Prospects for the rebuilding of the flax mill brighten every day, and a few weeks more will see active operations begun. We are pleased to be able to state that the mill will be rebuilt, and hope that its operations will be on a much larger scale than in the past. The people of Scio are all looking forward to the resumption of the mill, and are willing to do everything in their power to help matters along.

The many friends of V. B. Goin will learn with pleasure that he is making all kinds of money out at Ashtland. He went out there and purchased a tract of timber land, and is converting the timber into cord wood, for which he finds a ready market at about $3.50 per cord. O. B. Cyrus, of this city, is thinking of joining him, and they expect to make a handsome thing out of the wood business. Their many friends hereabouts are wishing them all kinds of success.

The city council met in regular session Thursday evening of last week, and the regular routine business was transacted. A. W. Hagey was elected superintendent of the light and water plant for the ensuing year, at a salary of $30 per month. The proposition made by A. J. Johnson to donate ground for park purposes was accepted, and the park is to be known as Johnson's park. J. J. Barnes was elected as alderman in the place of V. B. Goin who failed to qualify.

Early garden mowing was in progress in many places in this city during the first of the week, and no change to warmer weather will be of much benefit for this line of produce. There was a few pretty cold nights last week, but the days were bright and warm. The cold weather will be of much benefit, as during the past couple of years there has been very little cold weather, and bugs and insects were not killed out, as it is hoped they have been during the past few weeks of cold weather.

A Milwaukee preacher asserts that "nude figures" on five-dollar bills are "nude as the truth," and that we never had one of these bills long enough to examine it critically. But we don't think "nude figures" would shock us very much. We have attended social entertainments where the ladies were in "nude dress" and were but little more than a necktie above the belt, and we still live. The figure on a five-dollar bill which has the most attraction for us is the figure "5".

T. S. Coffey has an exhibition a jar of corn, which is going to be the means of someone getting a fine set of harness. The jar is filled and sealed, and each customer will be entitled to a guess at the number of kernels it contains—some guess for each $2.00 worth of goods purchased for cash, and when Mr. Coffey shall have disposed of $1,000 worth of goods the man guessing nearest the number will be entitled to his choice of a $50 set of harness or a saddle of the same value—or $20 worth of goods from six stores. Call and see the jar, buy some goods and make your guess.

The lots donated to the city and school district for park purposes, by Mr. Johnson, are situated just east of the school building, and will make an ideal park. Although it will not be very extensive in size it will in a few years afford our people a place where they can spend an afternoon picnic without having to go to the hills. One of the conditions of the gift is that it is to be improved each year, and this will make it certain that it will receive constant attention, thus insuring our people just what was intended by Mr. Johnson, and is a guarantee that it will not remain as it is now—a few vacant lots.

J. O. Carter and a crew of men came down from Detroit Saturday evening on a hand car, a distance of 44 miles, after Dr. Prill of this city, who was called to attend Mrs. D. B. Hall, who is seriously ill. Dr. Prill performed an operation upon Mrs. Hall but there is but slight chance for her recovery. While at Detroit he was called to attend C. F. Swank, on the Breitenbusch, who is down with grip. Mrs. Jacobs, and Mrs. Hineske of Detroit, were also treated for the grip. O. B. Hall was taken and only ill Saturday but was improving when the doctor left. He made some 10 examinations for Degree of Honor, and A. O. U. W. while there, and returned to Scio Monday evening.

Jack and Fred Jones, and Jas. and Jake Bilyeu, of Scio were in our city during the week. It is understood that the Jones boys are trying to secure signatures to a petition to open a saloon in this city. This is a proposition that is agitated after every city election, but has never amounted to much. The result this time will be awaited with interest. It is a matter on which everybody has a right to their own opinion, but the Review believes it should be left to those of our residents who reside here when there was a saloon. They know from experience a whether such an establishment results to the advantage of the city. If they want it, all right. If they don't, the town front.—John H. Review.

Scio offers one of the best openings for a meat market of any town in the valley. We have not had a good meat market for many months, and one run on a business basis can be made to pay its way. A market has been closed since the first of this month, and for a couple of months prior to that date no beef had been offered for sale. We trust that some good man will take the matter in hand and operate a good market. Of course it will not justify the outlay of an extensive amount of capital, nor will it make anyone rich in a few months but there is a splendid opening for a small market.

There is no necessity for a town the size of Scio being without a meat market, and we hope it will not long remain that way.

