LOCAL

Don't forget the picnic. Westey Bros.' sale closes June 23. Read their ad. Thursday, June 23, is when the big clothing sale at Westey Bros. closes. The Scio band has reorganized and will be in shape to give plenty of good music for the picnic. Look up Westey Bros.' ad for reduced prices on men's and boys' suits. Sale closes June 23. A. I. Arnold has sold his farm a few miles east of town and will probably move to Scio to reside. E. E. Manis continues to gradually grow weaker and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. This week we print a supplement of the total vote by precincts of the last election. Post it up for reference. Wilbur N. Pintler, D. M. D., will be at his Scio office the first half of each month. All work guaranteed. Picnic at Scio June 24—the day before, that is when the big reduction sale on men's and boys' suits closes. For sick headache take Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets and a quick cure is certain. For sale by All Dealers. T. Fitzgerald, late of Michigan, has purchased the farm of B. S. Richardson at Marjorie, W. Va. Richardson will move to Jefferson to reside for the present. The big reduction sale on men's and boys' suits at Westey Bros. closes June 23rd, the day before the Harvest Home picnic that will take place in Scio, June 24. R. B. Miller has purchased the residence property of W. E. Savage in this city and will move to Scio to reside. Mr. Savage will occupy the house recently vacated by F. J. Irvine. Horse sales are coming fast these days, and no less than 300 head of horses having been brought to this section recently at different parties. They find a fair market while about the same prices prevail as did last season. Dr. A. G. Prill received a check from the K. O. E. M. headquarters this week in favor of G. W. Phillips an incompetent, for $300. Mr. Phillips has a policy for $300 and he will draw $300 each year for the next ten years. G. W. Phillips has about completed the new dam he has been working on for some time and he says this one is for time to stay. He has expended considerable time and money on the dam and it certainly would answer all purposes. Miss Susie McDonald, who has been ill at her home in Philomath for the past two months, is reported as not improving any of late. Her many friends in Scio hope to hear of her complete recovery in the near future. Mrs. Frank Morris requests that parties who have been taking her carriages will at least refrain from breaking and destroying the trees, and trusts that this hint will be effectual, otherwise she will resort to other means. Mrs. Woodmansee at West Scio purchased last week a $500 piano as a birthday present to her daughter Letta, on her 11th birthday. Miss Martha Quigley is also the possessor of an organ since last week, both bought from a Salem firm. We are in receipt of one of the Yaquina Bay booklets, published by the C. & E. railroad for the season of 1904. It is neat and attractive and thoroughly describes the advantages of that popular summer resort. Miss Ella Carey, who has been teaching in Stinson university, returned home the first of the week. Tuesday evening she invited a number of her intimate friends to spend the evening with her and a very enjoyable evening was passed by all. J. Percy Wells has accepted the position of Principal of the Scio public schools for the ensuing year.

The people of Scio are undoubtedly the most patriotic of any section that he has decided to accept. Under his rule, the school has become one of the best in the Valley, and will doubtless continue to improve.

The straw hat is in great demand this year. It is almost impossible to see enough of them, as there was only about half enough to supply the demand in this section. At J. W. Jorlan's farm near the Sampson bridge, people come and camp all night in order to get what berries there are early the next morning. The prevailing price is 10 cents per gallon, and pick them yourself.

A base ball game between Scio and Stayton at that place Sunday last, was won by Scio 20 to 15. An impression of Stayton, our first visit was that it is a prize winner for poor side wack and a baseball ground, a rotary game. A purse of $40 will probably be arranged in the near future and if played on the Scio grounds will probably be a good game and not a foot race as was last Sunday's game on the Stayton rock pile. The last game was the first the Scio boys have played and it was a thoroughly organized while the Stayton team has played a good many games this season.

The Oregon City land office has been authorized by the Interior Department to offer for sale townships 5 and 6, ranges 7 and 8 west, in the Grand Ronde Indian reservation. The sale will be made by separate sealed bids, which will be received between 8 o'clock p. m., August 8 and 9, and to be opened at 10 o'clock p. m., August 8 and 9. Each bid is to be accompanied by a certified check for 30 per cent of the amount bid, the same to be credited on the purchase price and the purchaser to pay the balance on establishing his citizenship. The land included in this tract consists of some of the most valuable agricultural lands of the Grand Ronde reservation.

