Ruth Wilson Deceased. Died at the home of Mrs. H. Wilson Feb. 21.

Died, Feb. 21, at the home of Mrs. H. Wilson, 318 Cosbie street, Ruth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wilson, of Scio, Oregon, aged 6 years. The remains were shipped to Scio Sunday evening for interment, accompanied by the sorrowing mother and Mr. J. Wilson and Mrs. Chas. E. Homan.

There are times when one almost questions the goodness of God. A tender flower is given to a mother's keeping and almost without a moment's warning, is rudely torn from loving arms, leaving hearts bleeding and a vacant place which never can be filled.

"Ruthie" was a sweet child, with an intelligence far in advance of her years and made friends with all with whom she came in contact by her sweet, winsome ways.

Kind friends came forward and lovingly performed the last sad rites but loving words and kindly acts cannot dispel the gloom from the home so suddenly bereft.

"God has made Ruthie well! Weep not for the days that will come no more.

For the sunbeam down from heart and door.

For the missing step of a nameless grace.

For a tender voice and a loving face But not for the soul whose goal is won.

Whose perfect joy has just begun. Not for the smile that brightens white. And crowned where the angels are tonight.—Contributed.—Pendleton Tribune.

FORMALDEHYDE!

(Used and recommended by the Oregon Agricultural College.)

HOW TO MIX GRAIN

1 pint of Formaldehyde to 48 gallons of water, mix with 150 bushels of wheat.

Best Method to Obtain Good Results

Fill a 50 gallon barrel about 1-2 or 2-3 full of the mixture, pour in the grain and mix thoroughly for ten minutes. Then sack, placing sack in a V shaped trough slanting into barrel, thus allowing surplus to drain into the barrel for further use. Price 50c per pint.

Lost—In Scio some time ago a watch chain, representing a half moon and containing several sets, also a picture. Finder will be rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Two of the oldest and meanest boys in the reform school escaped yesterday and officers south of Scio were directed to be on the watch for them. One of them wore an Oregon boot—Democrat.

The shoe given in this city Wednesday and Thursday evenings by Hoyt were well worth the price of admission. He is among the best in his line and is greeted with a crowded house both evenings.

Although the weather steps most all kinds of work, the telephone business is booming. A line is to be run to Shelburn, also one towards Stayton and both will have plenty of subscribers. It is only a matter of a short time until we shall have a night service. The central office will be improved in many ways as the increased business demands.

Dr. A. G. Pratt was called to Crabtree Wednesday to attend Carl Nolan, who while working in the timber, was thrown some seven feet back ward striking on the back of head and neck. He was thought to be dead when picked up and was unconscious for some time. He came near dislocating his neck, and sustained severe injury to his spine. What the final result will be cannot at this time be told.

A birthday dinner was given Frank E. Rahn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller, east of this city on Wednesday evening March 9. A number of invited friends were present. After dinner many pretty presents were presented, and the evening was spent in games and music and at a late hour all departed for their homes, each wishing him many happy returns for the day.

The County S. S. Convention will meet on March 21-23-25. Every officer and teacher in the Sunday School are expected to be present. Several of our state workers will be present to conduct the main work, and special music will be given. The Committee believes it will be by far the best Convention held. Some should miss it. Everybody welcome.

Curt Baker and Gilbert McCabe were blown to atoms on the John Burton farm near Independence last Saturday. They were thawing out 125 pounds of dynamite over a furnace when the stuff was exploded and the men were torn to pieces and the fragments buried one hundred feet. A couple of pigs in a sty near by were not killed though one was blinded. The house of a brother of Baker, fifty feet away was badly damaged, but the occupants were uninjured.

Candidates for political honors should imitate the example set by G. W. Morrow, of Scio, who publishes a card in the News announcing his candidacy for the democratic nomination for sheriff. Mr. Morrow does not believe in hiding his aspirations "under a bushel." If a man is a candidate for an office within the gift of the people and worthy why should not the people be made aware of the fact through a proper channel?—Brownsville Times.

T. W. Dilly was carried home from his shop Saturday afternoon, in a condition of helplessness. He pointed at the ceiling of his shop that afternoon, and for the purpose used a step ladder which was set on top of a table. Mounted on the ladder, the Fixer was able to reach the ceiling, and operations went on as happy as a marriage bell until the table tipped over. In the inevitable collapse that followed, the ladder, the Fixer, his paint pot and the table all fell in a heap. The Fixer clung to the ladder, and when it finally struck the floor, Mr. Dilly fell across the appliance in such a way that the muscles of his back were strained. The shock of the fall and the injury sustained, made it impossible for him to move him. Assistance was soon at hand, and he was carried home, where medical aid was provided. The general supposition for a time was that the spine had been injured, but this report the physician pronounced unfounded. A severe strain to the muscles of the back and a few bruises were the sum total of his injuries, and these, though painful for the time, are not permanent.—Corvallis Times.