The "boys" on the south side of the river Thomas have been having a good time of it during the week. Lewis Cullen of late. It seems that he was keeping his cow in the barn during the cold weather, and one day last week happened the barn door but did not see the cow, so took it for granted that she had escaped, and he called up a horse and put in most of the afternoon looking for her in the outskirts of town, but was unable to find her, so he had his cow tied to a post in front of the barn. Just about dark Cullen went to the barn and opened the door, and there stood the cow. Where she had been all day, the facts were related to Lewis, and it is thought that he will say anything about it, but it was too good to keep, and the woman folks soon had the joke going. Lewis smiles when you say "cow", to him, and thinks of putting a glass fence in his barn so that he can see a cow if she is there. He is also going to study up a little on the eyesight of a horse, as he is of the opinion that there are horses that can't see a cow either, or anything else for certain.

FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

LIBRARIAN, P. I., JAN. 4, 1901.

DEAR FATHER AND MOTHER:

I will try and write you a few lines today. There is not much going on at present, but I guess times will be lively enough when the volunteer troops get started home.

We were out on a ten days march last month but didn't do any thing to amount to much. Let the insurgents ambush us twice in one day, then keep us all night by firing into our camp. We are having lots of trouble with a small band of Ledrons just at present. They keep coming around where we are not looking for them and firing into the quarters. Day before yesterday they fired at us from across the river, and just as I was going to load my gun a bullet struck it and tore the stock all to pieces. I had to get a new gun. I have the bullet and will bring it home for you to see.

I was at the capital and got to see all I wanted to. I was there four days. When we started home I got sick when we were only half way, so they telegraphed for a doctor and an ambulance to come. They took me back to the hospital where I stayed for five days, but am alright now.

It is spring here now and it will soon be harvest. The rice is heading out, and in some places is almost ready to cut.

The 37th and 39th regiments and 11th cavalry will be starting home next month and I guess when they get started it won't be very long before we are all started. But I can't see who is going to take our places there are not half enough regular troops, and I don't see that they are getting any more volunteers. Perhaps they will just gararrison the largest towns and let the rest go, but it has took a great deal of hard work to get them small towns, and many people had lost their life, but then that doesn't make any difference to the men that are handling this thing. If it was a man's life or a dollar they would take the whole lot and let the men live. I don't know though but it is serving us about right for we ought not to have come over here in the first place. I don't blame the people here for fighting, they are doing just what I would myself, still when you see one of your own men shot down by them it makes you feel like killing every one you see, but I guess they look at it just the same way and want to kill all of us when we kill one their men.

But never-the-less they seem to be the happiest people on earth. If they have anything to eat they go visiting and when they get all they want to eat they are satisfied until another day.

With love to all I remain as ever your son,

School Notes.

Examination in 8th B. grade this week.

Lincoln day, Feb. 12th, was honored by raising the flag.

Mrs. Stam and Miss Ollie Morris visited the school last Friday.

Miss Ollie Morris has charge of Prof. Hiron's room during his absence in Albany.

The teachers and board have decided on half year examinations in all departments and grades except 8th A.

Mrs. Prill took her pupils to Dr. Prill's office during a recent afternoon and inspected his bird and egg museum.

The question: Is Mrs. Nation justified in her present attitude toward the joints, will be debated next Friday night.

It is spring here now and it will soon be harvest. The rice is heading out, and in some places is almost ready to cut.

one wishing such an animal call around with $50.

Our basket social was out of sight, the baskets sold well, and the boys wished for twenty more. The receipts were $14.30 for the street.

Rev. C. C. Sperry, of Brownsville, was a caller of N. W. Gaines Monday and was heading to the line on an old backslider to get him back into the traces.

Our entertainment was grand, and the selections were well executed and every thing was nice except the order—it was shameful. There was a rough set of boys came in and kept up such confusion by whispering and loud talking which confused the whole audience. As they show respect for themselves or any one else, and when called on to keep order it only made them worse, we will try the virtue of the law, on such fellows.

Death of J. H. Peery.

This community was greatly shocked on Wednesday morning of this week to learn of the sudden death of J. H. Peery, which occurred at his home near Larwood, Tuesday night at half past eleven.

Tuesday afternoon as Noah Miles was returning home from Scio he saw Mr. Peery lying on the ground in a field near his home, and upon investigation he found that Mr. Peery was unconscious, and went to the house for assistance. As soon as the unfortunate man was taken to the home medical aid was summoned from this city, and accompanied by Dr. Prill M. M. Peery went out and remained by his father until death came. Everything possible was done for the sufferer, but he never spoke or regained consciousness after being found. His death was caused by hemorrhage of the brain. He ate a hearty dinner Tuesday noon, and went to the field to work, and no one saw until he was found by the mail carrier. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a heart-broken wife and a large family of screaming children and a host of friends to mourn his sudden death. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, at Providence, conducted by the Odd Fellows, of which he was a member, assisted by Rev. Sperry, of Brownsville. In a future issue we hope to give a more extended account of Mr. Peery and his life work in this vicinity.
