WHY THIS LETHARGY?

Perhaps there has never been a presidential campaign with so little interest taken in it as is the case with the present one here in Oregon.

It is the interests of the common, ordinary citizens of our country that should be the concern of our senators and congressmen, as well as that of the president, then we opine that the people would manifest as lively interest in political affairs as ever.

Most of our maps of Asia are drawn to a small scale, and on such maps the Japanese archipelago fills little space, but is larger than England and more populous.

In ten years, from the end of Cleveland's administration to the end of Flower's the cost of governing the state of New York increased $5,000,000, or about 50 per cent.

It will require an appropriation of $40,000 to complete the payment of the claims of Indian War veterans, and there is no doubt that the next Legislature will not do this.

The farmers of any community who cannot see how they will be benefited by holding their home town, must be short-sighted indeed.

"Inoculating the Ground." The readers of the News will be greatly interested in a special article in the Century for October with the above title.

Crude petroleum is being used extensively as a means of allaying the summer dust. It is not so very expensive, when we take into consideration the length of time it lasts.

North investigating at least.

The further hearing of the W. A. H. Hearst case against the anti-trust carrying railroad is soon to come up before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Chicago.

T. A. Wood, the head of the Indian War Veterans, and of recent notoriety in the United States District Court in Portland, died of heart disease in that city last week.

In the Iowa penitentiary one man is in for six years for stealing chickens and another for a year and a half for stealing $54,000.

The District Primary law is pronounced so defective by good lawyers, Mayor Williams, of Portland, being among the number, that the legislature will have to amend it in order to make it operative.

Dr. William C. Maxwell, superintendent of public schools of New York city, declares thousands of children cannot learn and are hard to manage in school simply because they are hungry.

A SIGNIFICANT INCIDENT.

It will become the people of the North to grow hysterical or wax indignant over the attitude of the Southern people toward the colored race when a scene like that reported in a dispatch from Chicago a few days ago transpires in one of our greatest Northern cities among school children—a class that should be taught to sympathize with authority.

It is a pity that I am having the best time I ever had in my life. I think my money has been well spent. I would enjoy myself more if I were here to be with you.

While it would be invidious, to say the least, and wholly unnecessary, to employ a colored teacher in this or any other public school where the pupils are white children, the correction for such a mistake on the part of the school authorities should be with the parents.

It developed at the Methodist conference, held last week at Eugene, that several preachers receive less than $300 a year each, a few of them not to exceed $150, and one only $120.

POORLY PAID PREACHERS.

At the same time the pay of the average preacher should be sufficient to maintain himself in decency and to contribute with self respect should come at anything less—Oregon Journal.

Miss Olive Morris Notes On Her Eastern Trip.

Toledo, O., Sept. 25, 1904. Dear Emma—I received your letter last week, but had just written home so thought I would wait until today.

I wish you were here, for I am having the best time I ever had in my life. I think my money has been well spent. I would enjoy myself more if I were here to be with you.

The country does not look very much like I thought it would. I supposed everything would be dry, and that there would not be many trees.
