A. T. Powell and G. L. Sutherland left Tuesday for Prineville, to be absent a few weeks, and perhaps Mr. Sutherland will remain permanently, if he should be successful in securing employment.

R. Shelton, T. J. Wilson, James Bilyeu and Ira A. Phelps were Station visitors. The two legal lights were attending justice court in that city, and Mr. Shelton and the writer went along to prevent trouble.

Thos. Claxton has accepted a position at Grass Valley, in Eastern Oregon, and left this week to begin work. We understand he has a position for three months at good wages and his many friends here wish him much success. He is a skilled workman in the carpenter line, and will doubtless fill the bill to a dot.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Simpson were called to Lebanon Saturday to attend the funeral of Mr. Simpson's mother, Mrs. W. L. Simpson, whose death occurred in that city Friday morning. She was quite an aged lady, and had been ill a some time past. She had a host of friends in Lebanon and surrounding country, who extended to the surviving relatives their heartfelt sympathy.

Coleman Gillespie, who murdered Mrs. Edson, an aged widow at Gold Beach, Curry county, a year ago for her indecent near pension check of $70, and then set fire to her house, was hanged at Gold Beach at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. He was 21 years of age.

The case of M. Alexander vs Levy, which was on trial at Salem this week, was dismissed by Judge Burnett, who would not admit evidence to prove a verbal contract, claiming that such contract was not binding, when made to guarantee the payment of the debts of others.

Rev. M. O. Brink and family left this week, for Coquille, where he has been transferred. Rev. Brink has served the Methodist church here the past five years and the many friends of the family here wish them success wherever they may go.—Cottage Grove Leader.

Saturday was a day which will linger in the memory of Everett Bilyeu, for on that day he killed his first deer. In company with Wm. Brenner he went deer hunting, and before the shades of night had fallen he was back to town with a fine three point buck, which he had laid low with a well directed shot. There is a degree of pleasure in bagging a good sized deer which one cannot hardly express in words, but which fills one's whole soul with pleasure.

Lot Harris died at his home southeast of this city Thursday morning, and will be buried at Providence cemetery today at 2 o'clock. He had been ill for some time past, and leaves several relatives and friends to mourn his demise.

Sam—Say Bill, where do you trade?

Bill—At F. M. Daniel's, of course.

Sam—Why do you trade there?

Bill—Because he denia on the square and always treats you well.

Sam—Well, Bill, I believe I will try the old man.

The fibre company have on file a large number of applications for seed, from farmers who are desirous of raising flax the coming year. Those who have ground which is specially adapted to flax should see the manager at once, as the number of acres wanted is limited.

The English partridges recently ordered from England by Albany sportsmen, are expected to arrive in November. They will be liberated in as favorable localities as possible, and it is hoped another valuable game bird will eventually be added to the fields of the Willamette valley.

Official notice has been given several property owners to rebuild their sidewalks, and in some places the walks are in a dangerous condition. These walks must be attended to at once, or the city will take the matter in hand and construct the walks. This should be done at once, if the property owners are not going to do the work themselves.

Saturday last was the day set for the annual meeting of the goat raisers in this section, and many of them were here, but not a sufficient number to permit of a business meeting. The evening of the first of last spring for the purpose of advancing the interests of the goat raisers in this section, and had a tendency to procure better prices for the mohair offered for sale in this section.

Those who enjoy moon hunting by moon light were having a good bit of sport of this sort the fore part of the week. Coons are numerous along the creek bottom, but it has not been very healthy for them of late. The evening of the first of last party were out hunting, and just as the fire bell rang they had a "coon up a tree," but the hunters left him to come in and help to fight the flames.

It is hardly necessary to say anything in these columns regarding the organization of a fire company, as our readers are aware of the fact that we have advocated this arrangement during the past two years. However, the matter should be looked after, as the safety of the business interests of the town demand it. No better work could have been done than that accomplished at a flax mill last Monday night, had a fire company been in charge, as every man worked with a will, and done what they could to save what was not in flames. We should have a fire company of this sort.

Clarence Ross, the 14 year old son of George Ross, accidentally shot himself with a rifle Sunday afternoon. He had been out practicing shooting, and was on his way home, carrying the gun in a careless manner, when in some way it was discharged, the ball going through his left arm near the shoulder. The ball went through the back part of the arm and just missed the bone of the artery. Dr. Booth were called and dressed the wound, and it is thought it will heal without serious results. The rifle is an old one that has been in the family for about 100 years, and is a 41 calibre.—Lebanon E. A.

The Pacific Monthly for October presents what is probably the most attractive number of any monthly periodical ever issued in the Pacific Northwest. The articles are timely. There is one on "Oregon Writers," by Eva Emery Dye, of Oregon City, who has long been a contributor to Old Oregon. It has attracted attention throughout the country. The magazine is replete with short stories and descriptive articles, and its editorial department make it unique among the magazines and credit to the Pacific Coast. Dr. W. S. Hall, in "The Outlook in China," sums up the situation in a masterly way. Altogether this number marks the greatest step forward that the magazine has yet taken. It is an excellent number.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of Philadelphia, when Dr. King's New Discovery cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made her life a burden. She says: "After all other remedies and doctors failed it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed to cure all troubles of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Peery & Peery's drug store.

A New York miser has just died, practically of starvation, though possessed of $100,000. However, his heirs probably won't think he lived in vain—or died so, either.
