No More Aid N eeded.

Heppner will not need further aid from outside cities, says the Oregonian. Money enough is in hand to relieve these flood sufferers who required assistance in order to be able to restore their portion of the stricken town and a balance of $7000 is held by the Heppner relief committee to meet further emergencies. In the event this is not required by individuals the town itself will use the money to rebuild bridges, regrade streets and lay sidewalks or make other improvements that were washed away.

A formal statement to this effect was made yesterday to the Portland relief committee by Sheriff E. M. Shutt, of Morrow county. In addition he presented a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Heppner relief committee notifying outside subscribers that no further effort in their behalf was necessary. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, the people of the entire country, and especially of Oregon and the neighboring states, have responded most readily and generously to the assistance of the people of Heppner; and,

Whereas, sufficient funds are now on hand to enable us to successfully cope with the situation here, therefore, be it

Resolved, That our deep and abiding gratitude be conveyed through the press to those who have so kindly and generously assisted us in the time of sorrow and need, and that notice be given to the world that no further assistance will be needed by us.

The two special agents in Portland whose duty it is to examine claims of Indian War Veterans are getting on very rapidly, and a large proportion of the 900 claims have already been approved, says the Telegram. The Pension Commissioner allows the agent a great deal of latitude, as he realizes the difficulty in obtaining positive evidence in cases referring to half a century ago. If, therefore, the aged applicant is unable to find comrades to identify him, the fact that he has been known as an Indian War Veteran for 20 years past by reliable neighbors is considered sufficient proof. This is a more liberal construction of the law than was ever applied before, and the Commissioner of Pensions feels justified in it, in the light of the extreme age of the applicants, many of whom have died since they applied for the $8 per month voted them by Congress a year or so ago. There is a noticeable absence of young widows among the applicants, and those posted on pension matters think that ten years will be about the longest period that Uncle Sam's Indian war pensioners will draw on the treasury in any amount. Most of the men who fought Indians in 1826 passed away before they were accorded recognition by the government.

It pays to be a queen of song. These are some of the ninety-six conditions named in the contract under which Patti is to come to the United States next winter; for sixty concerts she will receive $5,000 for concert and one half the gross receipts above $7000; on the steamer Patti is to have seven rooms for herself and husband, and rooms for her seven servants, twenty-one dogs, an Angora goat and fifty birds. For land travel special trains must be engaged. At every performance the songstress must receive at least three floral pieces of ornate wreaths. The cheapest seats must not be taken. Patti selects her own hotel at the manager's cost and her reception rooms must not be less than 500 square feet. Her private coach must have seven seats and be equipped with cushions, night and day. The program must be three numbers only, two songs and one operatic part. Patti may sing more, but must not be asked to do so. She agrees to go anywhere in the United States except New Orleans.

"What is the pedigree of your cat?" asked a would-be buyer of a breeder. "Well," said the stockman, "all I know about it is that its father gored a book agent to death, tossed a justice of the peace in top of a barn and stood a lightning rod-man on his head in a fence corner. Its mother chased a female lecturer two miles one day. Now if that ain't pedigree enough to ask $3 on you needn't take it."

When we reflect that in ancient times there were neither newspapers or fancy work parties it is wonderful how the news got around.

MAYOR S. TOMLINSON.

WHAT WOODBURN'S EXECUTIVE THINKS OF THE FAMOUS DR. DARRIN.

(Woodburn Independent.)

Those who think that Dr. Darrin, the famous specialist and electric physician, does not perform permanent cures will have their doubts dispelled by hearing what Hon. S. Tomlinson, mayor of Woodburn, says on the subject:

A representative of the Independent called on Mayor Tomlinson Tuesday, and in the course of an interview with this prominent man secured valuable information, although he was very reluctant to go into print.

"Well," said Mayor Tomlinson "in 1891 I had sciatic rheumatism and malaria fever and was treated by different physicians without gaining relief. Dr. Darrin, of Portland was then advertising extensively and like a man going to the court of last resort I went to him. I was in a bad condition and unable to do any work whatever. Before the full course of Dr. Darrin's treatment was over I returned home a new man, and since that time have not been placed in a position where the services of a physician were needed.

That was eleven years ago. Today Mayor Tomlinson is one of the strongest men in the city, possesses a physique that is the envy of his fellow townsmen, and is well known for his capacity for hard work.
