PRESIDENT MCKINLEY was re-elected at the general election Tuesday last, and will preside over the nation's affairs for the coming four years. We were this week shown a copy of the Manila Times, a daily paper published in the Philippine Islands. It is quite a prosperous looking paper, and one that is indeed making a lot of money for its owners. The subscription price is given at $10 gold, or $20 in Mexican money.

COMMISSIONER EVANS of the Pension Bureau made the following statement this week, in answer to numerous inquiries: "There have been filed 34,900 claims for pension on account of the Spanish-American war. Calls have been made for evidence in 23,424 of these claims. Medical examinations have been ordered in 28,321 claims. The difference between the number of medical examinations ordered practically represents the number of widows' and dependents' claims. Four thousand two hundred and thirty-seven of these claims have been adjudicated.

THAT THE COW is the balance wheel in the intricate piece of machinery called the farm is acknowledged upon all hands. The present enthusiasm along the line of creamery building throughout the Pacific coast is evidence of this fact. There is nothing in the boom order of things about the dairy. The popularity of the cow does not hinge upon any uncertain condition. The market for the products of the dairy is a thing that exists for every day in the year. With this view of the situation no man need hesitate about connecting himself in a business way with the operation of a properly established creamery plant.

A NEW SWINDLE on the consumer of butter is being worked by men in the East, but we have not yet heard of it in the West. A Maryland concern is offering inducements to dairymen to purchase what they call "Talcaine" preservative, a preparation of silicate magnesia, the use of which in butter is warranted to improve its keeping qualities and body. They assert that some butter makers are using as high as 25 per cent of the adulterant. Probably their claims are false as to any considerable number of butter makers using it. They without doubt expect to take advantage of the desires of some men to sell at a good price what has cost them little. A dairyman could buy this stuff at, say, five cents per pound and sell it in his butter at 25 cents a pound, but we are certain that the dairyman that tried to get rich in that way would not be able to sell butter at all after his trick had been found out. It is plain, however, that the state laws as to adulteration should be more rigid and should be enforced to the letter.

A Great Medicine. "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Potomac, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux, I can't speak too highly of it. This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

The Big Cities. THE NEWS has just received a special bulletin of the census giving the facts in reference to all the cities of the United States having a population of 50,000 or more. There are 159 cities. Of these 19 have over 200,000, 19 between 100,000 and 200,000, 40 between 50,000 and 100,000, 81 between 25,000 and 50,000. The increase per cent is nearly the same in each division, being between 31 and 33.9 per cent. Three cities have over 1,000,000, New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, three over half a million and under a million, St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore, five over 250,000 and under half a million, Cleveland, Buffalo, San Francisco, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, and eight between 200,000 and 300,000, New Orleans, Detroit, Milwaukee, Washington, Newark, New Jersey, Louisville and Minneapolis. South Omaha shows the biggest increase in per cent 222.5, but it is evidently owing to territory taken from Omaha which shows a decrease. Butte, Montana, really leads with 184 per cent increase. Its present population is 91,470. The population of Albany, N. Y., came nearest being stationary having increased 0.08 per cent.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

President McKinley has issued the usual Thanksgiving proclamation, setting the date of Thursday, November 29, 1900. The following is the proclamation:

"It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religion and charity have been manifold. Our country through all its extent, has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries have prospered beyond all precedent. Our commerce has spread all over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended ever distant seas and lands. The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities, and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people.

"Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November next, to be observed by all the people of the United States, at home or abroad, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand. I recommend that they gather in their several places of worship and devotedly give Him thanks for the prosperity wherewith he has endowed us, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies, and for all His benefits to us as individuals and as a nation; and that they humbly pray for the continuance of His divine favor, for concord and unity with other nations, and for righteousness and peace in all our ways.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

W. MCKINLEY.

Stories in the Youth's Companion.

In the 52 issues of the year The Youth's Companion publishes more than 200 stories, yet so carefully are they selected that they prove inexhaustible in variety, unending in variety, unending in the power to delight. The stories already in hand for The Companion's 1901 volume show that this feature of the paper will be as strong as ever. Among the groups of stories will be one of "Old Settlers' Day Tales" - stories actually told at some of the gatherings of pioneers in the West. There will be four stirring "Tales of Our Inland Seas," picturing the adventures of the sailors on the Great Lakes; and there will also be four "Tree Tales from the Zoua," told by famous keepers and trainers of wild beasts. And this is only a beginning. We shall be glad to send Illustrated Announcements of the volume for 1901, with sample copies of the paper free to any address.

