A Thoughtful Man.

M. M. Austin of Winchester Ind. knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 25c at E. C. Peery's drug store.

same. This is the best way for the farmer, and according to the buyer the best for them also, for though they may pay a larger price for the mohair, they secure it all in a bunch and save time. As for the farmers, they get the highest price because they invite competition and competition is always the life of any business.

Homer Davenport has decided to buy his old home in the Waldo Hills and come back here and make Oregon his home, at least his headquarters, for his lecture tour and cartoon work. He will bring his fine animals and birds here from his New Jersey farm, giving Oregon prehaps the finest in the world.

According to the Graphic the finance committee of the Newberg council recommended that persons engaged in the following avocations be taxed per quarter as follows: draymen two-horse vehicle, $5, one-horse $3; real estate agents, $10; bowling alleys $50; owners of buildings where public dances are held, $5 per each dance; insurance agents, life $2 fire $1. The council also followed and instructed the recorder to draw up an ordinance embodying the above. In the mean time there will be several counties heard from on J. J. Barnes and Son have stuck upon a new and profitable branch of work. During the winter months while there was no work, they fitted up for the manufacture of all kinds of farm implement handles with the result that they are now looking for a market for as fine a lot of handles as one could wish to see. They have not confined their work working simply to handles but are so situated as to be able to make anything from a mouse trap to a trashing machine on short notice. We doubt very much if a blacksmith shop as complete as the above can be found outside of Portland. Certainly those of Albany or Salem are not.

The teacher's institute and citizen educational meeting held in this city Friday and Saturday of last week was well attended by teachers and citizens alike and a great deal of interest was taken in all the lectures. Friday evening, by President Dempster of the Drain Normal was well delivered and the subject well chosen. The teachers all took part in the discussions with interests. The institute was in session in every room. Following are attending: Asa P. Hiron, J. W. Miller, F. A. Miller, from Shelburn, Nellie McDonald, Lillian Sherwood, Edith Hogue, L. C. Bawer, Mrs. L. C. Bawer, J. P. Wells, E. C. Peery, D. B. Cyrus, Willie Meyer, Grace Gill, Leua Miller, Scio, E. F. Carleton, T. A. Hayes, W. W. Dixon, C. Crouse, Albany, Edith C. Hazard, Sylvia E. McEneaney, L. A. Wiley, Jefferson, V. L. Calavan, J. F. Mills, Jordan, Katie Miller, Crabtree, A. N. Fuherson, Halsey, Aichie Jones, Thomas, W. H. Dempster, Drain, R. B. Allard, Woodburn, and County school Superintendent, Jackson.

A funny incident occurred in Salem on the occasion of the democratic primaries last Saturday. A young business man who is a republican, but for business reasons has never taken an active interest in politics, was called upon for a contribution of 50 cents to pay for tickets for the primaries. Thinking that the bill was for the printing of the program, he paid the amount asked and was given a receipted bill for his portion to which was attached a copy of the ticket. He placed the bill in his pocket and dismissed the matter from his mind. Sunday morning when on his way down town, he met a democratic candidate, who congratulated him on his selection as a delegate and asked for support in the convention. A great light dawned on the young merchant, and examining the bill he had paid for printing the tickets he discovered that he had settled for the printing of a democratic ballot, and that he was a delegate to the democratic convention, having been chosen for that position by the members of his precinct in the belief that he was a democrat. The young man will be away on a business trip when the democratic convention meets in Salem.

More than 2,500 years ago there sprang in to existence in Japan an order of knights who were known as the samurai. To them were imparted all the learning, the polite breeding and the forms of superiority that mark the gentleman. They were skilled in arms and versed in the arts of war, for they were the emperor's fighting men and none but were allowed to bear arms. As there could not always be war on hand, and it was considered beneath the dignity of the samurai to go in to any ordinary callings, it came about that these little knights spent four or five idle time on their hands. Some of them of war they turned their attention to athletic feats. One among the samurai conceived the idea of learning by practice the location of every sensitive nerve and muscle in the body. After he discovered all the joints of the bones that could be seized in such a way as to give momentary power over the muscles of an adversary. He practiced with his fellow samurai and thus by degrees was developed the wonderful system of athletics known in the world. The Japanese call the work jujitsu. The deft pressures applied to the joints of the body, but do not really injure the muscles or nerves. In all other things the Japanese are the most polite people in the world; so it follows that even in their fighting they have adopted a humane yet effective method of self defense. They do not strike out with a clenched fist, or use a bruise, as do the Anglo-Saxon in their boxing contests.

Sciotic Rheumatism Cured. "I have been subject to sciotic rheumatism for years," writes E. H. Waldron, of Waton Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not had a pain nor ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a wonderful liniment." For sale by all dealers.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is so certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. For sale by all dealers.

Will Organize Baseball League. There is a movement going on in Albany to organize an amateur baseball league for a short season, which will include Albany, Lebanon, Scio and Brownsville. Each of these towns have good material and as Albany was unable to participate in the state league it will be a benefit to the people who enjoy the game. A schedule of six weeks is proposed to begin June 1st, and the game to be played on Saturdays. It is the general opinion the league would be liberally patronized by the public.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. F. I. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by all dealers.

