Damage Suit Was Quickly Closed.

In the circuit court Friday of last week the jury in the case of Frank Vavra against the city of Scio returned a verdict into the court in favor of the defendant. The suit was brought for the recovery of $27,600 damages for the loss of a leg by the plaintiff as the result of falling off a high sidewalk in Scio on August 15th, last. The jury in the case was out just twenty-five minutes from the time they were charged by the court until they returned with the verdict.

The case has attracted a good deal of attention. Vavra alleged that while going home in this city, where he lives, he walked off a sidewalk where it was high over the creek bank, and broke his leg; that the city was to blame for having the walk unprotected; and he asked for $27,600 damages for the expense and loss of time and for the loss of his limb.

The city was represented by Weatherford and Wyatt and the plaintiff by W. H. and Webster Holmes and W. R. Bilyeu. The case was decided by the following jury: Grant Bollinger, A. J. Allphin, R. W. Fry, J. R. Rowell, O. A. Craig, I. M. Crandall, A. Freerkson, Melvin B. Miller, James Carothers, W. H. Shepherd, E. L. Humphrey, and W. W. Francis.

The facts brought out in the trial were that the plaintiff was intoxicated at the time of the accident; also that the walk where the accident occurred was private property; and that the plaintiff did not have proper medical attendance.

Chas. Wesely testified that the attending physician, Dr. Browne, used common cotton thread and a needle to sew up the wound, without sterilizing them, and that he used water in tin vessels.

Mr. Vavra's testimony did not bring out a single fact. The only thing he knew was that he fell and broke his leg.

Dr. Browne testified as to the manner of his treatment of the case, and after he had concluded his testimony Dr. Booth of Lebanon and Drs. Hill, Wallace, and Davis of Albany gave expert testimony as to what they would have done in a case described similarly to that of Vavra's.

Dr. Prill testified as to Vavra's condition when he saw him, several weeks after the accident.

J. A. Bilyeu testified that he saw Vavra in a drunken state about 9 o'clock the evening he was hurt.

Fred Jones and H. M. Myer testified as to having sold Vavra liquor that evening, and their testimony was corroborated by P. H. McDonald and Fred Daley.

In his instructions to the jury Judge Burnett said that the plaintiff could not recover for doctor and hospital bills, and he also told the jury that if it had been proven to them that the plaintiff was intoxicated he could not expect to recover damages.

Dr. Stewart was a good witness for the city, having been at the scene of the accident and therefore being able to testify as to the manner in which Vavra was treated.

The cost to the city for this trial will be in the neighborhood of $500 or $700. The actual amount cannot at present be ascertained.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the larger cities. There is probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

Everybody is busy in the hayfield at present, and very few farmers can find time to come to town. The yield is very light, which will cause high prices.

Upon recommendation of Congressman Hermann, the Secretary of the Interior has directed James W. Abbott to proceed to Eugene, Oregon, and make preliminary arrangements for an object lesson road extending from that city. This is to be one of the practical demonstrations of good road building, under a law passed by the last congress appropriating $24,000,000 for experimenting on the improvement of the public highways throughout the United States. The implements to be used are furnished by the government, which operates with the local authorities wherever an object lesson road is constructed.—Journal City Times.

The account is that Hugh Finley is digging up his prune orchard. He had but one profitable crop in seven years, and has become weary with watching and waiting. He was the pioneer prune man of the county, and at one time had much confidence in the industry. He had an orchard of 30 or 40 acres, and with the experience of the late years is convinced that he can turn his land to better account. Adjoining his orchard is St. Heron's, and he, too, is vexed with conditions. It is said that he will try the business one more year and that if returns are not better than they have averaged in the past the grubbing machine will be applied to his trees and the land turned to a safer and surer crop.—Corvallis Times.

"For years fate was after me continuously," writes E. A. Gulleck, Verbeia, Ala. "I had a terrible case of cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of this wonderful medicine." For sale by all dealers.

From Ox-Cart to Automobile.

Mrs. Mary A. Ramsey Wood of Hillsboro, aged 117 years, was one of the attractions at the Oregon Pioneer Association held in Portland. Mrs. Wood is reputed to be the oldest woman in the United States. Portland-Salem Electric Road.

Robert Ballentine, one of the incorporators of the Portland and Salem electric line, is in the city. He is also the construction engineer of the road, and has recently made an examination of the proposed route. The road will leave Portland on the west side and cross the Willamette river near Butteville, coming into Salem on Front street. From here it will be extended to Independence.

The new road is expected to cost $1,000,000, and will take about 18 months to construct. A large Eastern syndicate, thought to be the Indiana Electric Company, is said to be backing the enterprise, and if this is the case the road is an assured fact.

Mr. Ballentine is asking for a 40-foot right of way, and says that his company will give all the assurance needed that it is not merely a promoter's scheme. He asks the cooperation of the citizens, and from his conservative statements evidently means business.—Capital Journal.

Court House News.

The county court met Friday and approved such bonds of the county officials as had been filed. Sheriff White has the U. S. Fidelity Security and Guaranty Co. as security for $10,000. Assessor D. B. McKnight has J. N. Duncan, J. W. McKnight, W. L. Vance, and R. W. Fisher, in the sum of $5,000. Surveyor Fisher has R. W. Fisher, J. N. Duncan, and W. E. Fisher, in the sum of $5,000. Superintendent Jackson's term does not begin until August, and his bond will be given before then. Treasurer Elkins filed his bond today, with the above security company as bondsman. It is said the recorder does not need to file a bond under the law, and has not done so.

Judge Stewart was early at his desk in the county court room. Clerk Payne will run the office as in the past, with F. C. Stellmacher as deputy. Sheriff White has Q. E. Propst as deputy, and I. A. Munkers will remain for some time. Recorder Francis has his daughter, Miss Elsie, as deputy, and Ex-Recorder Munkers will remain for a while to assist. The other offices are the same.

A Sensible Move.

The Pendleton city council has ordered that hereafter "no person shall at any time ignite or explode or set off any firecrackers, giant crackers, Chinese bombs or other bomb, rockets, petard, or any kind of explosives whatever" in certain parts of the city which are enumerated. This is a sensible move.
