Mrs. Phillips accompanied him as far as Albany, where she remained with friends a few days.

PURELY PERSONAL

There is nothing which is better calculated to keep up the farmer's general standing than keeping the premises in first-class condition, keeping the fences and buildings in repair, the gates from sagging and having things looking tidy. Do this and keep out of debt and you will always be happy. There is a farm down in Lane county, Oregon, whose owner is William Cross at $4 per head. It has paid 6 and 7 per cent interest, net, and it is thoroughly prepared and equipped for work—the principal thing being dairying. This is putting farming on a thoroughly business basis. The profit that can be realized from sheep is shown in the late experience of John Whitaker. From one ewe he got 114 lbs. of wool. From the same ewe he also got so heavy a clip of wool that the latter weighed 15.50 per head. Last Saturday he closed a transaction in which fifty of the lambs went to William Cross at $4 per head. The lambs left on hand are as good as those sold, and at present prices are worth $4 each. The increase, therefore, from his 18 ewes is $421; and the wool sold from the ewes is $145. The total is $566, or an average of $28.00 per head.—Corvallis Times.

A FEW FARM NOTES

If the pullet appears listless and droopy, look for lice, if you are satisfied the system in general is normal. The farmer is in closest possible communication with nature, is ever studying her laws and prying into her mysteries. If you want a cow that will devote all her energy to turning food into milk get one narrow from the back points to the shoulders. The farmer who allows himself to become dependent fails to properly husband his interests. He who lives within his income never need allow himself to get behind so as to be dependent. Before the season again commences come to a still old determination to rear your chicks in brood of very small numbers. Two many chicks in a brooder is strictly responsible for much of a failure. There is a scrub cow bought off the range for $30 at the Kansas Experiment Station that gave within twelve months milk that sold for $75.75. This beats the famous cow that "first went to college." A strand of wool taken by a college professor from a Lincoln ewe on exhibition at the lately held show in Chicago measures exactly twenty four inches in length. Lengthwise it is of beautiful fineness for its extraordinary length. The farm without the hen would be like a ship without a sail. The ship could plow its way slowly but surely but when the canvas is spread it finds many seasons of splendid sailing. It is the same on the farm—the hen will bring in income that will tide the farmer over many a crisis. "I had rather be a farmer," said a young merchant to us a few days since. "Farmers," said he, "generally envy town people their pleasures, but there is a man who lives a life, only the farmer is independent I had rather be a farmer than anything else.—Rocky Mountain Houseman. CORRESPONDENCE

SANTIAM AND VICINITY. Porter Long was a caller at J. W. Pendexter's Sunday. Mrs. Lee Bilyeu was on the sick list the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. C. Gaines and children were all on our side visiting Sunday. John Calavan has bought Geo Myers' farm for which he paid $11 per acre. Rev. Elmore preached for us Saturday night and there was a large crowd present. Mr. Lillard of Spicer was over Friday and bought 16 head of goats of Joe Pendexter, at $3 per head. Wayne Conner and Jim Flatt left Monday for a trip to California, where they intend staying a year. Miss Nellie and Maggie Crabtree went to Albany Sunday. Maggie returned Monday, but Nellie has a position in that city. Miss Nellie, Maggie and Flo Crabtree were at the big dance at Hearst, Friday night and report a large crowd and a fine time. Mrs. Geo Myers met with a painful accident by sticking a fork in the palm of her hand, and blood poison set in and she had to call in a physician to lance it. She is now on the improve. There will be a grand exhibition at our school house the last day of our school, the eighth of February, also a basket social in connection with the exhibition. All are cordially invited to come and bring a fine basket well filled, and a good time is guaranteed to all. There are some half dozen young men and boys who attend our Sunday school and church who come for no good only to disturb the congregation, which has become quiet troublesome, and causing neighborly quarrels. All such had better stay at home or learn to have some respect for themselves if they have none for others.