With $100 appropriated last week by the county court for the purpose, the total of the reward now offered for Crofield is about $400. Formerly $100 was contributed by citizens and the sheriff's hands as a reward for the capture of the fugitive, and within the past few days an additional $100 has also been raised by subscription. This, with the $100 offered in Portland, makes an aggregate of $400. The order of the Benton county court making the appropriation recites that Crofield is criminal out of the ordinary; that at large he is a menace to the peace and happiness of the community, and that six of his followers have been committed to the insane asylum.

Decisions in the cases of Brenner against Leever, Waddle against Sexton, Waddle against Gaines, Jones against Gaines and Brenner against Moore, have all been decided in the Oregon City Land Office favorable to the contestants. The above cases concern timber claims taken up by the defendants on Crabtree creek and which were taken up as homesteads, and the plaintiffs endeavored to prove that they had not resided on the land as the law requires. This is an important decision as hundreds of homesteads in that section were taken up in the same manner and the claims are valuable ones. The decisions in the above cases, where it has been decided in favor of the Oregon City, are allowed 30 days to file appeals to the Commissioner of the General Land Office at Washington.

Death Takes Reward Away.

Any man who has battled with all the difficulties and hardships attendant upon following up any of the many claims for the last six years is certainly entitled to all that the Goddess of Fortune may kindly award.

Not that upon the labor of several years was bringing its reward, and the sorrows of other days were being buried from memory by the enjoyment and pleasure of having succeeded against the insuperable obstacles which had been encountered at every turn. Fred L. Morris, who had been hunted around by the law (not only to have his persistence amply rewarded, was called to his Maker.

The story of young Morris is a particularly sad one. Coming to the Klondike in the rush of '98, ill-luck seemed to pursue him at every turn. He had been nearly a year in the Yukon when the last six years is certainly entitled to all that the Goddess of Fortune may kindly award. Not that upon the labor of several years was bringing its reward, and the sorrows of other days were being buried from memory by the enjoyment and pleasure of having succeeded against the insuperable obstacles which had been encountered at every turn. Fred L. Morris, who had been hunted around by the law (not only to have his persistence amply rewarded, was called to his Maker.

He joined the stampede to the Klondike in 1898, and one day in the Yukon he was shot by some unknown person. He was not discouraged, and pressed onward without stopping. He joined the stampede to the Klondike in 1898, and one day in the Yukon he was shot by some unknown person. He was not discouraged, and pressed onward without stopping.

That year and the next were spent in development work, and $75,000 was taken out. Not all profit, to be sure, but the mining country pioneer was on the road to fortune.

In the Fall of 1900, what a pleasant reunion took place at Scio, Oregon. The party consisted of those who had been separated for several years, for that highly cultivated but unpalatable farm product, a mortgage, had been waded out of the ranch, and his youthful miner was the proud center of loving parents, brothers, sisters, relatives and those who love a loving son.

But it was not long before the young fellow made another trip to his treasure chest, and again he paid not a tribute to self vanity, but to the good folks who had been so kind to him.

Last year he too, a younger brother with him and gave him a start in life. This year an older brother came in to share of his good luck.

But fate must have an inning. The good die young.

When he reached this city in the latter part of March he became ill, lingered until April 4, when he passed away.

Charles Fred Morris was born in Scio, October 16, 1872, and died at Dawson City, April 4, 1904.

The remains were brought to this city Thursday of last week and were buried in the Franklin Butte Masonic cemetery, Saturday, June 11th, 1904, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. L. G. Taylor, pastor of the Masonic lodge of this city, of which he was a member, had charge of the funeral.

Every business house in the city was closed from 12 until 2 o'clock and several hundred people attended the services.

Charles was a generous, warm-hearted young man, and he was very popular with a wide circle of friends. His sad death has cast a gloom over the community and there none but feel that they have suffered a great loss.

Card of Thanks.

