LOCAL

Dr. Pinter, dentist, Stayton, Oregon. Portland is now said to have 130,000 people by actual count.

Misses Myrtle and Lola Myers are visitors at the fair this week.

Quite a number of Scioans went over to the Lebanon picnic last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lewis of Cottage Grove were visitors at the home of Mrs. V. A. McKnight over Sunday.

Miss Flora Queen of Stayton came over yesterday with Miss Olive Morris for a few days' visit.

William Gunn, of Spokane, Wash., arrived in this city to visit his sister, Mrs. Mary J. Blyen, this week.

Miss Willis V. McKnight left for Salem on Saturday, where she has gone to attend to summer normal.

Miss Mayne Donohue went up to Detroit Tuesday for a month's visit and, incidentally, to catch a few trout.

Misses Lola and Myrtle Myers came up from Portland Wednesday for a few days' visit with the folks at home.

Jack Blyen is erecting an addition to his dwelling house, which adds much to the comfort and convenience thereof.

W. A. Ewing has been decorating his home with a coating of paint, an example that others would do well to follow.

The Albany Democrat thinks Mayor Davis should have declared Wednesday a legal holiday for Albany because of his wedding.

Mr. Thomas, of near Shelburn, has recovered his horses that he thought probably were stolen. They had strayed over near Silverton.

A big profit-sharing co-operative company is one of the coming events to be established in Oregon, with a capital stock of $50,000,000.

J. L. Barnes and daughter, of Pennsylvania, arrived in this city last week on a two or three months' visit to his brother, J. J., of this city.

Quite a number of our citizens attended church at Providence last Sunday, where a basket dinner was held and baptizing in the afternoon.

Some damage to the hay crop is reported because of the late rains. Gardens, though, are just reveling in the increased vigor the showers caused.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryson, of Adams, Nebraska, arrived in this city on a visit to his uncle, N. Young, last Saturday. Of course they take in the big fair on their trip.

Miss Laura Myers, of the Portland school, and Miss Maud Myers, of the Salem school, returned to their home in Scio on Saturday to spend their vacation.

Mr. J. F. Morris returned from her Marion county visit Saturday. With her came her daughter, Miss Anna, of Portland, for an over Sunday visit with home folks.

Death From Rattlesnake Bite

News was brought to this city last Friday that a little 5-year-old son of Frank Robinson of Jordan valley had been severely bitten by a rattlesnake. From Dr. Prill, who was called to attend the child as soon as possible, we learned the following facts:

It appears that the little boy, and an older sister were going across a field, when the little fellow, who was barefooted, came in contact with the snake, probably stepping upon it. At all events, the snake was quite vicious and sank the deadly fangs into the child's bare foot no less than three times, twice about the toes and once on the ankle. As a matter of course, the little fellow at once screamed. This attracted his sister, who at once rescued him from the proximity of the snake. The residence of A. M. Shelton was near, and the girl carried her brother here to get medical attention. Mr. Shelton then took charge of matters. He placed a cord around the boy's leg just below the knee, tight enough to stop the circulation of the blood, administered enough whiskey to make him drunk and applied such remedies to the wounds as were in the house. In the meantime a hurry telephone call was sent to this city for Dr. Prill, who drove up there as rapidly as possible. Upon his arrival he found the child's leg below the ligature was quite black or discolored. He at once cauterized the wounds, first enlarging them with a knife. When he removed the ligature the wounds bled quite freely. Upon examination, he found that the poison had reached the body, for the abdomen was swelling and becoming discolored. After doing everything possible, Dr. Prill returned to Scio, expecting to visit his patient again on the following morning. A telephone message was sent the doctor on the following (Saturday) morning that the child was dying and that a second visit was not necessary. Had Mr. Shelton been at the child's side as near him with the remedies he applied as he thought could have been applied instantly, the effect of the poison might have been counteracted. The few minutes required to carry the child to the house were sufficient for the deadly poison to get into the blood circulation, and the ligature was too late to prevent the fatal absorption of the poison by the system. Death resulted on Saturday morning.

Former Scio Pioneer Passes Away

Caleb W. Curl, a pioneer of Linn county and well known to all of the old settlers of the state, died at his home in Grass Valley, Sherman county, Friday morning, after an illness of several months, aged 76 years. Deceased was a native of Missouri and came across the plains with his parents in 1847, locating with his father in the forks of the Santiam, where he lived for many years. His father, James Curl, took up a donation land claim near Scio. About 18 years ago Mr. Curl sold his place and came to this city, and soon after he removed to Sherman county, where he has since resided on a farm.

About 55 years ago he married Miss Margaret Pulke, son, who with seven of the children born to them now survive to mourn his death. Three of their children died in infancy. Those living are: James Curl; Dr. R. H. Curl, of Albany; Dr. A. M. Curl, of Weiser, Idaho; D. H. Curl, of Lebanon; Mrs. Sarah Glassing and Mrs. E. H. Heath, of Grass Valley, and L. M. Curl, of this city.—Albany Herald.

BELOW COST

We have over 250 Men's and Boys' Suits that we will sell out below cost. Sale will commence Saturday, July 1, and will close July 15

This will not be a reduction sale, but a sale where you will have a chance to buy a suit below the wholesale price. We mean just what we say, and to convince you of the fact, we invite you to come and look over the suits and the prices. The suits will all be hung up and marked in good, plain figures, so that it will be no trouble for you to examine them. Remember that we are going to close the suits out regardless of prices. Now, if you are thinking of getting a suit this summer, this is your chance to get a good suit for little money.

The following prices are for cash and produce only:

Table with 2 columns: MEN'S SUITS and BOYS' SUITS. Prices listed for various suit styles and quantities.

WESELY BROS.

Asphyxiated

A telephone message to parties in this city from Jefferson on Wednesday conveyed the information of the death of two of Jefferson's most respected and popular ladies. We were unable to learn any of the particulars, further than the ladies, Mrs. Wm. Jones and Mrs. Richard Myers, went down to Portland, presumably to attend the big fair. After a day of sightseeing they repaired to their room (both occupying the same room) preparatory to retiring. Probably both were weary, and, when disrobed, unthinkingly blew out the gas jet and were soon enveloped in the arms of Morpheus and death.

It is quite strange, in spite of the many warnings and daily accounts of deaths from gas asphyxiation, that people will be so careless about such matters, when death is usually the penalty paid for such carelessness.

Later—The Albany Herald states that the unfortunate ladies were members of a large party that were on their way to Prineville to file on timber claims. On arriving in Portland on Tuesday, the party decided to remain over one day and visit the exposition. The deceased were stopping at the residence of J. D. Myers instead of at a hotel. Both ladies were somewhat fleshy. When found the next morning, Mrs. Jones was properly covered with the bed clothes, while Mrs. Myers was found at the window, which she had evidently been attempting to raise. The circumstance is a most distressing one.
