EDITORIAL.

The National Advertiser says:
"More than one hundred cereal foods are upon the market, and apparently all of them doing well—thanks to advertising. Forty years ago one would have been deemed a lunatic who would have thought to advertise oats, wheat, rye, buckwheat or corn meal. The man who first advertised cereals was thought to be fit for Bedlam. Fortunes have been made in crackers, in starch, in almost anything and everything designed to supply the human want or taste. It would seem that nothing is outside the sphere of influence of magic advertising. Water, even, which falls for everybody, water, even, has been advertised over and again to the fortune of those paying the printers' bills!" And another evidence of the success achieved by advertising may be noted in THE NEWS or any other live newspaper —the largest and best stores carry the biggest advertisements. The merchant who offers special inducements to the public never hesitates to make it known; silence is not always due to deep thinking, but more frequently to a lack of something to say.

A California lawyer wrote to the Interior department asking if a man took a timber claim with the purpose of holding it until it could be sold at a reasonable profit, if his patent would be refused and money forfeited in case he proved up, and received the following reply:

"Dear Sir:—Referring to your letter of 29th, ult, relative to the suspension of your timber and stone entry, you are advised that if you made a satisfactory showing that your entry was made for your own use and benefit and there is nothing more to impeach your good faith than the mere fact that you made the entry for investment with intention to sell the land at some future indefinite time, and in this manner realize a profit on the money invested, this office holds that such an entry is not made in violation of the law and should be passed to patent. Very Respectfully, J. H. FIMPLE, Acting Com.

An exchange of recent date tells of a boy entering the car and leaving the door open behind him, when an old man sitting behind him thundered: "Was you brought up in a barn? Shut that door." The boy did as he was bid, but the tears were seen to trickle down his cheeks "There, there, never mind, lad, of course you wasn't brought up in a barn That's just it," blubbered the boy.
I was, and every time I see a jackass it brings it all back to me."

This story is on a branch conductor A traveling man boarded the train at Mexico early one morning, en route to Jefferson City, only a few hours run and complained about the slow time the train was making. With a look that would crack ice the conductor said: You had better get off and walk if the speed of this train does not suit you. The traveling man said he would but his folks didn't expect him until train time."

Boone (La) Standard—It is reported that a fellow, who was last week looking for the seat of trouble on one of the farmers telephone lines out of Villisca, walked into a house and discovered a lady sitting in a rocking chair—busily knitting—and with the telephone receiver tied to the back of her chair, where she could hear all that was being said over the line. She was provoked when censured, adding by means of defense that she paid for what she got and was bound to get her money's worth.

A Railroad Incident.

An amusing incident is related of the "Flyer" While coming down Natron Tuesday morning the train moved so rapidly that a can of cream was jarred from the express car and lost just before reaching Rowland. When its absence was discovered a search was instituted back up the track and the can finally located in the ditch. It was carried to Rowland by the trainmen and again placed aboard the Flyer, and we trust reached its destination without being churned completely into butter. This caused a little delay but that cuts no figure with the "Flyer" She has all the time there is anyway.—Brownsville take leave of Dr. Darrin. He reports that he is about cured of a distressing stomach, heart liver trouble.

Mr. G. L. Oxford, of Brownsville, Or., was in town Saturday on his way to Montana. It will be remembered that he was cured of almost total deafness by Dr. Darrin last June. He can now hear as well as ever in his life.

Mr. P. A. Racey, of Jefferson, Or.,

FINAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Albany Heald.

In this issue of the Herald appears an announcement that will be of vital interest to many readers. It is that of Dr. Darrin, to the effect that he will stay in Albany to November 15. After that date he will be in Corvallis, Nov. 16 to Dec. 1 only, and the date is final. Dr. Darrin has now been at the Rever House for over six months, during which time he has treated patients from the surrounding country and parts of the state. Many of these are among the leading people, and they cheerfully testify that he has rendered them great service. The doctor is enjoying his stay in Albany immensely, but is kept so busy that he cannot get much rest. Patients who contemplate availing themselves of his services during the remainder of his stay, should be prompt about coming in. His wonderful success here is such as has never been achieved by a member of his profession in this community.

Any of Dr. Darrin's patients desiring to have their prescriptions refilled can do so by returning bottles, or number on bottles, to Woodworth Drug Co. Albany.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs.
Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.
Be sure that this picture is on the wrapper of every bottle of emulsion you buy.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONS.

There Are Still Seven Persons Drawing Money from the Government on Old Account.

Nearly 120 years have elapsed since the revolutionary war came to an end. The last survivor of the thousands of men who took part in that great struggle for liberty died more than 20 years ago. Yet, there are on Uncle Sam's pension rolls the names of seven persons each of whom has been granted a small sum of money monthly on account of it, says a Washington report.

Three of the seven are the only surviving widows of revolutionary soldiers. The other four are daughters and are pensioned by a special act of congress. The widows are: Rebecca Mayo, aged 89 years, of New-burytown, Va.; Nancy Jones, aged 85 years, of Jonesboro, Tenn.; and Esther S. Damon, aged 88 years, of Plymouth Union, Vt.

Rebecca Mayo, whose maiden name was Rebecca Dawson, is the widow of Stephen Mayo, whom she married in Virginia, on November 24, 1734, when she was 26 and he 27 years of age. Her husband enlisted as a private in a Virginia regiment in 1776, and served three or four months. He participated in the battles of Brandywine and Germantown. In 1782, at the age of 75 years, he made application for a pension, which was allowed. He died in 1847, and the same year application was made by his widow and her claim was allowed.

Nancy Jones is the widow of Dar-ring Jones, who served for nine months as a private in a North Carolina regiment and was in the battle of Monk's Corner and also in some skirmishes with the Cherokee Indians. Her maiden name was Nancy Huff. She married in Carter County, Tenn., at the age of 25 years, her husband being 69 years of age. Mr.
Jones was drawing a pension at the time of his death in 1848. Her claim was allowed in 1853.

Esther S. Damon, who was formerly Esther Sumner, married Noah Damon at Bridgewater, Vt., in 1835, when she was 23 years of age and he 75. Mr. Damon enlisted at Milton, Mass., in 1755, as a private, and served nearly two years. He was wounded at the battle of Long Island, and was granted a pension in 1848. He died in 1853, and she was pensioned as his widow.

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have