All new subscribers will receive this Companion for the remaining weeks of 1900 free from the time of subscription, and then for a full year, 52 weeks, to January 1, 1901; also The Companion's new Calendar for 1901, suitable as an ornament for the prettiest room in the house. THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Boston, Mass.

The Country Newspaper.

Only a few people appreciate the value of good papers to a town but these keep the press going and hope sustained. Week after week year in and year out the faithful paper hammers away, every issue taking to the world an advertisement of the paper. Everything of local public moment appears in their columns, and the reading public is constantly talking of what they saw in the papers. The press is the starting point for every matter of interest and use to the public, and every thing that does not start with it is pushed along with increasing force by its constant, faithful explication. These are facts which the most cautious will admit. The world knows it, confesses that if the printing press of the land were shut down for a year it would paralyze business interests more than internal war or the loss of a full crop.

Yet how few business men, even though depending day by day on the gratuitous work of the papers in their community ever help the paper for the help's sake. It must always promise them more than they give or they won't patronize it. They expect the press to work early and late from public spirited motives only, while for themselves there must be prospects of gain in plain view or they let it alone. This is due to false education and ready desire on the part of the paper man to be everybody's "black horse." But because it is a free horse it is really good policy to ride it to death? May it not be killing the hen that lays the golden eggs. Say a word for your home paper. Fill their columns with advertising, though you may not get a big direct profit on the investment. When an advertisement is solicited don't insult the man as a common beggar, and if you want space don't cry him down - lay him down from his rates until he must work for nothing as your slave. Hold up his hands - he will do you and yours good. He is always public spirited by nature and has his head to carry; don't pile more on him simply because you can. Keep him strong and brave and true and he will keep you in many a place where you cannot keep yourself. - EX.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Sweeping Republican Majorities in Most of the States.

OLD LINN FOR BRYAN

McKinley Will Have More Votes than Four Years Ago. Made Up in the West What He Lost East.

The national election day has come and gone. The votes were cast and counted and the result is that President McKinley has been re-elected by a larger majority than was given him four years ago. The latest returns given him 239 votes in the electoral college, while four years ago he had but 271. He lost a good many popular votes in the east but gained votes as well as states in the west. The state of Washington gave him a good majority this year, while four years ago it was populated by 12,900. We are not saying a word about west caused this state of affairs, but it seems that to win a common battle the opposition forces must work together as a unit and in harmony. As to the results of the election we will not make a prediction. They will certainly follow their good or bad. In Linn county Bryan had a majority of 37. This shows a great reduction in the democratic majority since June, but of course the total vote was nearly as large as in June. Following are states carried by McKinley with the electoral votes: California, 9; Connecticut, 6; Delaware, 3; Illinois, 24; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 12; Kansas, 12; Kentucky, 12; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 13; Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 9; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 10; New York, 35; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 23; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 20; Rhode Island, 4; South Dakota, 3; Vermont, 4; Washington, 4; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 12; Wyoming, 3. Total, 289. Kentucky is divided and is claimed by both parties. If it goes for him it will make his vote 302.

A Genuine Romance.

A New York dispatch of November 18 says: Mrs. Ruth Maxham, of Hartford, has just left for Lockland, Ore., where she will marry Charles B. Green, a rich grocer. The marriage will end a romance that began a half century ago. When she was six years old, Mrs. Maxham and Green, an adopted orphan, nine years of age, were playmates. The children were reared together, and when Green was 17, he asked the girl to marry him. She refused and married Mr. Maxham. Green went to war, and afterwards married an old maid. Mr. and Mrs. Maxham lived in Hartford for 55 years. Mr. Maxham died last spring, and a letter from his estate to the grand of her youth brought an immediate offer of marriage, as Green is also a widower. Mrs. Maxham accepted, and left for his home accordingly. The groom is 61 years old, and the bride is 8.

Throat Troubles

"Randall, Ky., where I live, is in the extreme western part of the state and only a few miles from Cairo, Ill., where the Ohio empties into the Mississippi river. It may be that throat troubles are common here because of local causes of location, but whatever the cause, I find it wise to constantly keep a supply of Aker's English Remedy for Consumption on hand. It is the best thing I ever came across for coughs, colds and throat troubles, and I have used it in my family for years. No druggist here can be depended upon to have it always, so I am writing this letter to W. H. Hooker & Co., 229 Broadway, N. Y., to order a dozen bottles at a time. My wife is bothered lately with sore throat and difficult breathing, but just as soon as the dozen bottles get here, I will give her a few doses, and she will certainly be well again. I expect to write another letter in a short time saying my wife is cured, for I feel absolutely sure it is what she needs." (Signed) T. A. Warr. Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada, and in England at 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, 6s, 10s. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back. Write for the return coupon. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York.
