"SEIN" THINGS.

Oh, my hair in terror bristles and my knees together knock!
And I shrink in mortal terror as I walk around the block!
For the candidate in ambush waits for me to come along,
And he'll pounce upon his victim with the old, old song!

Oh, my days are full of horror and at night I'm "sein" things!
Voting booths, election cards and ranting candidates with wings!
Yes, the vision of the candidate with cloven hoof and prong,
Comes to haunt my fevered dreaming with the old, old song!

Speed election day, kind Providence! and when the horror's o'er,
If I'm able, tears of thankfulness and happiness I'll pour;
For I'd rather see the candidate than a Chinese dinner gone,
Than the candidate's rendition of the old, old song!

We publish this week the announcement of James Elkins, republican nominee for county treasurer. Mr. Elkins is well known in the Santiam country as a pioneer of '52; a man who needs no extended comments as to his good business ability, nor as to his integrity and honorable demeanor, nor to his known agreeable social ways with whom he meets all regardless of their politics. Mr. Elkins was a candidate last election for treasurer, and although defeated he was the foremost on his ticket, near one hundred votes. He did not seek the nomination this year, but his party desired to give him another chance for election, in which event to better his financial condition, and was nominated by acclamation. He was county clerk two terms—'92 to '96—and was considered by the old pioneers of all parties one of the most competent and obliging officers old Linn has ever had.

The Review, published at Jefferson, Marion county, has this to say regarding Scio's candidate for county recorder: S. P. Munkers, democratic nominee for recorder of Linn county is a man in every way qualified for the position. He comes of a pioneer Linn county family, is held in the highest esteem by all who know him, and his election is conceded. The people of that county will find him an efficient, accommodating official.

A man will go down to the gates of death without a murmur; he'll let him crack his thumb with the hammer and he'll fill the air with imprecations that bring the blush of shame to the cheek of a profane parrot four blocks away.

The Salem Journal will support Geo. E. Chamberlain for governor and J. E. Godfrey for state printer, otherwise the regular republican state ticket.

Don't fail to register and do so right away, too, as the books will close at 5 o'clock in the evening of May 15, and then it will be too late. Register at once.

Our weather prophets promise us some better weather during the next month, in which we shall be truly thankful.

Supreme Court.

Three decisions of the Oregon supreme court are as follows: In an instrument once a mortgage is always a mortgage, and the parties cannot divest it of its character and treat it as a deed, so as to convey title, by any subsequent verbal understanding or agreement.

It is the duty of a master to give an unskilled servant warning when exposing him to a dangerous service and to instruct him how to avoid injury.

A dedication of roads made by entering a plat thereof in the county records will be presumed to be a dedication for the general public, unless otherwise shown, and this applies where land in the country has been cut up into small tracts and sold, as well as where city property has been cut up into lots and blocks.

All Eyes On Oregon.

It is the same old story—"all eyes are on Oregon." They have been on this state before. When in 1898 this state gave 10,000 plurality for Geor. the east felt so sure of Oregon remaining in the republican ranks that most of the government staves has been going to doubtful states. If Oregon should not elect a republican governor this year there would be considerable recognition of this state in the way of appointments, fair appropriations, etc., between June 2 and 1904. Ohio occasionally goes democratic in state election as a hint to the national republican administration. Pennsylvania can always be counted upon as staunchly republican, and gets the peel of the orange that doubtful New York sucks almost dry.

BROWNSVILLE BANK ROBBED.

Entered at Noon While the Cashier Was at Dinner—$1800 Was Taken.

The Bank of Brownsville was robbed Monday at 12 o'clock noon of about $1800. While Cashier J. H. Glass, was at dinner entrance being gained through a rear door and window. Mr. Glass on closing the bank at noon placed the cash in the vault which is burglar proof, but failed to lock it, only locking the inner door.

The robbers used a small piece of steel, easily smashing the lock and gaining admittance to the cash, but in their haste failed to get all the money leaving a larger amount than they secured.

Indications point to the fact that at least three were engaged in the robbery. The police were notified and soon had W. O. Tyeer and Thomas Vennum under arrest on suspicion of having been connected with the crime and were arraigned in that city Tuesday and entered a plea of not guilty. District Attorney J. N. Hart and A. A. Tusting conducted the prosecution and J. H. Wyatt the defense. The prosecution introduced testimony showing that the defendants had been seen in the vicinity of the bank about noon. The defendants did not introduce testimony, but waived examination and were bound over in $2000 bail to await the action of the circuit court.

Some Hints as to Summer Styles.

Many plaited skirts are worn in a large diversity of materials ranging from mull to broadcloth.

Two lovely old-style fashions happily revived, and reminders of the Louis periods of dress, are the flion and the sask.

The bishop-shaped sleeve still holds its own but is much increased in size, to follow the present requirements of fashion.

The preference for one-tone color is increasing and the combination of several different colors on one costume is not often seen.

The old fashion of piping and cording edges of ruffles, boucans and other trimmings has been revived, and most successfully.

One really new note in the summer gowns is the return to favor again of the full-gathered ruffle, put on with a small heading for a skirt garniture.

