Have you ever thought how difficult it was to find an unbroken family? Most of us are fragments of families here and there, struggling as best we may. We think of father mother and relatives, now scattered like the mists of the morning. There is something in this that makes us forget each other's welfare when we become seperated. How often do we write to a brother or sister? We dare to say if we sit down to count the days, it has been months, and perhaps years. Once in a while a letter passes telling of the old love, and to be forgiven for not writing sooner, and then a long silence. A telegram is handed you; your fingers tremble as you tear open the envelope; you read mother or sister died on such a day. You go away by yourself and shed a few scalding tears and regret a thousand tims is your negligence to the dear ones. It is now too late to do better by that mother or sister in the days to come. This great broad world gets too far apart. The duties of life so thoroughly absorb our time that we forget things that should be remembered.

The World Almanac for 1902 gives a carefully revised list of the millionairs of this country, and their addresses—a list by the way which will no doubt be worked rather hard by solicitors and others, now that it has been published. It is not contended of course that this is absolutely accurate. It makes the number of millionairs 3,646, while the New York Herald's report makes it nearly 4,000. New York state leads with 994; then follows Pennsylvania with 309; Massachusetts with 313; Illinois with 275; Ohio 162; Missouri 161; Michigan 111; California 110; Maryland 106. Dropping to the other end, North Dakota boasts but one solitary millionaire, and Arizona New Mexico, Wyoming, South Dakota and Arkansas only two apiece. The District of Columbia with 49 has by far the largest number of rich men in proportion to its inhabitants. This is because it has been adopted for residence purposes by people of wealth from other parts of the country.

As far as it can do so the Chiago Tribune makes a specialty of keeping an account of murders, hangings and lynchings in this country. It reports that in 1901 there were 118 legal executions—one less than 1900. There were also for the year 135 lynchings—20 more than 1900, of which 121 occurred in the south and 14 in the north as compared with 107 in the south and 8 in the north in 1900. The number of negros lynched last year was 107 the same number as in 1900. Of these 39 were lynched for murder, the same as in 1900, and 19 for criminal assault as against 18 in 1900. There were fewer lynchings last year in Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia, but more in Alabama, Tennessee and Texas. These figures bring out a fact that should be noticed at least once a year. The number of negros lynched every year for murder is more than twice as great as the number lynched for criminal assault.

There is no provision for the duties of the third clerk on the first election board, which is the board working during the day receiving votes. The third clerk, so far as can be ascertained, has nothing to do on the day of election but sit around and look pleasant. He could, of course, be used to relieve one of the other clerks when one becomes tired. The third clerk on the night shift, however, will have all he can attend to.

The dispatches announce that after praying for forty years for a baby, a New Jersey couple placed a small want "ad" in a newspaper, and that same night a bouncing boy was left on their door step. Prayer is all right if you are not in a hurry, but for quick results use printer's ink.

Under manufacturing industy the Census Bureau has listed the making of newspaper. There are 15,-300 newspaper offices in the country employing 95,000 workers and paying an aggregate of $60,000,000.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility, writes F. J. Green of Lancaster, N. H., No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Citters which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. An Author Speaks.

The late Charles Dudley Warner combination of salt sea bathing, blue sunlit skies, pure mountain air and pretty women and happy children. The only transcontinental line passing directly through Salt Lake City is the Rio Grande System. It is also the "Scenic Line of the World." No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. All agents sell through tickets to the east by way of the Rio Grande lines. Send for pamphlets to Geo. W. Heintz, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Salt Lake City.

Under False Pretenses.

A man in the north part of the state is raising chickens and obtaining money under false pretenses. He made his coop air tight and put curtains at the windows. At noon he draws the curtains making the hen house perfectly dark, so that the biddies go to roost and at 1 o'clock he raises the curtains letting the light in. The hens think another day has dawned and proceed to lay another egg. It is a darn mean trick, equal to the man who put green spectacles on his horse and then fattened it on rye straw. The green spectacles made the poor horse think it was hay.—Stolen.

Having a Run On Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Between the hours of eleven o'clock a. m. and closing time at night on Jan. 25 1901, A F Clark, druggist Glade Springs, Va., sold twelve bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I have never handled a medicine that sold better or gave better satisfaction to my customers." This remedy has been in general use in Virginia for many years, and the people there are well acquainted with its excellent qualities. Many of them have testified to the remarkable cures which it has effected. When you need a good reliable medicine for a cough or cold, or attack of the grip, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are certain to be more than pleased with the quick cure which it affords. The Shasta Route.

In going over the famous "Shasta Route" of the Southern Pacific Co., the traveler ever finds something new to excite his admiration and interest. Starting at Portland one traverses the whole length of the Willamette Valley, the gem of the Northwest, Mt. Hood, Mt. Jefferson, and the Three Sisters and other snow-capped peaks are kept in sight for hours. The prunes, peaches, apples and other fruits are a delight in themselves. The crossing of the great mountain barrier between Oregon and California reveals the grandest mountain scenery in the United States. The wonderful array of towering mountains, and gorges into which we gaze from dizzy heights, forest clad mountain slopes streching up to the line of perpetual snow, and the foaming mountain streams dashing fiercely down deep canons, now and then stopping for a short rest in some quiet pool. After a days enjoyment of old Mt. Shasta, the finest peak on the continent, we drop rapidly down the canon of the Sacramento to the broad plains of the Sacramento Valley in California, and thence through vineyards and orchards to San Francisco.
