A NEW ACCOUNT BOOK

Of Particular Interest to Threshermen and Farmers. Russell & Co., of Portland, Ore., the largest dealers in machinery on the Pacific Coast, have just issued at considerable expense a neat and very complete account book for up-to-date threshermen, etc. The books are for free distribution, and all people who want them should write immediately to Russell & Co., Portland, Ore.

Police Hard to Dismiss. A New York police commissioner declared that it was easier to hang a man for murder than to dismiss a policeman. "Last year," he said, "the board had to pay out $130,000 in back salaries to men who had been reinstated by the courts."

FITS Permanently Cured. No fit or nervousness after the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Anti-Automobile Law. Denver has an ordinance which prohibits operating an automobile at a speed greater than six miles an hour, and employs a mounted policeman to enforce it.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease, if not at first, it very soon becomes so. The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system. Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. T. A. Williams, a leading druggist merchant of Spartanburg, S. C., writes: "For years I had a severe case of nasal Catarrh, with all the disagreeable effects which belong to that disease, and which make life painful and unendurable. I used all the medicines prescribed by leading physicians and suggested by numerous friends, but without getting any better. I then began to take S. S. S. and I had the desired effect. I had cured my Catarrh in only eight days after using eight boxes of S. S. S. I am now in my opinion the only person who has cured his Catarrh by the use of S. S. S."

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines. If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CROOK PERSONATES A GIRL

Nebraska Hotel Clerk Fell in Love and Wanted to Marry Him. Denver, Col., "Dear Mr. Crawford: There is no law which permits two men to marry to be impossible for me to consent to become your wife. You will find all the evidence of my womanly charms which so attracted you, as well as the 'form' which you so admired in my room upstairs. I am sorry to blast your fondest wishes, beg to remain your sister."

"Minnie Swift." That was the reply which Harry R. Crawford, night clerk of the Midway hotel at Kearney, Neb., received from his lady love at the Windsor hotel in Denver when anticipating an acceptance of his offer of marriage. Behind the sarcastic little note is the story of a shrewd little hunk game.

Last November a handsome, hazel-haired young woman appeared at the Midway hotel in Kearney, Neb., and was hired as waitress by Landford Cassey. She said her name was Minnie Swift and that she was trying to care for herself, as her mother was an invalid and dependent for support upon her only brother, who was a struggling mining operator at Cripple Creek.

She had many admirers, among them W. S. Weaver, a cattle buyer from Wyoming. After three weeks she asked for leave to stay at home for a few days. Next evening a slender young man registered at the Midway hotel as Arthur J. Swift, Cripple Creek, Colo. Harry R. Crawford, night clerk, asked if he was related to Minnie Swift.

"She's my sister," answered the young man. "Do you know her?" When he learned that Minnie was a waitress at the hotel he inquired eagerly about her, and obtaining her address went away. The following morning he brought a note from Minnie asking permission to stay at home while her brother was in town. On the afternoon of the fifth day he asked Mr. Cassey to send a draft for "only $250."

The proprietor couldn't, but W. S. Weaver was only too happy to accommodate his sweethearts' brother, who had to leave town that night. Next day Minnie Swift returned to work. The draft was protested. Minnie cried and said that there must be some mistake. That her brother was in Denver closing a mining deal. Weaver, being unable to go, sent Clerk Crawford with the girl to Denver to find Arthur Swift and rectify the error. Weaver paid the expenses of the trip. Crawford promised him an answer next morning. In the morning Crawford found the note given above. He went to the room adjoining his, which was occupied by the girl. On the floor was a corset, a wig of yellow hair, powder, rouge and curling irons. Crawford notified the police and went home.

GIFT TO THE NATION

Agricultural Department's Collection of New Economic Plants. The Department of Agriculture at Washington is now putting into shape a collection of new economic plants and vegetables which are expected to prove of great value to the farmers and gardeners of the country. The collection was made by Barbour Lathrop, formerly of Chicago, who has spent two years' time and thousands of dollars of his own money on the project.

