Willamette Valley Chautauqua Ass'n.

The Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association will meet at Gladstone Park, near Oregon City, July 12th to 24th inclusive. The Southern Pacific Co. will make reduced rates on the certificate plan for this occasion. Call on any Southern Pacific agent for advertising matter.

Driven To Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place remote from civilization a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns cuts wounds etc., etc. Lay in supply of Buckle's ointment. It is the best on earth. 25c. at E. C. Peery's drug store.

Special Excursion to the Worlds fair

The Denver & Rio Grande, in connection with the Missouri Pacific, will run a series of Personally Conducted Excursions to the Worlds fair during June. These excursions will run through to St. Louis without change of cars, making short stops at principal points en route. The first of these excursions leave Portland June 7th, and the second June 17th. The rate from Woodburn will be $68.95 to St. Louis and return. Excursions going from the Denver & Rio Grande have the privilege of returning via a different route. This is the most pleasant way, as well as the most delightful route, to cross the continent. The stops arranged give an opportunity of visiting the various points of interest in and about Salt Lake City, Denver and Kansas City. If you wish to accompany one of these excursions write at once to W. C. McBride, 124 Third street Portland for sleeping car reservation.

The City Meat Market.

DALEY BROS., Proprietors.

The best of fresh, salt, and smoked meats always on hand. We solicit your patronage.

HORSES FOR SALE.

I wish to inform all those wishing horses of any kind that I will have about 70 or 75 head at my farm about June 15th. I will have some good draft horses and roasters and prices will be reasonable. Notice will be given of the date of sale.

C. C. LEE.

A good ball game was the one played in this city last Sunday between Jefferson and Scio. Eight runs in the first inning for Scio decided the game against the visitors, the final score being 6 to 15 in favor of the home team. Good ball was played by both teams. Another game will be played between the same teams today for a prize of 25.

Lee & Davenport will sell a large band of horses at public auction next Monday at the farm of C. C. Lee. These sales have been in the nature of penales in the past few years and Mr. Lee will lose his reputation as an entertainer this year, for he intends having an old-fashioned barbecue, roast ox and mutton being the bill of fare. Each person will be supplied with all the meat he can eat for the nominal sum of 5 cents, this charge being made to cover the cost of butchering.

The vote on local option developed some queer ways of looking at the subject. It was adopted as a town, by a narrow measure, and was fought by the liquor element of the state with every means at their command as if it were a death struggle to them, yet tickets were found here in Forest Grove, says the Times, where every prohibitionist on it was voted for, but on local option the vote was "no." If the liquor men themselves had marked the ballots, they could not have been better pleased.

The Masonic lodge of this city will dedicate their new hall next Saturday June 25, at 3 p. m. The lodges of Jefferson, Albany, Stayton and Lebanon, and Grand Master Gray of Portland, will be present to help make the occasion a red letter day in the history of the Masonic lodge of Scio. The members of the different visiting lodges will bring their families which will make the gathering a large one. A social meeting will be held at 8 p. m. The Masons have made themselves a beautiful home and have good reasons for being proud of their work.

The high hopes entertained by the Albany base ball fans seem to be going aglimmering. The team has hit the grassy plain for fair and is sliding down a whooping. With better grace than ever before in the history of the national game in the county seat did the Albanians separate themselves from any good and hard simoleons in order to gain the prestige of owning the best team in the league. That was immediately after the Seals had put over the Raglows at the capital. It is to the tune of three straight games. That hoisted the flippers to the top, tho they had to use a derelict (no bricks, please). But alas, theirs was a precarious position at the pinnacle and, with all the "dull and sickening," they have reached the bottom. The fans are wearing a sad, dejected look, but there are a few, optimistic ones who claim that though the pennant is somewhat obscured to their sight, it is not yet irredeemably lost.

Munkers.

E. P. Smith of Albany visited here last week.

Everett Looney of Jefferson spent Sunday here.

W. Murphy and daughters returned from a visit to Oakville Monday.

Miss Astoria Watkins is a guest of Miss Leonard at Albany this week.

Thomas Greene of Portland is a guest of his daughter Mrs. A. L. DeVaney.

Wm. Bihey and family of Albany spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Denny.

Mr. and Mrs. Mart Bihey were visiting their daughter Mrs. Geo. DeVaney last week.

Mrs. O. W. Mifemel of Albany spent last week with her parents, R. B. Miller and wife.

Miss Flossie Green returned to Albany Sunday after a visit with her cousin Beatrice DeVaney.

