S. E. YOUNG & SON, ALBANY, OREGON

PURELY PERSONAL

R. Shelton was an Albany visitor this week.

G. W. Phillips was over at the county seat this week.

H. H. Henline was up from Salem Tuesday attending the ball in the evening.

A. J. Johnson returned the first of the week from a two weeks' bank examining trip.

Albert Cole came up from Silverton Saturday evening to eat Sunday dinner with his family.

"Wid" Bilyeu and his son, Ira Bilyeu, arrived in Scio the first of the week, after an absence of several months.

J. A. Bilyeu was over at the county seat Wednesday, having taken the ballot boxes back to the court house after the battle.

Noah Hunt, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Hunt, arrived in Scio this week from Missouri and are visiting relatives in this section.

Miss Ollie Morris came up from Portland Thursday last to visit for a few days with the home folks and brother Fred. She returned to the metropolis this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee and two children left yesterday for Cottonwood, California, where Bert will remain for some few weeks, in the hope of regaining his health. Mrs. Woodmansee and the children will return about December 1st.

Fred Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morris, of this city, returned home Thursday of last week, after a two years' absence in Alaska. He brought back with him a fine lot of specimens of coarse gold, as well as the news that he possessed of interests in there which would make him a fortune. He is interested with the McNamer brothers, of Forest Grove, in some very rich claims about 800 or 700 miles west of Dawson, in making the trip from St. Michaels to Seattle he came near being shipwrecked, but arrived home safe and sound. He brought three fine dogs home with him, one of which he refused $250 for before leaving Alaska. He will return again in the spring, and his many friends hereabouts are hoping that he may find gold in greater quantities than he anticipates, as one who will endure the hardships necessary to acquire the hidden wealth of the frozen north certainly deserve all that they can find.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so had have the attacks been that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in Chicago.

Hagen Bros., the popular South Side druggists, corner 69th street and Wentworth avenue, say: "We sell a great deal of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and find that it gives the most satisfactory results, especially among children for severe colds and croup." For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

Sam—Say Bill, where do you trade?

Bill—At F. M. Daniel's, of course.

Sam—Why do you trade there?

Bill—Because he deals on the square and always treats you well.

Sam—Well, Bill, I believe I will try the old man.

The presidential ball given by the Scio Social club last Tuesday evening was quite a social success. There were quite a number of young people here from neighboring towns, and a good time was had by all. Music was furnished by the Big Four orchestra.

The social at the Franklin Butte school house last Saturday evening was quite a social success. There were 28 baskets sold, ranging in price from 50 cents to $2.25, which made a total of $21.70 clear. Seventeen dollars of this amount was donated to school district No. 77, and the balance goes to the Sunday school.

Three of Scio's young America slept in the city bustle last Friday night, as a result of being caught out after the hour of nine. Our city ordinance has not been very rigidly enforced in times gone by, but Marshal Bilyeu has decided to enforce it hereafter, and those archers who have been in the habit of staying out all times of night had better change their ways in future.

To remove a troublesome corn or bunion: First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days, to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

A FEW FARM NOTES

Wheat is about 24 cents per bushel cheaper now than in 1896, which makes about $5,000,000 difference to the farmers of Oregon.

Recently a firm in Denver sold two carloads of oleomargarine. The profit on these two carloads according to a number of the firm was $1,000 or $500 a car.

Every stockman should lay in a supply of oil meal this fall. No other food equals it for producing heat, health and harmony in a farmer's herd. Try it and you will never be without it.

The $1500 appropriation for the First Eastern Oregon District fair was not used this year. It seems the directors could not agree on a place to hold the fair, consequently the money was held.

The farmer with a level head is the man who is trying to get some good stock on his farm. A great many thousands dollars' worth of rough feed is actually and absolutely wasted on our Western farms each year. The right kind of growing stock puts a prompt stop to his leak.

Cattle, like every other commodity, may have to pass through a period of depression. The man who sticks year in and year out to the use of a pure bred bull and continues to grade up his cows as high as possible will make a better showing than a man who economizes on a bull from the fear that cattle will not always bring their present value.

Now that the winter months are coming on farmers and dairymen alike should provide suitable shelter and wholesome feed for their stock. More and more we are coming to see that the condition essential to human health and comfort are the ideal conditions for the health and condition of the cow. These conditions include, as of prime importance, pure air; then pure water; then pure food. If there is not already some way for the food air to escape from this warm stable, let that matter have immediate attention, even at the expense of lowering the average temperature three or four degrees.

School Notes.

Miss Kate Cary paid us a visit Tuesday.

Miss Lottie Wilson and Mr. Alexander enrolled in school Monday.

In 1893 the National Educational association appointed a committee to report on the future of the high school. Among the items in the report are the following:

Between the thirteenth or fourteenth and the nineteenth or twentieth years the transition from childhood to youth takes place. During these years life aims should be selected and life habits formed.

We therefore, want to emphasize the efforts of our high school for those pupils who subsequently devote themselves to industrial and commercial pursuits. To meet their needs in full means that we should maintain in addition to literary mathematical and historical studies—courses in manual training, the physical and biological sciences, and commercial courses.

This question of college entrance requirements is therefore easily met by any good high school, and we may address ourselves to the function of the high school as an independent institution.

To assert that secondary education should minister to vocational aims does not mean that our high school should teach a trade or a profession. It means that the school should give the pupil such general preparation for the life pursuit for which his tastes and aptitudes especially qualify him that when he leaves the high school he may enter on the preparation for his chosen pursuit or on that pursuit itself, with some knowledge of underlying principles on which success in it depends, and some power in its fundamental facts and processes.

First, the triple function of the public high school, viz., to equip pupils for the business of life, to give a proper training to those who will teach in the common schools, and to prepare for college. Secondly a majority of our young people who go to college enter a profession late in their secondary course. Thirdly, every young man or woman who has successfully devoted at least four years to earnest study in a well equipped secondary school, should be admitted to any college in the country, whether such a pupil has devoted a greater part of his time to Latin, Greek and Mathematics, or to Latin, modern languages and mathematics, or to itself, with some science and the sciences, or to any other combination of studies which has developed his power and been in harmony with his intellectual aptitudes.

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHING.

Use Acker's English Remedy in any case of coughs, cold or croup, should it fail to give immediate relief money refunded. 25c. and 50 cts. Peery & Peery, druggist.
