A Sorosis Lesson

WHAT is a fit in an ordinary shoe is not a fit in Sorosis; They do not stretch. The shoe is built to fit its counterpart in the human foot. The lesson taught us by experience is that a woman once perfectly fitted in Sorosis never changes. She is more than satisfied; in fact has practically her own private last.

"The Shoe That Sells the World Around."

Judge Boise, of Salem, took the testimony in the case of John J. Hannah vs. Emma G. Hannah for divorce, granting the divorce on the record of the defendant being in the penitentiary on a life sentence.

Thursday evening of last week a very pleasant farewell party was given Mrs. M. M. Perry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Coffey. The evening was spent in playing whist, and at a late hour the guests adjourned all having spent a very pleasant evening.

During the past week we have been pretty busy with our job press, having an unusual large amount of job work, especially ladies' visiting cards. Our stock of cards is complete and the demand for our work is proof that it must be satisfactory. The amount of goods disposed of by our merchants during the past week is surprising considering the time of the year. T. S. Coffey sold during the week over $100 worth of hats, new and stylish, while two of our more famous Saturday night of last week said they were completely tired out having been busy from morning till night.

Quite a little thieving has been going on in Salem the past winter, and last week new houses were visited for the third time in the last two months. There is no excuse for any one in a town like Scio, where there is work for all, for being in such circumstances as to have to steal. It is pure carelessness and if the party will keep it up awhile longer we are all pretty sure to find out sooner or later who it is.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture is the mark of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Scott's Emulsion you buy.

SCOTT & BOWNE, CHEMISTS, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 30c. and 50c. all druggists.

John and Frank Dwell are quite sick this week.

Nellie Holt, will leave on Friday evening, she goes to Boston County where she has employment as a teacher.

The farmers in this vicinity are taking advantage of the good weather by planting their spring tending.

W. H. Holt while hauling logs last Tuesday, met with a very painful accident in which one arm was fractured. Henry Crabtree of Scio was at Thomas Wednesday.

Enterprise, Kan. 2-7, 1903.

To the Editor,

I am just leaving for my home in Oregon after a short visit to my old home, Enterprise, where I left under most unhappy circumstances, nearly 21 years ago. I was a small boy then, and known best for my great resources of getting into mischief. My aims were of course the aristocracy of the town. Our crowd was indeed a very exclusive circle, and was extremely hard to get into as many a boy found out.

But when my trouble came upon me the great generosity of my Enterprise friends was proven. They forgot completely that I was "rough" and "tough" and took me into their homes as though I were a Prince instead of the lonely street Arab that I was. And they lavished a world of tenderness on me as only good people can do.

So after receiving their wealth of charity in these years of long ago, once more I have appeared among them and again tasted of their sweet hospitality. No words can portray the great pleasure my visit has been to me. Happy memories of all our boyish sports and pleasures, while of sorrows we had not any. And my coming back has seemed quite like a happy dream.

It has been my misfortune not to have the opportunity to return any part whatever of these friends great kindness. And the very most they will let me do is to merely tell them that they planted a memory in my heart of practical Christian Charity which grown and grown with the lapse of 21 years, whatever my faults may be I trust that ingratitude is not numbered among them. And I pray these good friends of mine will tax me no longer with my burden of indebtedness to them, but that they will quickly allow me to begin to repay my long standing and ever-increasing obligations to them. Then come all of you of Enterprise, and visit us in our Oregon home. This land rich with so much that goes to make life happy. You will soon learn to love the country there as I do. Where the lofty mountains with their eternal snow are seen in the distance. Where such a great number of clear cold and swift running streams are found. Where the soft breeze in the towering fir trees will almost lull you to sleep against your will. Where the green of the foothills and the near mountains is a perpetual beauty, that never grows wearisome, but instead becomes a part of ones life. This is a land in which its rich valleys know no drought, and its people are prosperous and happy. But though living in the midst of such plenty, they yet are poor—that is poor of reputation—for alas they are called "lazy."

But with all this shady reputation of theirs, yet how generous for they will readily share their orchards and their gardens with all their neighbors as free as our good unexcited water.

I must say that I owe a lasting debt of gratitude to the Enterprise Old Fellows. They have given me certain proof of the goodness and fraternity of their great order. may they prosper and grow very strong as they deserve to do.

Now, in conclusion, my dear friends I will again ask you to come and make an extended visit to our ever seen Oregon and to us, that I may show you the spirit of gratitude that fills my heart for my dear old friends of Enterprise.

Yours sincerely and fraternally,

Ross E. Hibler.
