The Morris evaporator is still turning out dried apples at the rate of about 500 pounds every day, and aside from this Mr. Morris is supplying our people with a fine lot of apples for winter use from his orchard in the southwest part of town. He had a large crop of fruit this season, and the quality is superb.

John Cornett started to the sawmill above Brownsville Monday morning for a load of lumber, and at the crossing this side of Brownsville the team became frightened and unmanageable, throwing him off the wagon and in under the wheel, which crushed one arm badly and also gave him other injuries as a result of which he cannot be brought home for some time. He is being cared for at the home of Mr. J. Harrison.

That a man can be more brutal than any brute, is shown by the following: About three weeks ago, in the Cedar Flat country, some fiend in human form stole a young calf, belonging to J. W. Menzies, and fastened its mother up in a secluded cabin, where she was found about 10 days afterward, in almost a dying condition, by some hunters. It is certain that she did not shut herself up in the cabin, as the door was fastened by both a latch and a clasp. Surely the perpetrator of this outrage will not receive all the punishment he deserves in this life.—Lebanon E. A.

William Brock, who was accidentally shot last week, is doing as well as could be expected, and is receiving every attention that the local lodge of Odd Fellows can bestow upon him. He is at the Scio hotel, and is pleased to see the many friends who call on him. His recovery will be slow, but there is no doubt entertained as to the result. The physician has removed three of the gun wads and a piece of bone, aside from several pieces of garment which were blown into the wound, and the process of healing of both flesh and bone has commenced in earnest.

Some of the valley papers are stating that the Northwest Flax Fibre company have made the citizens of Eugene a proposition to move their mill to that city. This is a mistake, and anyone who read the dispatch in the Oregonian reporting the mill proposition to the people of Eugene should have been able to note the difference between a fibre mill and a spinning mill—one prepares the material for the other. The company have spent a large sum of money in their plant at this place, and we have the assurance from members of the company that the plant will remain here, even though a spinning mill be established elsewhere by the same company.
