The Benefit of Change.

We are like house plants. We need a change of soil now and then—to be replanted. New scenes, new experiences, new surroundings—change of climate, dry air instead of moist air, sunshine instead of shade. This is sometimes essential to health. There are conditions here at hand that are better than Europe can offer. Take a month or two in California. Plant yourself for a time where there are no irritations, where the hotel is beyond criticism, the landscape pleasing, and where warm sunny weather invites to walks and drives. Pure and dry air, and the increased electric influences of sunshine are vast ly helpful.

You can make this trip at very little expense, and enjoy a ride over the scenic Sierran and Flamingo mountains, which at this time of the year with snow-covered peaks, are unsurpassed for their grandeur.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Over work, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitter. It's a wonderful tonic and effective nerve and the greatest all around medicine for run-down systems. It dispels nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 5c, and satisfaction guaranteed by E. C. Perry, Druggist.

The Socialist.

SALEM, Mar. 9.—R. R. Ryan, who was the Socialist candidate for Governor at the last election, says the Socialists will nominate a candidate for Congressman to succeed the late T. H. Tongue.

It Saved His Leg.

P. A. Danforth of Lathrop, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by E. C. Perry, Druggist.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold deep seated on the lungs, resulting in pneumonia is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner Marion, 1st who was entirely cured by the use of one Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and sneezing so weakened me that I ran down in weight, from 118 to 82 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used one Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of wonderful remedy cured me. Cough, cold, and the congestion of my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. E. C. Perry."

One day the first of the week State Williams while employed in the erection of the new water tower had a narrow escape from death.

The scaffold on which he was working gave way and he fell to the ground, a distance of 35 feet. He is now confined to his bed, having several ribs fractured and his right hip injured. If no internal injuries exist he will recover.

The rumor about the new store at this place when polled down amount to about the following: A corporation with a capital stock of about $50,000 has been formed. Ross E. Hibler and M. C. Gill and Son of this city are among the incorporators. A large department store under the management of Ross E. Hibler will be placed in Seio in the building now occupied by Hickner Bros. The building, which has been purchased by Mr. Hibler will be remodeled and much more space added to it to afford room for the large stock of dry goods, groceries, hardware, and we understand furniture which they will install here.

Hickner Bros. if no suitable building can be secured, will we understand, build a large store building. Mr. Hibler has been in Seio for a good many years and has built up a trade second to none which fact will no doubt contribute largely to the success of the new company.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rex wish to extend their thanks to those friends who so kindly helped them in the sickness and burial of their child.

Died.

At the home of his parents, Mr. Mrs. H. Shelton, in this city, on Monday, March 9th, Otho Clyde Shelton, aged eighteen years seven months and three days.

On the Clyde Shelton was born in Seio on August 6th 1884, and resided in Seio until the time of his death. About four months ago he was taken ill with typhoid fever and for 100 days he never left his bed except on Friday last when he thought he was strong enough to come down town but gave out and had to go back. He was thought to be out of danger until Monday evening when he was taken with an attack of congestion of the lungs, and despite every effort to relieve him he died about 9:29 p. m.

Clyde, as he was familiarly called, was loved by all who knew him and had not one enemy in the community over which his untimely death has cast a deep gloom. He was far advanced in his studies, and in History, Geography and Current Events was considered an authority, from whom his teachers often acquired information, and the future looked very bright for him.

The funeral services were conducted in the Baptist church Wednesday by Rev. Sperry, of Brownsville, after which interment took place in the Masonic cemetery, the remains being followed to their last resting place by a host of sorrowing relatives and friends, whose numbers indicated the respect and love in which he was held while on this earth and the sorrow they feel that one so young and just entering on the threshold of manhood with everything so bright and promising should be called to the great beyond.

Wreaths of beautiful flowers were placed upon the grave by his school-mates and others and were as many beautiful and mute emblems of love from the dear friends left behind.

The bereaved parents and sister have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

Otho Clyde Shelton was born in Seio, Linn County, Oregon, August 6th, 1884. Died in Seio, Oregon, March 9th, 1903, being 18 years, 7 months and 3 days old at the time of his death.