To our neighbors and friends, we want to thank you for your many acts of kindness and the sympathy you have shown us in our sad hour of grief, and we pray that when time comes to you (as it must to all) that you may find friends that will be as kind to you as you have been to us. And we also thank those who have written such kind letters of condolence and those that placed so many beautiful flowers over the grave of our dear boy.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner of Truhart Va. says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than any thing he could get from the Dr. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be spent in the study of this one medicine. THE PICNIC

Will be here next Friday, June 24th. Driven to Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place remote from civilization a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns, cuts, wounds, etc. Lay in supply of Buckline's Arnica Salve. It is the best on earth. Sc., at E. C. Peery's drug store.

Death of a Pioneer.

J. P. Crabtree received the news the first of the week of the death of his brother, Hiram Crabtree, at Hathaway, Montana. Three of the brothers, John, Isaac and Hiram, all barbers, resided near Hathaway, and one of the former having occasion to visit Hiram found him dead. Just when he died and the cause of his death is not known.

He was about 71 years old, a pioneer of 1845, and was one of a family who were the first settlers in the forks of the Santiam. J. P. Crabtree, who together with Mrs. S. W. Gaines and Mrs. T. Turner are the only women in the list of the deceased now residing near Scio, can tell about the time when Oregon City was a small settlement, while just one slash house stood on Salem now is; two large tribes of Indians were then located in this immediate vicinity.

Thus the oldest and best known pioneers are rapidly passing away and in a few more years a pioneer of 1845 cannot be found.

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute is your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newell, Detroit, Mich. For three years she writes, I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Both seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I am completely recovered. For liver, kidney, stomach and bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. Guaranteed by E. C. Peery, Druggist.

Killed on Excursion Train.

Jasper V. Custer, an employee of the Albany Ironing Co., was instantly killed at Albany at 12:50 o'clock Monday morning. Together with two companions he went to Detroit on an extra train which brought an excursion to Albany. On the return trip and after the train had reached the yards at Albany, Custer left his seat and went out on the front platform of the coach. In some accidental manner he slipped and fell beneath the wheels. The car did not stop, and he was instantly killed. He leaves a wife and two children.

Said by His Doctor.

A doctor here has used me for $12.50, which I claimed, was excessive for a case of cholera morbus says E. White of Cocheville Cal. At the trial he praised his medicine and medicine. I ask him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as I had good reason to believe it was and he said not, try under oath that it was not. No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Said by All Dealers.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

SLAVERY OF A MODERN KIND.

Remarkable Facts Performed by a Pennsylvania Able Working as a Farm Hand.

The Ruth of biblical fame and commendation has a most admirable counterpart in eastern Pennsylvania, her home being at Myerstown. This modern daughter of Naomi is named Mary Swanger and she can perform not only all the duties of the house, but she has an unconquerable delight in working in the harvest field and performing other labors which belong properly to farm hands, reports an eastern exchange.

Miss Swanger is visiting at the home of Samuel Phillips, the proprietor of a large stock farm near Lebanon. It is a frequent sight to see her assisting in the harvest field and doing other manual labor about the place. Miss Swanger declares that she does the work not from necessity, but from choice. She believes that all women should do outdoor work of this character for their own physical development, and that if they did, the American women would be stronger and happier.

Butting her belief to action, Miss Swanger has performed two feats which the neighbors consider marvelous. One of these was to shovel 1,500 bushels of corn into a shelter with an interval of but 12 minutes for rest. The other was to unload 15 wagon loads of grain in the shed and pitch it into the loft of Mr. Phillips' barn. Miss Swanger is a highly educated young woman, and her feat are a more appropriate citation.

For a moment he could not make out the meaning of this, as he was not aware that he had quoted any law, but glancing up the page he discovered that he had written his page on a letter-head bearing this text: "Ye are bought with a price."

REFLECTION ON THE JUDGE.

How can the Poor Lawyer Deem Upon Himself the Worth of Justice Gray.

Justice Gray, of the United States supreme court, who has just retired, had a long experience on the bench before going to Washington. Many years ago, when he was a member of the supreme court of Massachusetts, relates a Washington exchange, he had an amusing experience with a certain Boston lawyer, an exceedingly pious man with a taste for evangelization, who had his letterheads printed with a verse from Scripture in large type following the name and address. On one occasion, having to make an expert preliminary argument before Justice Gray in chambers, in which it