Taffets still seems to hold first place, and nothing can quite fill its many uses, not only as a dress material but also as a trimming for other material—Mrs. Ralston, in the May Ladies' Home Journal.

Wine of Cardui is the guardian of a woman's health and happiness from youth to old age. It helps her safely into womanhood, it sustains her during the trials of pregnancy, childbirth and motherhood, making labor easy and preventing flooding and miscarriage. It gently leads her through the dangerous period known as the change of life.

WINE OF CARDUI cures leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, and menstrual irregularity in every form. It is valuable in every trying period of a woman's life. It reinforces the nervous system, acts directly on the genital organs and is the finest tonic for women known. Ask your druggist for a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

Baltimore, Ala., July 11, 1901. I am using Wine of Cardui and find it a different woman altogether. Several ladies here keep the medicine in their homes all the time. I have three girls and they are using it with me.

For advice and literature, address, getting the Wine of Cardui, The Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

An Author Speaks.

The late Charles Dudley Warner—author and traveler—while bathing in Great Salt Lake remarked to a friend that in all his travels he never before saw such a glorious combination of salt sea bathing, blue smoky or wraiths of forest, inland. All agents sell through tickets to the east by way of the Rio Grande lines, and for prospecting, to Geo. W. Hellett, Agent, General Passenger Agent, Salt Lake City.

What This Folks Needs

Is a greater power of digesting and assimilating food. For them Dr. King's New Life Pills were wonderful. They tone and regulate the digestive organs, and drive out poisons from the system, enrich the blood, improve appetite, make healthy flesh. Only 25¢ each Peery's Pills.

Said a Washington society woman recently, according to the Star: "I know for really did not know how perfect."

By award the tackling of the husband's title to the wife's name appeared until one night last week, when she attended some kind of a charitable function arranged by the pupils and teachers of one of the city schools where a 12-year-old daughter is enrolled. It was introduced right and left as "Mrs. Senator's" and "Mrs. Judge's." Mrs. General's X, and other "title" women. The climax was capped, however, by my young daughter, who brought me a very pretty, personable young girl whom she introduced as Miss Janitor X. Before I recovered from the shock of this title an elderly woman appeared on the scene, whom my daughter immediately presented as "Mrs. Janitor's." Mrs. Janitor X smiled a little as she acknowledged the introduction, then remarked in a perfectly self-possessed manner: "My husband is the janitor, not I. It is not old how children say the names of their fathers." Which was the manner of a slip at me, though unintended. But, after all, if it is "Mrs. General," why not also "Mrs. Janitor?" Why not?

Elks' Teeth as Money. Elks' teeth are becoming the financial medium of the Jackson Hole country, just south of the Yellowstone cañon. They are used in exchange for "best goods" by the saloon men of the region, and in this manner many teeth have accumulated, and liquor dealers are buying up large sums from their sales to jewelers and agents who dispose of the tusks to members of the Elk fraternity. Every four tusks represent the death of one bull elk. One elk do not have tusks—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Humane Finer at Chicago. Stray dogs and cats are to be cared for in Chicago during the coming winter, but says the Chicago Record-Herald, the apparatus will have to hustle for themselves.

An old railroad traveler says he has observed that the louder the gong is beaten at a dining station, the less there is to eat.

SOCIAL FALSEHOODS.

A Delicate Subject Discussed—in Truth Alone is Righteousness. This subject often is somewhat misunderstood. Dangerous although every departure from absolute truth may be, circumstances certainly alter cases. For instance, when a lady who does not wish to receive callers instructs her maid to say that she is "out," although she is in a house, or he is invited, because it is understood generally that the reply need not mean absent from the premises, but may mean that one is not at home to visitors. It is better to say that one is "engaged," and this expression is coming into common use. Yet there is no falsehood in the other social circles, where the meaning of such terms is known, and more than there is falsehood in speaking of the resolution of the sun around the earth. There are occasions, also, when one may diverge from exact truth in the sense of not telling the whole of it. Sometimes needless or actually injurious questions are asked by some one who has no right to the knowledge which a correct reply would convey. When to answer fully would betray a trust, yet when not to answer at all or to evade would be equivalent to declaring everything. Then, although no truth may be made which is not true for as it is, or he is invited, because it is understood generally that the reply need not mean absent from the premises, but may mean that one is not at home to visitors. It is better to say that one is "engaged," and this expression is coming into common use. Then, although no truth may be made which is not true for as it is, or he is invited, because it is understood generally that the reply need not mean absent from the premises, but may mean that one is not at home to visitors. It is better to say that one is "engaged," and this expression is coming into common use. Yet there is no falsehood in the other social circles, where the meaning of such terms is known, and more than there is falsehood in speaking of the resolution of the sun around the earth. There are occasions, also, when one may diverge from exact truth in the sense of not telling the whole of it. Sometimes needless or actually injurious questions are asked by some one who has no right to the knowledge which a correct reply would convey. When to answer fully would betray a trust, yet when not to answer at all or to evade would be equivalent to declaring everything.
