Mrs. R. B. Miller was over from Albany last week, visiting at the home of her son, W. C. Miller, who lives on the home place west of town. She returned home Friday evening of last week.

W. F. Boardman, president of the Northwest Flax Fibre Co., was in Scio a few hours Saturday last, looking after the interests of the company, and stated that in all probability the company would rebuild in time to take care of the next season's crop of flax.

Mrs. Dr. Cole and her daughter, Miss Anna, went to Albany Monday, where they will visit a short time, and then go to Southern Oregon, where they will join the doctor, he having gone ahead. Little Echo Cole accompanied them to Albany for a visit with relatives.

Brave Explorers

Like Stanley and Livingstone, found it harder to overcome malaria, fever and ague, and Typhoid disease germs than savage cannibals; but thousands have found that Electric Bitters is a wonderful cure for all malarial diseases. If you have chills with fever, aches in back of neck and head, and tired, worn-out feeling, a trial will convince you of their merit. W. A. Nall of Webb, Ill., writes: "My children suffered for more than a year with chills and fever; then two bottles of Electric Bitters cured them." Only 50 cents. Try them. Guaranteed. Sold by Peery & Peery, druggists.

A very enjoyable party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Balschweid, in this city last Friday evening. There were quite a number present, and a pleasant evening was spent.

Miss Lula Jones, who was nearly murdered at Jefferson last week, is recovering from her injuries, and if no unforeseen complications arise she will soon be out among her friends again.

Steamers have been running up the Willamette as far as Independence. The Altona was the first boat to reach there this season. There is now plenty of water to allow boats to reach Corvallis.

There will be a basket social held at the Franklin Butte school house Saturday evening, November 3, for the benefit of the Sunday school. All are cordially invited. Ladies bring well filled baskets.

The "Rebels' excursion" to Mt. Hood, last Wednesday evening, was quite well attended, and a social good time was had. A very interesting program was rendered, after which refreshments were served, and a couple of hours spent in sociability.

Quite a number of our local hunters put in the last days of October in the mountains in search of deer. Some of them met with good success, while others came back without a very big haul of venison. We all reported a good time, and plenty of sport.

Rev. P. M. Starr, of Brownsville, died Sunday, October 21, 1900, aged 75 years. He was a pioneer minister in Methodism and was presiding elder of the Portland district at one time. He was paralyzed some ten years ago by being thrown out of a buggy and has been in poor health ever since.

Sam—Say Bill, where do you trade?

Bill—At F. M. Daniels's, of course.

Sam—Why do you trade there?

Bill—Because he deals on the square and always treats you well.

Sam—Well, Bill, I believe I will try the old man.

There was a real estate deal in Scio last week. M. E. Bilyeu sold his residence property on the south side of the River Thomas to Wm. Drenner, and then purchased the residence property of the late George W. Bilyeu, situated on the mill race, opposite the A. J. Johnson property.

There are 21 trains of freight direct-tracked between Portland and Ashland, on account of a lack of engines to haul it. The company have a rush order for fifty-eight new engines sadly needed in the business on account of a large number of old engines having out and become unserviceable.

William E. Spicer, who has been engaged in the flour and grain business in Portland for a number of years past, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of removing wheat of the value of $4,000 from a warehouse without the consent of the owners and disposing of the same for his own benefit. Spicer formerly resided in this county, Spicer being named after him.

Several have asked for the vote of four years ago in Lion county. The average vote for the Bryan electors was approximately 2750 and of McKinley electors 2600, of the Palmer electors 35 and the prohibitionist 75, a total of 4960, the actual ballot being slightly over 4000, giving Bryan a plurality of approximately 670. There was a difference of 13 between the highest and lowest Bryan electors and 14 in the case of the McKinley electors.

Halloween has come and gone, and with it came the usual amount of hoodlumism. A party of serenaders were out among our people, and furnished some excellent vocal music, but they were followed by a number bent on nothing but hoodlumism. It is all well enough to have what "fun" they want, but the destruction of private property and rigging the fire bell are crimes that our people are the same as those perpetrated of which he is punished for.

It will require about 300 poles to build the telephone line from this city to Jordan, and for these the company will issue coupons to the amount of fifty cents for each pole. These coupons are the same as those issued to our people when the line was extended from Jefferson to Scio. A line between here and Jordan would be of great convenience to our people, and we venture that every business man in Scio would help to supply the poles.

