Plenty of sacks at the Jefferson Mills.

The Jefferson Mills keep plenty of sacks on hand at all times.

Rev. W. A. Ewing will preach in the Christian Church at this place on the 5th Sunday. Instead of the regular 4th Sunday of this month.

C. H. Buck pays special attention to ladies and children's hairdressing, and the ladies are invited to call at any time. Prices reasonable.

When you want a physiatrist that is mild and gentle, easy to take and certain to act, always use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all dealers.

At Newport this week Mrs. T. C. Ainsworth arrived from Iowa, was chilled while in bathing, and died within twelve hours. Her body was embalmed and sent to Iowa for burial.

Two new circuit court cases are L. H. McMahen vs. O. C. and B. F. Purdy, to recover money for services as attorney, and C. G. Burkhardt vs. R. M. and Lydia Lewis, to recover real estate on contract for sale.

This week enough work was done on the dam to enable the city water works to get out of the difficulty with the light plant. We cannot least have a little protection now in case of fire without water it was like tempting providence, and if a fire had originated it would have been attended with about the same result as the late Halsey fire.

Last week the county court appointed W. Phillips, who was judged incompetent, to manage the affairs of the bonds. Bonds were placed at $12,000. The mill, Mr. Ewing informs us, will do custom work but will buy no grain. It is also the intention to erect a good substantial dam as soon as the arrangements can be completed.

Mrs. Molle Allen, of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus and grippe in her family and Liver Tablets who she felt an attack coming on. Such attacks are usually caused by indigestion and these Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and ward off the disease. She says that when these tablets may be prevented in the same way. For sale by all dealers.

In a much talked of prize fight at San Francisco Friday evening Jeffries defeated Corbett, knocking him out in the tenth round. Jeffries showed a decided superiority from beginning to end. It was known that Corbett had been in poor condition, but he had improved and that he was in good condition, but the story of the fight indicates that there was a good deal of talk for advertising purposes in order to secure a $60,000 house for the club giving the fight.

Miss Agnes Craft, queen of Albany's Street Fair and Carnival, will leave today for Astoria to attend the Regatta. All the queens of the various fairs in the different country towns this summer have been invited to attend the Regatta as the guest of the Regatta Queen and Queen Agnes will represent this city. All the visiting queens will appear in their robes tomorrow evening at the conclusion of the Regatta.

Mr. Irene Sutherland will accompany Miss Herald as maid of honor.—Tuesday's Herald.

The little town of Halsey, which was recently totally destroyed by the most destructive fire in the history of Linn county, will rebuild. Some of the business houses which were destroyed, will be rebuilt this month. A few of the merchants who were burned out have opened up stores in new buildings or in rapidly constructed buildings, which will serve temporarily. It is the general opinion that the town will rebuild, but it will probably be several years before the business portion of Halsey is as large as it was before the recent fire.

One night last week as Frank Veirras was returning home he fell from the walk in front of the meat market and broke his leg in such a manner that he will be a cripple for life if he doesn't entirely lose the foot. Drs. Brown and Stewart were called and dressed the foot, the bone in the leg protruding through the flesh and being shattered in such a manner that it will never be able to regain its original shape.

By the time the city pays a few thousand dollars damages such traps will stand a good chance of having a railing placed around them.

Special excursion rates on all lines of travel have been arranged for by the management of Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows, and those who wish to go to Albany with the great circus exhibits Thursday, Aug. 27, can do so at very little expense. This will be the only point in this vicinity where the show will exhibit this season, and no one should miss the opportunity to witness it. Ringling Brothers' circus has been the leading annual exhibition of America for years, but the show has never been permitted to rest upon its reputation.

Although it long ago passed the point of competition, every season sees a greater and grander show.

This year's performance is entirely new and includes the performances of 250 wonderful artists in the equestrian, gymnastic, equilibristic, acrobatic and aerial line, together with forty famous clowns and hundreds of lesser lights. Six hundred and fifty horses are used and a numerous trained animal department is presented. The circus this season is greatly enlarged by the spectacular production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, a pantomime presentation of the well known and beautiful historical narrative of the Crusades.

The last monologue has among hundred of features, the only living pair of giraffes, the first baby elephant successfully bred and reared in America, and the only rhinoceros in captivity. There is a gorgeous revival of the Roman hippodromes, and many other spectacles featuring in the great circus.

Circus day comes with a brilliant street parade, three miles in length. Don't fail to see it.

Improvements at Fair Grounds.

The State Board of Agriculture

are making a number of needed improvements at the state fair grounds this year. A new water system will be installed and the water will add much comfort to the exhibitors and campers. More new stalls are being built to better accommodate the large number of exhibitors that are preparing to come to the fair. A large amphitheatre is being built, when finished will be used as a hall where the live stock judging under cover. Many minor improvements are being made on the grounds, and everything is being done to make a visit to the fair a pleasant event and a joy forever.

A LECTURE ON ELECTRICITY.

AN AUTOGRAPH COPY.

The Only Inducement That Sold a Picture for a Hard-Up Man.

The man who undertook to cross the continent "on the hurricane deck of a donkey" and earn his expenses as he went, was sure to have experiences worth something to himself, if not to anyone else. He had photographs made of himself and the donkey. These he sold for 25 cents each. At Yonkers his purse was lost, and his bills were heavy, relates Yonkers' Companion.

"I resolved to ride down to New York and earn my passage home again."

He had to sell them at cost. Next to work.

By one o'clock he had visited every shop, store and Chinese laundry, and was talking hourly to a corner grocer, who sat on a log of mackerel smoking Limburger cheese. I offered a picture for 15 cents, but the reduction in price did not interest him.

"I took not a picture at any price," he declared.

"I took 15 cents of the amount of my hotel bill," I urged. "I am in dire straits."

"His reply was weak, but the cheese was strong enough to help him out. My mental magazine had but a single charge left, and I tried that.

"It isn't worth 15 cents to know a fool when you see one."

"You're right," answered the man, "and if you will still write it on the picture, I buy him."

Electricity commenced his career at the breaking out of creation, with few passengers on board and has continued its course with increasing speed and growing glory down to the present moment. It now travels with the brilliancy and rapidity of the lightning's blaze, and even compels the very lights of speech to speak in a familiar voice to man.

The chariot of science is destined to continue its majestic course, in duration equal with our globe.

Genius is supremely higher than talents, and no man of genius had ever opposed electricity in its wonderful workings.

This shows that it was considered unworthy of doing all that is claimed for it that it would be discarded the same as all worthless things that are cast aside.

Dr. Darrin at the Hotel Revere is an advanced thinker on the application of electricity for the cure of disease and to prove his skill he will demonstrate his skill to the thinking minds that today cures are being performed by this subtle agency, that seemed impossible ten years ago.

Among the many successfully treated may be mentioned ex-Senator George Chamberlain's son of Baker City, who had trouble and general debility; cured and gained 30 pounds.

F. H. Hohn, 217 Commercial street, Salem, catarrh, cured.

J. W. Pace, Jefferson, Or., rheumatism and diabetes cured.

Reuben Lee and wife, Turner, Ore., scatic rheumatism and cough, restored.

Mrs. C. Pfleid, Salem, varicose ulcers on both limbs, cured.

B. Baxter, Ferry street, Salem, tumor cured.

Mrs. Irene Ashford, Albany, Ore., discharging ear, cured.

J. S. Weston, Salem, liver complaint and dyspepsia, cured.

Mrs. Beulah Ross, of Salem, was ill in Albany last week visiting friends.

She formerly lived near here.

She was cured of her recovered health.