Two years ago Mr. Lathrop left New York, taking with him as an expert botanist David G. Fairchild, who was assigned for the purpose by the Department of Agriculture at Washington. At the time of his selection Mr. Fairchild was in charge of the section of seed and plant introduction.

During the two years which have elapsed the party has visited almost every part of South America, Europe, Africa and Asia, to say nothing of the islands at which they have made stops. Everywhere they have gone they have carefully investigated the regular crops of the farmers of the country, and have purchased seeds and plants of such species as they thought might be introduced into the United States with advantage. Altogether 450 different purchases have been sent to the Agricultural Department, and experiments are already well advanced with some of them. Among those from which great results are expected are the Alexandrian clover from Egypt, which is intended as a late fodder crop for irrigated lands in California and Arizona; the seedless grape from Padua, Italy, intended for the seedless raisin industry of the Colorado desert region; Egyptian cotton, which is now being tested by over 100 experimenters in the South; and a series of East Indian yams, one of which is said to be far superior to the potato in flavor.

Where It a Test Failed. Sir William Harcourt pleaded guilty to absent-mindedness and tells a story against himself. He suspected a man servant of stealing money and at last resolved to set a trap. Taking a handful of gold coins, he laid them down on his writing desk and went out. Presently he sent this servant to the room to fetch some article. When John had returned he promptly went to his room to see if the coins had been touched. On the table, in the place where he had left them, were gold coins. But were there as many as he had left? He did not know, for he had neglected to count them before he had laid them down. "By this incident you see," said Sir William, in telling the story, "that I was born to be a chancellor of the exchequer."

Some people are enthusiastic in accepting invitations, because they figure that they will save that much by eating away from home.

A VERY PROMINENT MAN

Owes Health and Happiness to Pe-ru-na.

Very respectfully, M. W. Howard, Congressman Howard's home address is Fort Payne, Ala. Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal, almost omnipresent. It is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure coughs, to check catarrh out of its victims. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., for a free catarrh book.

IN BED FOR YEARS

DECLARED A HOPELESS INVALID BY LEARNED PHYSICIANS.

Restored to Perfect Health and Strength by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A Most Wonderful Cure.

Of the many remarkable cases which have recently occupied the attention of the medical world and of the public at large, none more strikingly illustrates the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than the recovery of Mrs. Jennie Tuttle, who, after two years' confinement to her bed, was restored to perfect health and strength. Mrs. Tuttle, who lives at the corner of Clinton and Market streets, Grand Rapids, Mich., tells the following story:

"I had been flat on my back in bed for two years and the doctors had given me up as a hopeless case. They had resorted to every remedy known to the profession and had even subjected me to the tortures of five surgical operations. My trouble was due to change of life and I grew weaker and weaker until I became helpless and unable to leave my bed. A nurse and four physicians attended me. One box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People gave me great relief and after using them for three months I was a well woman, having been able to leave my bed the sixth week after commencing the treatment. I can state that the cure was complete and permanent as it is now three years since I used them."

"One box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People gave me great relief and after using them for three months I was a well woman, having been able to leave my bed the sixth week after commencing the treatment. I can state that the cure was complete and permanent as it is now three years since I used them."

"I have recommended the pills to several of my relatives. My mother-in-law, who is 72 years old, took them for general debility, and they soon produced a very marked improvement in her condition. I wish that the thousands of women who are afflicted as I have been may know of this remedy which has saved my life, and given me health and strength."

Signed, MRS. JENNIE TUTTLE. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of August, 1901. B. F. HARRINGTON, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

The Doctor's Order. Mother (an invalid)—Johnny, don't you think I ought to punish you for being so bad? Johnny (aged 5)—No mamma. You know the doctor said you was not to indulge in any violent exercise.

In Mourning. Butcher—Leg o' Mutton? Ye'm. Mrs. De Rigger—And let be off a black sheep. If you please. We're in mourning, you know.—Philadelphia Record.