SHEARED

A tax levy of 22 mills has been made in Marion county. Besides this, in Salem there is a 10-mill city tax and a special school tax will be levied. Under a new reapportionment bill in the state legislature Lane county will get one senator and a joint one with Marion county, and three representatives, the same as under the law enacted by the last legislature. J. R. Allen and Rev. J. H. Sperry doing business in Old Fellows hall under the firm name of Allen & Sperry, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Allen having purchased Mr. Sperry's interest. Mr. Allen intends moving the stock to some other town. Rev. Sperry left this morning for Portland to buy a new stock of goods and intends to open up a store here. He and Mr. Saben will probably go in together.—Lebanon Express. The two counties in Oregon which have always done the most to keep the Oregon Instrument Association in Lane and Washington. In proportion to the extent of its dairy industry, Columbia county does equally as well. Albany and Hillsboro have proved themselves the champion towns in the entertainment of the association, and both are destined to become important centers of the dairy industry in the Willamette valley.—Oregon Agriculturist. Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents. Some of the farmers living between Lebanon and Seasideville will make an effort to have a free rural delivery route established in this section. If successful, the route will be about as follows: From Lebanon to Seasideville, thence west six miles, thence north about six miles, thence east to starting point. There should be three routes leaving from this place.—Lebanon Advertiser. AKER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS. Are sold on a positive guarantee. Cures heart burn, rising of the food, distress after eating or any form of dyspepsia. One little tablet gives momentary relief. 25c. and 50c. Peery & Peery, druggist. A lady said to us recently that it was easier to have a nice flock of hens than the right kind of a hen house. The hen can be grown, but the hen house, we must wait for some man to build that and while men are fond of eggs and fried chicken and the like, it is the hard part of the world to get them to build the right kind of a hen house.—Rocky Mountain Houseman. MOKI TEA. Positively cures sick headache, indigestion and constipation. A delightful herb drink. Removes all eruptions of the skin, producing a perfect complexion, or money refunded. 25c. and 50c. Peery & Peery, druggist. There came near being a fire at J. W. Campbell's residence Wednesday, but it was discovered and the flames extinguished before much damage was done, and the only loss was some clothing belonging to Mrs. Campbell, which was hanging in the chimney. The fire originated from an ironing board, which had been set away, the cloth on which had been on fire, but was supposed to have been extinguished. Rev. G. W. Hill, who is making a tour of the state lecturing on China and Japan, will be in this city, Wednesday, January 30, and will lecture at the Baptist church on the evening above mentioned. This will give our people a chance to hear from one who has made a study of the Chinese and Japanese methods for several years past. He is a very gifted gentleman, and one whom it is a pleasure to listen to. All are cordially invited. Married.—John D. Grimes and Miss Eva E. Rutter, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rutter, about seven miles east of Seilo, Tuesday, January 22, 1901. Justice R. Shelton, officiating. A fine dinner was prepared for the occasion and a very enjoyable time was had. The happy couple will make their home at Mill City. Those present to witness the wedding were, Mr. and Mrs. Rutter, Mr. and Mrs. S. Grimes, of Jordan, Albert Hunt, Mr. Hunt, sr., of Seilo, Oral Sexton and Miss Sarah James, of Lakewood, and Miss M. de Fleming, of Albany. A meeting of the stockholders of the Seilo Creamery Co., was held in this city Saturday last, but the future plans of the company were not made public. Owing to a seeming lack of patronage the creamery has not been opened since the past year, but we trust that some change may take place in the near future whereby the creamery can be operated at a profit and become one of Seilo's permanent institutions. There is no reason why it should not, as other creameries operated on a paying basis, and result in distributing thousands of dollars among their patrons each year.

The Western Poultry News is a big 16-page monthly chicken paper, published at Lincoln, Neb., and is an acknowledged authority on poultry methods. It not only informs poultry breeders, but the housewife in town or country, who wants to make some profit from a few hens. It also has a Belgian Hare department. If you want a poultry paper, here is your chance. How to Travel. In selecting your route to the East you cannot afford to overlook the advantages and comforts offered by the Rocky Mountain Railway in connection with the Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado Midland Railroads. If the only train connecting the coast directly through Salt Lake City, and in addition to the greatest city of the Temple City, the Great Salt Lake, the Salt Palace, and the picturesque Utah Valley, it offers choice of six direct routes to the East and the most magnificent scenery in the world. A double daily train service and through Pullman Palace and ordinary sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and a perfect dining car service are now in operation via these lines. For complete description of the "Great Salt Lake Route" apply to J. D. Mansfield, General Agent, 250 Washington, Portland; or to Geo. W. Heintz, Acting General Passenger Agent, Salt Lake City. A Fine Showing. The increase of business for the Albany creamery during 1900 over that of all previous years speaks not only for the excellent management but also for the greater interest being taken by the farmers of the surrounding country. The report for the year shows the following: Paid patrons for butter fat, $21,922.45. Total amt of milk, 2,394,659 pounds. Total amt of butter fat, 100,245 pounds. Average test, 4.24 per cent fat. Amt rec'd for butter sold, $29,781.15. Average price paid patrons 21.93 cents. Average price paid for milk, 93 cents per 100 pounds. Average number of patrons, 75. Average number lbs of fat for patron 1926 pounds. The largest patron furnished 4202 pounds of fat. The smallest patron furnished $10 pounds. Average cost of manufactured fat 3.8 cents per pound. The number of pounds of butter made was 112,999 against 80,363 for the year 1925. The total receipts show an increase of $8,443.97 over that of the previous year.—Albany Democrat. AKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY. Will stop a cough of any kind, and will cure the worst cold in twelve hours, or money refunded. 25c. and 50c. Peery & Peery, druggist.

It is a positive guarantee. Peery & Peery, druggist. HIS TOMB A WELL. Singular Means Adopted by a Reformed Gambler to Stay Reformed. As uncreditable as it may seem, it is nevertheless a fact, says a Mount Clemens correspondent of the Detroit Journal, that there is a man now living in this city who has dug his own grave in the side of an old deserted well, several feet down from the top, and placed a rudely constructed coffin therein in such a manner as to baffle detection. An acquaintance, borrowing on to situate the device and intrigues of supposed friends had led him into bad habits some years ago in this city when gambling and dissipation was at its height. He kept them up until ruin stared him in the face. Resolution after resolution to change was broken. The hated vice had him with an iron grip. "God knows," he said, "I tried hard to escape them, but like the siren in ancient mythology did these habits draw on and devour me, until I lay upon this unnatural, barbarous and monstrous pile some time ago. Since that time all desire for the fascinating but cruel siren seems to have left me. Perhaps this gruesome sight, which I often come and look at, has caused the change. But should my passion again return for the old life, and I break this my last resolve, I shall come this old forsaken well, climb down to where that coffin is embedded, get into it, and take a sufficient amount of chloroform to produce an everlasting sleep, wrap the drapery of my overcoat around me for a shroud, and declare myself master at last." The seriousness with which this man spoke would leave no doubt as to his present intention, should the occasion demand it. He is a man of intelligence, and is strongly averse to wrongdoing in other channels, but rather than fall back into his former habits and rugged path, and continue there, he will commit suicide, as above stated, and hide himself forever.
