WANTED - A few sets of good character to deliver and collect on terms for an old established manufacturing business. Best a year, with very few exceptions, any back in any city. Employees will receive special attention. Manufacturers, Third Floor, and Twelfth St., Chicago.

CHESHAM 2941 has been consigned to the Fair Play store in New York and will give under the name of this store.

Count Castellani is coming to America and may make quite an extended stay in New York. "Cash only" will probably be at once established as the rule in the brick-stores here.

The legislature passed a law making 32 pounds of oats a bushel, instead of 36 as heretofore. This will enable the farmer to get more bushels to the acre and perhaps a greater profit on his crop.

Texas is just in the act of making kidnapping a capital offense. It has always been a hanging offense, but the new law is intended to deter men from horse-stealing down there, and it is gratifying to know that human beings are at last coming to be regarded as of as much importance as stock.

As a proof of the alleged insanity of a Seattle man it is said that he threatened to kill the blundering druggist who gave him something to wash his eyes with which destroyed the sight of one of them. If he never wanted to do anything crazier than that he isn't so badly off.

One thousand American school teachers are now wanted in the Philippines to educate the youths of the islands. Their fathers have for some time past been receiving instructions, more or less effective, from "Professors" MacArthur, Young, Grant and other able pedagogues.

A local resident asks for a divorce on the grounds that his wife from time to time experiments with Rough on Rats on the family dogs and cats with a view to determining about how much would be a sufficient dose for a man. Some fellows are too unscrupulous to experiment ever to make good husbands.

A Missouri fellow who went on a vacation left a minister in charge of his paper. A day or two later a letter from a "wayback" subscriber came, which read: "You know, well I paid my subscription the last time I was in your town. If I get any more such letters I will come down there and maul h—t out of you." The minister answered: "I have been trying to maul that thing out of the editor for ten years and if you come down and maul it out of him, then my dear sir I have twenty members of my church who can operate on."

Advice of a Druggist

"It is proper, I think, to let others know about the popularity and virtues of Acker's English Remedy for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. From the moment I began handling it, I found the sales keep growing all the time as fast as people find out what a remarkable preparation it is. The satisfaction it gives is untold. Our best citizens use it and say it is the best thing for throat and lung troubles they ever saw. Mr. S. H. Culver, one of our prominent businessmen, says Acker's English Remedy is the only medicine that helped his chronic cough of many years' standing. At first it gave relief and now, after taking a few bottles, he is wholly cured. I buy it by the gross at a time, and my sales are larger on this one medicine than on any other in my store. It is a great pleasure for me to feel that while I am prospering I am also doing so much good to the community in selling such a grand, refreshing, famous B. B. Dewees, Westfield, N. Y.

Sold at 25c. per bottle, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 2s. 6d. per bottle. If you receive a bottle after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.
No authentic show genuine.

OREGON STATE FAIR.
That the Oregon state fair for 1901 will eclipse anything of the kind ever held on the coast, is the prediction of most every one. That the fair has the good will of the people generally was shown by the unanimous consent of the legislature to increase the appropriation from $5000 to $8000 annually for premiums, and the further appropriation of $7000 for buildings and improvements.

This assistance will enable the board to put a new creamery building, add to the pavilion a new wing build more stock pens, machinery hall, and repair the old buildings, side walks, etc. The increase appropriation for premiums will enable them to increase their premium list 50 per cent, which should bring in the largest and best exhibit of live stock and farm products ever witnessed on the coast. We predict that the Oregon state fair for 1901 will be a great advertisement for this state.

The number of people coming to this coast this year will take advantage of seeing what we can produce, by visiting the state fair, and no section of the state should neglect to be represented. These people coming from other states are accustomed to seeing the resources of a state exhibited at state fairs and they will be the ones most interested in our exhibits and it is this class that each section should strive to attract.

The Board will offer a premium of $1000 for county exhibits at the Oregon state fair this year to be divided in five premiums as follows: First prize $300; second, $250; third, $200; fourth, $150 and fifth $100. This should induce most every county in the state to make an exhibit.

THIS IS THE TEST.

His friends have said of Senator Mitchell that if re-elected to the senate, he could and would secure the further improvement of the harbor at Yaquina bay. It is known that the Senator has said as much himself. When the rejoicing that follows a political triumph shall have subsided, when there shall be time for sober consideration of ordinary material things, when the senatorial logs shall again float from his shoulders, it will be entirely fitting for the senator-elect to reflect deeply on this subject.

His acquaintanceship among influential members of the national congress is large; his personal influence is great. Nobody has done anything for Yaquina since he left the senate. Can he do it again? Will he do it?—Corvallis Times.

A great many of the old pioneers are passing away, and their places in the commercial world are being filled by younger people. In the social world their places will long remain vacant, for they cannot be filled as they were by those sturdy pioneers. They came across the plains with the ox team, and endured hardships and privations unknown to the average citizen. They left comfortable homes, leaving relatives and kind friends to enter a wilderness and build for themselves new homes and new surroundings. They laid the foundation stone for this great country of ours, paved the way for the development which has taken place, and many of them are now answering the last roll call, just at the time when life seems to have reached that stage where happiness and pleasure should await them. No words of praise can be uttered which will do justice to the pioneer, or fully tell of the honor that should be bestowed upon them. They gave up their lives that we may now enjoy to its fullness the fruits of their labor. All honor is due our sturdy pioneers.

