the opening day. Not only this but every child of school age should not be permitted to remain away from school a single day unless detained by sickness. A great portion of those who attend the public schools will not have an opportunity of gaining any further education, and they should exert every effort to get ready to go to school on the while they have a chance to do so. Scio will have a school the coming year excelled by none in the county, and many scholars outside the district have expressed a desire to attend our schools, and owing to this fact the school will have a much greater enrollment this year than in previous ones.

When a newspaper man meets a person and asks the question: "What do you know?" It is not a non-mechanical question, it is a question of what is going on in the world. However, nine times out of ten he will be answered "nothing." The condition should be reversed, for, if the person would stop and think for a moment he would no doubt scratch up an item that would be of interest to hundreds of readers, and the newspaper man would be glad to tell it.

It is often the case that a reader wonders why the paper didn't notice an incident of which he or she was cognizant yet it is probable that they had been approached during the week and asked "what do you know?" and a flippant reply had been given. A good local newspaper is a benefit to a community, and no citizen loses anything in giving the editor an item and thus assist in making the paper not only of interest at home, but brings the town into prominence all over the state. "What do you know?" Think it over, and let us publish every interesting bit of news there is.

A FEW FARM NOTES

Thousands of farmers' institutes are to be held in Kansas beginning August 16 and ending October 8.

Latest official figures place the exportable surplus of wheat in the Argentine country this season at 75,000,000 bushels.

An official estimate places the 1900 corn crop of South Dakota at 60,000,000 bushels. This is the largest corn crop on record for that state.

Fewer acres, more thorough tillage, more moisture and more care in selecting seed will so increase the wheat yield as to add to the profit on every bushel grown.

Tyrus Smith, of Benton county, has harvested 1130 acres. He secured last 7780 bushels of wheat and 4122 bushels of oats—an average of less than 11 bushels to the acre.

Prices to the amount of $1000 have been offered for the farmers' clubs or croagers sending the largest numbers of numbers as visitors to the coming Michigan state fair.

One of the best yields reported in Wasco county this season is from I. D. Driver's place, near Wainie. Off the 70 acres he harvested 70 tons of hay and threshed 2180 bushels of grain.

Sales of 125 head of horses and mules at Ashland and Medford were made last week to the government. Good prices were paid. A number of the horses $70 each, and some of the mules $100.

Do not try to yard and feed too many pigs together. Better have several small lots of two or three acres each, and keep but two or three sows and pigs in each. These must be nearly of a size and age to do well.

Preliminary estimates place the hay crop of the United States for 1900 at 50,000,000 tons against 60,000,000 and 60,000,000 tons in 1899 and 1900. The yield of tame hay, wild hay and alfalfa all fall short of those of the two previous years.

In a South Carolina wheat price contest recently decided, a youth barely years old won the first prize of $100 for growing 69 1/2 bushels on one acre. A widow won the second prize for 277 bushels on five acres and 885 bushels on ten acres.

Germany would be the first nation to feel the need of American canned meats should she engage in war with China. It has already begun to feel the effects of the bill keeping out American meats, and so far the result has been a very little attention will be paid to it.

Dairying is a business, and some farmers will succeed where others fail because they have more energy and intelligence, adhering strictly to business principles. The dairymen who give particular attention to the care of his stock will always be repaid with larger yields and greater profits.

This is one of the resolutions passed at the first Oregon state fair. Resolved, That we highly approve of the plan adopted by numerous farmers, of coming to the grounds with their families and camping out during the fair. This plan will greatly interest our farmers, and will enable them to attend the fairs with little cost, and will greatly benefit them and the society.

In setting fence posts the larger end of the post should be toward the tree and the smaller end toward the post. The fibers of the wood will then lead the water that gets into the heart of the post to the outside. Standing with the big end in the ground all water entering the pores and checks of the wood will be carried to the heart of the post, causing an early decay. A little observation will convince any one of the truth of this, if skeptical.

According to a report recently issued by the Rhode Island State Board of Agriculture, which is also a catalogue of the farms for sale in that state, there are 251 unimproved farms with buildings, and 98 without buildings, making a total of 349 farms in the little state which are without any sort of tillage. The total acreage of these unimproved farms is 30,313.14 acres, 12,044 of which are wooded, 10,751. The total price or valuation of these 30,313 acres is $131,900.
