Save Two From Death. "Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mr. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who has Consumptive in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well."

Good Butter Month. May was a busy month at the Albany creameries. At the Albany company's creamery the receipts were 317,457 pounds of milk and 21,658 pounds of butter fat, considerable of an increase over May of last year.

EDITORIAL HASH

A few days ago we read of the death of a man who had resided in Oregon thirty years. He was a former. Ever since he arrived at the age of twenty one he had been a hard worker. Was there a circus in town he and his family could not find time to go. He could be seen on the Fourth of July working, while the neighbors went to some picnic, or to town to hear the eagle-scream and cannon boom. He arose at 4 a. m. and worked as long as he could see. He amassed a competency. He was long on dollars, but short on amusements and happiness. He has gone over the divide. He had no pocket in his shroud and consequently took no money with him. Would it not have been better if he had allowed himself a little time for recreation? Would it not have been a good scheme for him to have gone to the coast or mountains for a week's vacation once or twice each summer? While he should be diligent in business we do not believe that we should be slaves to it. We shall be a long time dead, and would better extract some pleasure out of life from day to day. We have no promise of the future. While we live, let us live.—Exchange.

Just at the present time the Albany papers are having it up and down about that big pile of money that the county borrowed from Albany banks. The Democrat says that a good deal more than the amount borrowed is due the county from the taxpayers, and if this was paid in the county would not have to borrow money with which to pay its state taxes. This may be the route, and if it is the people themselves have within themselves the remedy for the trouble. Those who owe taxes should settle them as promptly as they come due, and if all would do this there would be no cause to borrow money and pay out the people's cash for interest. Those who loan money cannot do so without interest, and interest soon eats a big hole in a purse, no matter who owns the purse.

Even now the politicians are getting their fighting clothes on, and before the robins nest again, as it were, there will be all kinds of political war paint spread nether and yore. The two old parties are getting their britches up, and the socialists are thinking how nice it would be to keep those big chairs in the county offices warm, and we are told that the populists are dying hard.

It is little early to make even a prediction, but we'll wager a few shoeners—small ones—that we can name the winners.

Our people are still living in hopes that that railroad rumor will turn out to be a reality—and we are given to understand by parties who claim to know that it's a go. All we have to say is that if it does go we will withdraw our offer to sell our delinquent list for fifty cents on the dollar, and stay right here and print THE NEWS every week for $1.50 per year in advance, payable in money—amount unlimited—cord wood or potatoes.

Lebanon has a damage suit on its hands as the result of a defective sidewalk, and right here it might be wise for Seaside to take a look about the city and see if there are not some walks here which might be the cause for trouble and expense if someone should fall through them and peel off a little of the cuticle of the lower anatomy. Damage suits are expensive things even when you win, and doubly so when the other fellow wins.

An exchange says that if a newspaper man knew how many knocks he received behind his back he would adopt another calling. Not so. The newspaper man who succeeds expects to be maligned by every lawbreaker, swindler, and hypocrite, every carping critic, and every lover of notoriety who is ignored and in fact by all persons who do not agree with him in public and private matters.

The French Ambassador to Turkey renewed his demand recently for the settlement of France's long-pending claim—and the Sultan paid the money. The Ambassador escaped heart failure at the moment, and there are hopes that, with care, he may finally recover almost entirely from the shock.

Lord Kitchener doesn't want any more reinforcements in South Africa. Generally speaking, he has all he can do to keep the troops he already has there out of trouble.

THE HOME GOLD CURE.

An Impetuous Treatment by Which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Nervous Diseases, No Weakness of the Nerves, A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not a weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by perpetual or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for stimulants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without pain, dizziness or loss of time from business by this wonderful "Home Gold Cure" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of hundreds of cases. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how long a drinker. Our records show the marvellous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, energetic and upright men. "Swear your passions!" This remedy is in no sense a nostrum, but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this precious remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "Home Gold Cure" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will, do not see any reason for improvement. Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "Home Gold Cure" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing it within the reach of everybody. Treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians. Also requested without extra charge. Best prepared by any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. E. 625 Grand Ave. S. E. Cor. 23rd and 23rd Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

All correspondence strictly confidential.

Some Remarks by the Way. If you won't vote, don't kick after it's over.

The difference between an old maid and an old bachelor is their sex.

The boy that runs away from home and comes back rich never gets a whipping, no difference how he made the money.

You may fall in bad company, in debt, in the gutter, and still recover, but when you fall in love with one of these wamp-wamp-ed society belles your ruin is assured.

We often wonder why it is that advertisement pictures of men's shoes do not include the leg in the picture. It seems to us there is no reason for discriminating against your character to the devil and your pocketbook to your wife. You may save something.

The girl that keeps so tight that she can't stoop to pick up a pin, has no right to ensure a young man for smoking cigarettes—and smoking cigarettes is the lowest thing a man can do.

If you need a manager to look after your affairs and handle your business successfully, the place to find him is around some saloon. You will find him there telling how somebody else's business ought to be run to make it a success.

Some men will punch their cheeks with tobacco so the juice runs down their chin and feels awfully good, but if they happen to find a hair in the gutter it mostly kills them. They stay out until midnight, and their wives don't know where they are, but if their meals are not on time they raise hell generally.

In Ohio, last week, a girl strolled into church wearing red bloomers, and was arrested for breaking up religious gathering. It seems as though bloomers in the Ohio church affect the people like the shaking of a red rag at an enraged "gentleman brawler."

It is easy enough to forgive when you are quite sure it is the most provoking thing you can do.

It is hard for a man's pride to take that he has not enough brain to do more than attend to his own business.

Being hated is often useful. Many a man has failed in love, politics and business because there was no one to abuse him at the right time.

No man should ever make excuses to a woman who loves him. Let him say he is sorry and loves her, and she will make the excuses and accept them, too.