To remove a troublesome corn or bunion: First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then rub it down as closely as possible with Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily; rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

There is a possibility that the flax mill will be rebuilt and operated yet this winter. Mr. Lavigne has received offers for flax which he thinks will justify the expense of rebuilding and working up what straw the company has on hand, and by that time they will be prepared to look after the new crop. It is hoped that this will be the case, as it has been proven beyond a doubt that there is money to be made in making flax, and the mill was a great help to our city and its people.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Jim Arnett, a former resident of Lebanon. He is wanted at Portland on the charge of assaulting and robbing an old man named Hill. He was at Hill's house and was sitting down to eat with him, when he excused himself to go and wash himself, but when behind the old gentleman, grabbed an iron rod and struck him over the head. Hill was able to flee to a neighbors which he reached with assistance. Arnett got only a revolver. He evidently thought the old gentleman had some money hid in the house.

There are a few boys in Scio who are not attending school, and to them we would like to suggest that the law of the state requires that they attend school a given number of weeks each year, and the laws of society demand that all persons who have the opportunity offered them shall acquire an education. There is no excuse for these young boys remaining out of school, and their parents are at fault if they do not see present, and put in their time in the school room instead of loafing about the streets.

The boys are telling a pretty good one on Jeff Hannah. It seems as though his father got him out one night to "steal" a supposed thief in the barn, a light having been discovered. When near the barn the light turned out to be coming from a burning straw stack in the field and was shining through the cracks in the barn. "Uncle Tom" Hannah had discovered this before, and was having a little fun at Jeff's expense. But when the latter told the joke to a number of friends he turned the matter over to his father, and was being himself out quite a joker, until Bill Drenner, who had been "put next" by Mr. Hannah, sr., put in an appearance, then things changed, and they all took a small one on Jeff.

We want to secure a good correspondent at each postoffice in this section, one that will give all the local news of their neighborhood. It will only take a few minutes each week to prepare a letter giving the local happenings, and if you are interested in your own locality and the county, why not give a few moments' attention in preparing items that will interest others. We will furnish writing material, pencils and stamps to all regular correspondents, and send them THE NEWS to their address, free, while they act as such correspondents, and will also allow them a liberal commission on all subscriptions. As a further inducement we will give to the correspondent who sends a weekly letter and secures for us by January 1, 1901, the largest list of subscribers, paid one year in advance, a copy of the Life of William E. Gladstone, with deluxe binding, valued at $10. This, however, will not include any lists of names, and we will also allow them a liberal commission on all subscriptions. A Letter From the Philippines.

LEIMANAN, LEON, P. I., Sept. 9th, 1900.

DEAR FATHER: I write you a few lines today. We are still at Leimanan and I don't see any chance of getting away.

We had a chance once, but our captain didn't see fit to give us a rest, so I guess we will remain here until we get ready to start for home and feel only know when that will be. There was an order came not long ago for us to go to the capital, but the captain said we were in good shape and didn't need any rest, so I guess it is all off.

It is raining like everything here at present. It puts me in mind of high-water at home.

Well, it is now getting so dark I can't see to write, so will close until later.

Later—Everything is dull here at present, but the last fight we had was a good one. There were 12 of us out on a scout, when we ran onto about 40 insurgents all deployed awaiting us, when we gave a volley shot at us, and they got down behind a rice paddy wasn't slow. The fight lasted about half an hour and we killed 14 and got three guns. Some of the wounded came shot at us when we were within 10 yards of them, but not one of us got a scratch. There was a large fellow with us by the name of Granthem, from Washington, and an insurgent shot at him when we made the charge and it came so close to his head that it knocked him flat on his back, but the black devil didn't live long afterwards.

The sergeant that was in command of the scouting party is going to get a commission and also 1st Bond, or that is, their recommendations have gone to Washington and I guess they will get them all right. There is a chance for seven 2nd lieutenants at present.

When we go on guard now it is in water from 6 to 12, and then from 12 to 24 hours at a time, and guard comes every third day, but it isn't so hot any more and that is one good thing, for we can sleep nights, that is when we get a chance.

What are you all doing at home? I suppose everybody is picking hops now. Wish I was there to go hop picking myself.

I think I will sell the barber shop. I can get $50 for it, and I am getting tired of it anyway there is too much work about it, and I think there is another move on foot as quick as the rainy weather is over. I guess we will be on the move then until we start home and I expect that will be about March, or April and I will be very glad of it, for this job has lasted just about as long as I care to work for one man. But this is a good job, there is no danger of a man quitting unless he dies, which one of our boys did last week and we have another just about dead. When a man gets so that he can't get around they come sent to camp and beyond that.

Well, I must close for this time, hoping to hear from you soon.

With love to all, I remain as ever,
Your Loving Boy,
CORR. C. R. BLAKE,
Co. "E," Infantry, U. S. A.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so had have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus by giving treatment doses which the croupy symptoms appear we have found before it got settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy if it contains nothing other than an injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult.

For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.