Manager Wanted. Trustworthy lady or gentleman to manage business in this county and adjoining territory for well and favorably known home of solid financial standing. $20.00 straight cash salary and expenses paid each Monday by check direct from headquarters. Expense money advanced. Position permanent. Address Manager, 510 Como Block, Chicago, Illinois.

CORRESPONDENCE

Larwood.

It is rumored that spring is coming.

Hamon Garland who has been working in Portland for some time past is at home again.

Mr. J. L. Davenport made a business trip to Albany during the week.

Zimmerman Bros. of Jefferson purchased a fine horse of Frank Gaines recently.

The farmers in the vicinity are working very hard to get their spring crops in before it rains again.

The Gaines telephone Co. have received their new telephones which will in the future take the place of the old phones, they are now connected direct with the central office at Scio.

The bridge across Roaring river at Larwood is in a bad condition and should be repaired at once. It is always easier to repair a bridge than to build a new one.

Orville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaines has been quite ill for some days past.

The people of this vicinity were much surprised to learn of the nomination of Mr. Morgan for the office of school Superintendent.

Mr. Morgan has taught several terms of school in this vicinity and has many friends here. But owing to popularity and general satisfaction given by the present incumbent, Mr. Jackson, the vote in this part of the country promises to be close.

IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

ABSOLUTELY PURE THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

SECTION. Any minor or any woman or any Indian, who shall hereafter enter or be found in any place where spirituous, malt or vinous liquor or liquors are kept for sale, at any time during the day or night, shall upon conviction thereof before the Recorder's Court, be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the City Jail not less than five days nor more than twelve days, or by both said fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the Recorder of the City of Letonia.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall enter, at any time during the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, whether in the day time or the night time, where spirituous, malt or vinous liquor or liquors are kept for sale, shall, upon conviction thereof before the Recorder's Court be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the City Jail not less than five days nor more than twelve days, or by both said fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the Recorder of the City of Letonia.

Sec. 3 This ordinance shall not be construed to prevent the proprietor of any saloon, or an actual employe thereof from entering the saloon or the proprietor for any legitimate purpose connected with the proper management of said saloon at any time.

The above is part of an ordinance passed by the Lebanon council and is published at request.

TESTING THE DOCTORS.

Chinese, Like Other Physicians, Reserve the Right to Disagree.

The emperor of China has lately had so much trouble with his functionaries of every kind that he has grown distrustful of them all. He had noticed that, while his statesmen seemed to be widely at variance, the court physicians agreed beautifully whenever they were called together. But a test that he might make of their skill and sincerity occurred to him.

Feeling somewhat indisposed, the emperor sent for one of his court doctors. These physicians are paid public functionaries and are learned professors. One of them came, listened to his majesty's account of his trouble, diagnosed it, prescribed and took his leave.

The emperor sent for another court doctor and gave him exactly the same account of his difficulty. This doctor then made his own diagnosis, which was quite different from his brother physicians, prescribed a different remedy and went his way.

A third and fourth physician were called and each found a different disease and each prescribed a different medicine. Then the emperor became angry and also sarcastic, and begged to know how he could have so many things the matter with him and live, and whether he should continue to live if he took all the diverse sorts of medicine that had that day been prescribed for him.

The doctors could give him no satisfactory answer to these questions, but each insisted that he was right and all the others wrong. But the emperor declared that this could not be true, and condemned every one of the physicians to lose a month's salary.

Of course the moral of this story has no accidental application. Though the doctors of our western countries reserve the right to disagree, such a case of radical divergence probably could not occur under the practice of our perfected science.—Youth's Companion.

ALASKA HARD TO HANDLE.

The Territory is Much Too Big for One Set of Officials—Some Comparisons.

Alaska has many grievances and has suffered much from being underestimated. The dimensions of the country are too vast for conception without the aid of comparison, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. With its area of over 600,000 square miles it is larger than all that portion of the United States lying east of the Mississippi river and north of Georgia and the Carolinas, and twice as large as the Oregon country, which now embraces the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and the principal part of Montana and Wyoming. The governor in his office at Sitka is as far from the western limit of his territory as he is from Eastport, Me., and the little island of Attu is so far west that it counts its longitude east from Greenwich.

The length of Alaska's coast line is greater than the combined length of the Atlantic and the Pacific seaboard. During a portion of the year news travels very slowly across this great country. The people at Nome did not hear of the late election of McKinley until February 3 of this year.

Flax Wanted.

We want from 100 to 150 acres of flax, good clean stuff not less than 30 inches long. We will pay $12 per ton CASH for good flax delivered at the mill and $7 or $8 per ton for the loose flax. We sell you seed for $1.50 for 55 pounds payable when you deliver the flax to the mill. The proper amount to sow is 80 or 85 pounds per acre. Flax should not be sown after the 15th of May. JOS. WESELY, Manager.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken tongue coated pain continually in back and sides no appetite growing weaker day by day. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c guaranteed at E. C. Peery's drug store.