Change of Name

Mrs. Greene—I suppose the 'Chit-lings are awfully stuck up since they got that money from Mrs. Chittling's uncle? Mrs. Gray—Not so much as one might have supposed, but I notice that when they have mince-omeg on the table they call it croquettes. It used to be plain hash.—Boston Transcript.

After the Consultation. Patient—Now, doctor, what's the matter with me, anyway? The Head Consulting Physician—My dear sir, do you suppose that if we knew what was the matter with you, we would have decided to hold a post-mortem?—Harper's Bazar.

Quick Exit. "Mr. Lew told me that he was a Yale man. Do you know what class he was graduated from?" "From the sophomore class."—Harlem Life.

A Hopeless Case. "It's no use, Chumleigh never will have any more." "Why? What has he done now?" "Paid me $10 he owed me right in front of my tailor."

Her Definition. "What is your definition of satire?" "Satire," said Miss Cayenne, "is something that compels you to laugh against your will in order to let it appear that you are not angry."—Washington Star.

New Industry in Australia. The culture of the olive has recently been introduced into South Australia and Victoria, and good crops of fruit are now being obtained, yielding an excellent oil. The industry bids fair to become an important one.

Her Pointed View. Chappie (blame)—Don't you think society is an empty thing? Miss Fuller—I think there are lots of 'empty things in society.—Smart Set.

Mashed a "Masher." Two of the young women, pretty ones and well dressed, playing at one of the theaters boarded a car last night for the theater and sat quietly talking. A pretty young thing opposite began to stare, smile, make eyes and try his best to make a hit. Suddenly the older girl began in a loud "Oh, did I tell you about the man on the car last night? He sat opposite me, and tried all kinds of ways to make my acquaintance, and was such a nuisance I wished his mother was there to take him away. Everybody in the car, who had watched things for some time, grinned appreciatively, and the would-be gallant blushed, looked very uncomfortable and got out at the next stop. The two girls laughed, then resumed their personal talk, and when they reached the theater got out quietly. Everybody in the car wanted to cheer them.—Boston Herald.

THE COST'S THE THING.

Not the Maxim that Was Impressed on Our Small Girl. Once upon a time a long while ago when the writer was young and vainglorious and occasionally expatiated to some of her small companions upon the cost of her wearing apparel or the number of teaspoons her mamma possessed, she was reprimanded severely for these indiscretions. "Little ladies do not boast," she was told sententiously.

After a while she came firmly to believe this because of its endless repetitions and so she was often surprised when quondam friends confided in her the enormous amount they spent annually in dress or the size of the turkey they had for their Christmas dinner.

Times, as the dogmatist so aptly remarked, are changed now, however, and ostentation is the order of the day, says a writer in the Baltimore News.

Perhaps this is the fault of the newspapers. Perhaps some hungry reporter searching for available "copy" and fluffing it in the florist's bills for a big wedding may be primarily to blame, but at all events the marriage of two young people of wealth is nowadays a ceremony of such ostentation as to amount to vulgarity.

The charms of face or character of the bride, the good qualities of the groom are passed over lightly in order that there may be plenty of space to estimate the cost of the various details.

The amount of money that the presents represent, the capital represented by those who are invited, the cost of the trousseau, of the carriages, of the flowers and the supper are all set down with great accuracy and added with much precision. When the total reaches into the millions the nuptials are announced to be a success and the young couple are supposed to have entered the matrimonial state under the happiest auspices.

There is no effort made to conceal the fact that money is the most interesting thing about the pair and the occasion.

Perhaps these people are to be pitied. Perhaps, as was said before, the newspaper men break in and steal information about special trains and orchids and trifles of that sort that the families yearn to keep secret. But, however that may be, the writer never recalls that Miss So-and-so received twelve ropes of pearls, valued at $500,000, that she doesn't think of the old maxim of the nursery days, "Little ladies do not boast," and wish that it could be handed on to the feminine young and old of American society.