Misses Marguerite and Myrtle Donahue and Beatrice DeVaney are attending the carnival at Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Miller moved to Scio Monday, having sold their farm. They are desirable residents and their departure is regretted by their many friends here.

Ladies why will you suffer? when Dr. Swans medicine will cure you. Any one wishing the remedy should call or write to Mrs. S. B. Harsard of Lebanon, the sole agent for S. B.

Adam Hintz, a Russian living on the Sunitum was arrested last week by Deputy Sheriff Munkers and Al. Kewick on a charge of insanity, preferred by his brother-in-law, Ed Fandrick. Hintz tried to commit suicide last fall by hanging, but his wife shot at him. He and his wife and six children have lived in a small hut not big enough for two. His cruel, inhuman treatment of his family led to his arrest which was accomplished only after the use of some strategy, as he had threatened to shoot any one who might try to arrest him. His insanity seems to consist chiefly of brutal viciousness, directed against a poor, defenseless woman and little unprotected babies. He was committed to the asylum.

TESTING THE DOCTORS.

Chinese, Like Other Physicians, Reserve the Right to Disagree.

The emperor of China has lately had so much trouble with his functionaries of every kind that he has grown distrustful of them all. He had noticed that while his statesmen seemed to be widely at variance, the court physicians agreed beautifully whenever they were called together. But a test that he might make of their skill and sincerity occurred to him.

At once indisposed, the emperor sent for one of his court doctors. These physicians are paid public functionaries and are learned professors. One of them came, listened to his majesty's account of his trouble, diagnosed it, prescribed and took his leave.

Then the emperor sent for another court doctor and gave him exactly the same account of his difficulty. This doctor then made his own diagnosis, which was quite different from his brother physicians, prescribed a different remedy and went away.

A third and fourth physician were called and each found a different disease and each prescribed a different medicine. Then the emperor became angry and also sarcastic, and begged to know how he could have so many things the matter with him and live, and whether he should continue to live if he took all the diverse sorts of medicine that had that day been prescribed for him.

The doctors could give him no satisfactory answer to these questions, but each insisted that he was right and all the others wrong. But the emperor declared that this could not be true, and condemned every one of the physicians to lose a month's salary.

Of course the moral of this story has no accidental application. Though the doctors of our western countries reserve the right to disagree, such a case of radical divergence probably could not occur under the practice of our perfected science.—Youth's Companion.

Thrown From a Wagon.

Mr. George K Babcock was thrown from his wagon as severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says its the best liniment he ever used. Mr. Babcock is a well known citizen of North Plain Conn. There is nothing equal to Pala Balm for sprains and bruises. It will effect a cure in one third the time required by other treatment. For sale by All Dealers.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, better than any Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner of Trahart, Va. says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything else could get from the Dr. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing the one medicine. For sale by All Dealers.

New Use for Buttermilk Has Been Lately Discovered.

Transformed into Buttons and Glue—A Branch of Business That is of Great Benefit to the Farmer.

In the last ten years the caseine industry of this country has developed into one of the best investments for both the farmer and the manufacturer. It is not so long ago that buttermilk was such a drug on the market that it was regarded as a food for pigs or as a waste substance to be thrown away. This has been changed, and where formerly the dairyman obtained nothing for the liquid, he now converts it into caseine, either in his own dairy or in a factory owned by the caseine trust. Caseine is an albuminous substance, best known to the average citizen in the form of cheese. It contains as much nitrogen as meat, more than eggs, and much more than fish. Its food value is therefore very high. Thus far this feature has not been utilized in the United States, all our own caseine being used for other industries, but vast quantities go to France and Germany, where they are transferred into artificial foods.

The manufacture is now up in the millions of pounds, and is increasing annually. Some is converted into buttons. This is done by mixing the caseine with fine clay and other inorganic materials made into a paste, rolled, stamped and baked. It makes a light, glossy and handsome button, and is much stronger than the one made of china-ware alone. In the matter of small buttons and studs, it can be made iridescent or colored to suit the public fancy, says the New York Post.

Thus far in our own land caseine has been put to low utilitarian purposes. By chemical treatment, it is changed into a very strong glue, which is used in making veneers. Several great cooperages out west now make barrel-heads of these veneers, and save one or two pounds of weight, and at the same time get a stronger and headstrong barrel head. These veneers are also employed for chair-seats, car-seats, soundings-boards, and piano-cases. A second use as a constituent of water pulp. Caseine is snow white, and when mixed with wood pulp, straw pulp, and similar bodies gives a whiter and clearer product, and also one that is less brittle and more durable. This mixed pulp is made into paper for newspapers, writing-paper, wall-paper, and paper boxes. The white boxes which the more enterprising shoe dealers and department stores now affect are the results of this industry.