The Stayton Mail last week contained a page write-up of that city, which does great credit to the town and surrounding country. It will do a great deal of good towards attracting the attention of the people who are now coming to this coast to find new homes. Oregon is just now attracting a great deal of attention in the east, and every thing in the line of description of this country is eagerly sought after.

Ex-Senator Gorman is reported to have pulled the strings that prevented a vote in the Senate on the ship subsidy bill. And the Governor of Maryland has called on extra session of the Legislature to disfranchise enough Republicans to make possible the re-election of Gorman to the Senate. It is evident that the Democrats in Congress need the expert subterranean Marylander in their business.

President McKinley was inaugurated Monday with ceremonies befitting the event. President McKinley enters upon his second term at a time when problems of greater moment confront the nation than have been encountered since the days of the civil war. The country has expanded, and new questions of foreign policy and relations with new territories are to be determined.

Judge Whitney, of Albany, is quite a busy man just at present. His time is fully occupied in explaining to his constituents just why he fell in with the corporation push, when he was elected to the position of representative on a reform ticket.

Our naval station in the Philippines will be at Subig Bay, thirty miles north of Manila. The harbor is deeper and generally better than that at Manila, and our Philippine fleet of fifty ships will find ample room there for docking and repairs.

The government has completed the publication of the documents of the civil war in 127 volumes at a cost of $2,750,000. The work is a great mine for historians. Its cost is large, but the struggle it describes in official reports was colossal.

Our city will take a new life with the flux mill and the creamery both in operation.

Say a good word for Scio. It will not hurt you, and it may do a power of good.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulders from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain.—For sale by Peery & Peery.

Strives A Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just what I need for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run-down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family. Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Peery & Peery druggists.

Death of F. M. Daniels.

Frances M. Daniel, whose death occurred in this city, Saturday, March 16, 1901, was born in Kentucky March 19, 1828. At the age of fourteen she went to Missouri, and from there she came to Oregon about 1857, and settled near this city, where she made her home continuously. October 20, 1861 she was united in marriage to Mary E. Gaines, and six children were born to them, four of whom have passed away; on October 17, 1884 Mrs. Daniel died.

During the years of 1845 he was engaged in the general merchandise business with W. E. Carl, of this city, and again in the spring of 1850 he purchased the stock of general merchandise of W. A. Ewing and conducted the store in this city until his death.

He was engaged in the Indian wars in the early days under Capt. Ben Hayden.
In 1850 he united with the Baptist church, at Providence, and in 1856 he joined the Christian church in this city. In 1857 he joined the A. O. U. W. and remained a constant member until his death.
Mr. Daniel was a man well thought of and respected by all who knew him, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He always took an active interest in public affairs, and was ever ready to assist in any enterprise for the welfare of our city.

Death of a Pioneer Citizen.

D. E. Crabtree, one of the earliest settlers of Linn county, died at the home of his son, Frank Crabtree, near Crabtree Station, on Saturday, March 2, 1901, at the advanced age of 82 years. The deceased was born in Linn county, Virginia, March 22, 1818. He crossed to Missouri in 1840, and moved to the plains to Oregon in 1846. He was one of the early pioneers who did much to develop this part of Oregon. He lived on the original homestead with his son at the time of his death. He was a member of the M. E. church, and was an upright, respected citizen. His wife died about four years ago. He leaves four children in Linn county, Frank Crabtree, Mrs. Henry Cyrus, James and Marion Crabtree. The remains were laid to rest in the Masonic cemetery, near this city, Sunday, March 3, 1901, and were followed to their last resting place by a large gathering of relatives and friends. The funeral services were held at Crabtree Chapel, at eleven o'clock, by Rev. Sperry, of the Baptist church.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of 'scalp head,'" writes C. D. Ishill of Morgan county, Va. "I tried many Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Aczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Cleers and Itches. Only 25c at Peery & Peery's."

The Revenue Reductions.

As agreed upon by the conference committees of the house and senate the first reduction of revenue under the war bill will be about $41,000,000. People generally will be glad to know that the tax taken off the following things entirely:

The little town of Tarnor is excited over the arrest on Wednesday of Thos. Zarnswalt, a blacksmith, of that place, charged with recent, the victim being his 15 year-old daughter, Bertin. The family formerly lived at Astoria, and consists of husband, wife and two daughters. The wife declares when making the complaint, that her husband had been criminally intimate with the eldest daughter since the latter was eleven years old, and that she, the wife and mother, had known of it for the past several years, but for from lodging a complaint. During the past year the husband had abstained from his criminal practices, but had attempted to renew them on Tuesday night, when he met with resistance, with the result that the wife and daughters left the house, and only Wednesday the husband was arrested.