Clyde was taken sick November 14th, 1902, with typhoid fever, and was not out of the house for over 100 days, was out in the sunshine in the afternoon during the warmest days in the last week of February and the first week in March. Seemingly he had recovered from the typhoid fever, but pneumonia or lung fever started in last Saturday from which he grew worse until death came. He had never regained his strength and vitality at any time from the day he first took sick, although he was some improved at times. He had good medical assistance and attention during all his sickness and had good nursing, care and attention by his father, mother, sister and so many kind neighbors and friends and every thing for his comfort and happiness that he asked for during his sickness was given him. He appreciated the kind acts and deeds of all, and we say to our and his kind relatives, neighbors, and friends today, that we appreciate your kind acts, words and sympathy, and may God bless you all, and may you all receive kind treatment and such sympathy when you meet with such afflictions.

Clyde desired to live and obtain a business man's education, and often spoke of going to business college and then he wanted to go where there was life, in business and public enterprise. He was studious in school, always appreciated his teacher and classmates. For a boy of his age he was well informed on all public questions both in foreign countries and the United States. He was a constant reader of good books and good papers, and never cared for books or literature that treated on light or frivolous things of life. He sought and obtained information that was of great lasting worth and value to himself and others, and especially to his own family in regard to the real things of this life, in the goodness of God and the aims and purposes of Christianity. He was what you would call a mother's boy, as he was with his mother so much and enjoyed so much to converse with the mothers of other families. He loved to associate with small boys and aged men and women, and was a great comfort and enjoyment to his Grandmama Shelton during her last days on earth, and if Clyde was here today to speak to you all he would say to obtain and get the good things out of this life and be a Christian. His father, mother, his sister Audie, his kind attending physician and some of his relatives and friends were at his bedside when he passed away. A few moments before he called papa, mamma and sister Audie to his bedside and said he was going to die, and wanted them to live Christian lives, so we said God bless and save our dear boy, and now he is at rest in a better land.

R. SHELTON AND FAMILY.

The following was read at the funeral services by Mrs. Anna C. Prill:

As I am the only teacher here to whom Clyde went to school, I have been requested to make a few remarks pertaining to his school work. He was only under my instruction a few months in the fall and winter of 1902, after which he was promoted to a higher grade. Except for the last school year, Clyde was in school almost continuously, and would have completed the High School work this year if sickness had not prevented. In the short time Clyde was a pupil of mine, I recognized in him more than ordinary talents along the lines of History, Geography and Current Events and as he went on in his studies, both teachers and pupils learned to look to him for information in political matters and happenings of the day. Morning and noon, as we entered the school building to take up our day's work, we always glanced to the bulletin board and in case any important state, national, or international event had taken place since our last session, we were sure to see written there in a bold, business hand, a brief statement of the event—written by Clyde. To those of us who have been associated with him in school work, the absence of these notes upon the bulletin board have been sadly noted—how sadly—you could only know if you had been with us in the school the last few days. Our principal has truly said that his room has been almost as a death chamber and the same feeling has prevailed throughout the school.

Let us for a few moments compare Clyde's life to a bulletin board on which he has written the deeds of his life. We find written there honor and love to his parents, kind deeds to the aged and to the children, especially to those whom others seemed to slight. We find written there a great desire to obtain an education, to make something great and noble of himself and to be a pride to those near and dear to him. As we, in school, took advantage of and profited by the items Clyde placed upon the bulletin board, let us all, and especially the young, read carefully the entries he has made upon life's bulletin board and feel that we have been made better and nobler by his life among us.

Card of Thanks.

We hereby extend our thanks to all our friends, neighbors and relatives in their kind assistance during the illness, death and burial of our dear son and brother Clyde. May God bless you all and may you receive such assistance and attention when sickness, death and burial comes to you.

A Sorosis Lesson

WHAT is a fit in an ordinary shoe is not a fit in Sorosis; they do not stretch. The shoe is built to fit its counterpart in the human foot. The lesson taught us by experience is that a woman once perfectly fitted in Sorosis never changes. She is more than satisfied; in fact has practically her own private last.