Caseine mingled with Xme makes a liquid covering, intermediate between whitewash and paint, which possesses a handsome gloss, and is very much cheaper than the latter. The lime reacts upon it and makes it both waterproof and, to a certain extent, fireproof. As a finish for fine leather goods, it is now employed in at least 50 of the leading works of the country. It is particularly adapted for fine kids, goat-skins, dog-skins, calf and sheepskins. It is also used as a finish for the outside of lead pipes, penholders and other wooden wares.

Judge—"Still, Miss Sharpson! declares she has a good ear for music." Judge—"So has a mule; but he don't use his ears when he brays."—Baltimore Herald.

Teacher—"If you had four oranges and you gave Arthur three, who would have the greater number?" Scholar—"You would." Teacher—"How do you make that out?" Scholar—"You always take away our oranges and apples."—Chelsea Gazette.

Farmer Clover (newspaper in hand)—"Well, I declare, the whole country has gone theater mad. I never expected to see the day when a cabinet officer would go on the stage." Mrs. Clover—"Oh, that can't be so." "But it is so. Here's the paper speaking about the acting secretary of state."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Su'd by His Doct'r.

A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus says W. H. White of Conchella. The doctor here praised his medicine skill and medicine. I ask him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as I had good reason to believe it was and he would not say under oath that it was not. No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by All Dealers.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

ONLY FUNNY TO FOOLS.

How War Appears When Viewed from Certain Different Points.

A number of printers, all of whom were born since the last war, were sitting about the office of Secretary Marsh one day lately when an "extra" was brought in which indicated that war with Spain was near at hand.

"If we have war it will afford our navy some good practice—just what it needs—and be better than a dozen sham battles," suggested one.

"And Spain will find it quite a change from bullfighting."

"I don't believe there will be any war," said a baseball crank. "Just as we think everything is all ready you'll see a sign up: 'No game to-day. Wet grounds—too sloppy on the Atlantic.'"

"I think we'll have to make up a purse for Spain," said the pugilist of the party. "But if she don't stand up for four rounds she don't get any of the receipts."

"You boys are very cunning," said the veteran Marsh, wheeling about in his chair. "It's easy to see that none of you know what war means. I'm older than any of you, and I know. In 1864, when I was working on the old Tribune, eight men from that office enlisted in the Twenty-fourth Michigan. They were all fine fellows, the best of the lot. Six of them never returned. The other two got back so wasted and changed that it was hard work to recognize them, and they were carried from the depot to the hospital on litters. One of them, Witherspoon, a personal friend of mine, was shot through the wrist. Both died. I saw several regiments leave here, 1,200 to 1,500 strong, composed of the finest young men in the state. I saw them come back with only 300 to 500 maimed and broken men—men that had practically ended their lives. That is what war is. It is only funny to fools."—Chicago Evening News.

When a stamp is placed on a letter it represents one of 60 made for each man, woman and child in the United States. Enough stamps will be issued this year to supply each individual in the United States with at least 60 stamps each. Distributed among the population of the entire globe, they supply each person with postage for not less than three letters. Placed side by side in a continuous line the total issue would girdle the entire earth three times, forming a variegated ribbon around it nearly three inches in width. If spread out in the same manner across the United States the stamps would form a paper sidewalk over three feet wide. Pasted into a stamp collector's book of the conventional size, the issue for the year would fill 111,000,000 volumes, which, placed one upon another, would form a solid column over 25 miles high. If it is true, as Edward Everett Hale says, that the United States postal system is the greatest of popular educators, these figures will serve to show the extent of Uncle Sam's present service as a school-teacher.

LOVELINESS OF A HOLY LIFE.

Art in the Christian Life—is Full of Color, Parity and Majesty.

Chiefly is the art movement leading to a new emphasis of the beauty of the Christian life. Loveliness is no longer confined to the unsparking statue and the dumb picture. Loveliness is becoming life. That mother who bore herself with sweetness and gentleness, with patience and kindness beyond compare, has passed on; but for her boy her face hangs in the picture gallery of memory. No picture ever painted, no statue ever carved, no cathedral ever built, is comparable to beauty of the soul that is refined, reformed and possessed with the spirit of Jesus Christ. For the truly Christian life is as full of color as the spring, as full of fruit as the autumn, as full of purity as the white cloud, as full of majesty as the noble mountain. One church made up of beautiful Christians who worship God in the beauty of holiness, would transform our city and our civilization.—Newell Dwight Hillis, in Woman's Home Companion.
