Miss Maud Myers returned Tuesday from a visit with Salem friends.

Frank, Ralph, Roy and John Gill went on a fishing trip last Saturday.

Grandma Allison and Mrs. Frank Morris went to Portland last Friday.

Charley M. Donald, late of Dayton, Wash., is now foramen in the News office.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morrow were in Albany last Saturday, says the Albany Herald.

Mrs. W. R. Connor returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives at Portland and Oregon City.

G. W. Morrow is making preparation to build another story on his hotel during the summer and fall.

Joe Wesley and Miss Nellie Morrow went to Portland, last Sunday, to spend a week looking at the big fair.

Mrs. A. D. Woodhams and family and Mrs. Joe Markers, visited Mrs. A. A. Fleener, of Albany last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm May and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McBride and son went to Portland Tuesday, to see the big fair.

WASHERS—1000 men, women and children to carry away 5, 6, 7 and 8 cent meat from the Farmers Meat Market.

The excursion train for Newport will leave Detroit next Sunday at 4:30 a. m., probably passing Munkers at about 6 a. m.

Mrs. Linnie Eschelman, of this city, will join her husband, who is working on the Calipso wagon road, next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Shumaker, of Lebanon came over Wednesday, to visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grill, of this city.

Mrs. L. Johnson of Roseburg, who has been visiting Mrs. Linnie Eschelman, of this city, will return to her home this week.

Dr. Prill and wife went to Portland Monday, the doctor to attend the medical association and Mrs. Prill to take in the Lewis and Clark fair.

A Portland Socialist who promised in haranguing crowds on the street, was arrested and fined this week, for failing to obey the order "move on."

The travel over the S. P. is very heavy. The trains run in three or four sections of a dozen cars each. Lewis and Clark is a big thing for the railroads and hotels.

LAST—Last Thursday evening, between Scio and the Cyrus saw mill, a pair of gold rimmed spectacles with case. Finder will please leave at J. J. Barnes & Son's blacksmith shop.

J. J. Barnes and brother and niece, who are visiting him and whose home is in Pennsylvania, Miss Nellie Barnes, L. W. Penney and J. A. Wallace, were Albany visitors last Friday.

The Oregon militia goes to Gearhart Park, this week, for the annual encampment. "A" troop, of Lebanon, does not go to Gearhart, but makes a practice march to Portland and return instead.

George Queener and Leo Rand, of Rippen Den started, Wednesday, bound for Walla Walla. They are on a prospecting tour; George did not state whether it was for gold, girls, or what?

The ladies of the Baptist church will give a lawn social, at the Baptist church on Friday evening. Everyone is invited to come and hear a good program and have a good social evening. Ice cream will be sold at the usual price.

Last Saturday was the hottest day of the season, so far. Thermometers marked from 98 to 100 degrees in the shade above zero. The main business of people about town seemed to be, searching for a cool place.

Wm. Bremer, Fred Jones and A. L. Richardson, attended the Albany races, Friday. Fred Jones rode the Engine horse in the half mile running race and crossed the wire first. All of the boys claim they made even money.

John Griffin escaped last week from the penitentiary on a ten-day parole. If the authorities wish to find him, he is visiting among relatives and friends in Scio and vicinity. John reports that every thing is running very smoothly down at the pen.

It is reported that on July 7, Mr. Eugene Gerard, teacher for the Tripp tract colony, up in Rippen Den, and Miss Lydia Weisner were married, at Albany. Mr. Gerard is said to be quite an accomplished scholar, being master of four or five different languages.

J. S. Morris has about completed the harvesting of a little less than an acre of loganberries. He has gathered about 600 gallons at the present time and will get together 100 gallons more. The berries have been a quick sale at 25c per gallon and better. Over 450 per acre is not a bad return as a years product.

Saturday evening a difficulty occurred over on the South side between Ben Goodish and John Smetzer. The ruction was over a bicycle and as both parties were pretty well filled up with beer a very little misunderstanding soon resulted in a trial of conclusion with nature's weapons of offense and defense. The only party that is ahead as we have learned so far, is the city recorder.

Mrs. Nora Thompson and little son Kenneth, of Dallas, arrived in this city last Friday, on a visit to Mrs. Jennie Warner and other Scio friends.

Dr. Pinter, dentist, Stayton, Oregon. Forest fires are raging over in Washington.

Scio will see considerably improvement before the end of the year, if reports are reliable.

The Scio Milling Co., is going to replace the dilapidated porch in front of the mill, with a new one.

Mrs. T. L. Dugger tenders her profound thanks to Wm. Bremser for a fine mess of mountain trout.

It begins to look as if there was more than mere chin music in the matter of extending the C. & E. railroad.

Teachers Election.

Scho's board of school directors have elected the following teachers for the ensuing school year: Principal, H. O. Anderson, of Ashland, Ore; sub-principals, Miss Della A. Stewart, of Ashland; Rebecca Crooks, of Albany, and Iva R. Stevenson, of Halkey.

Prof. Anderson comes very highly recommended as well as Miss Stewart, Misses Crooks and Stevenson are well known here, being members of the corps of teachers of last year.

Long Loetj's Sisters United.

There arrived in Albany on July 1, a Mrs. White, of Cincinnati, Ohio on a three months visit to her sister, Mrs. S. A. Fleener, of the former city. These sisters were separated in their babyhood both of whom are now well advanced in years. Being separated at the ages of three and eight years, they had completely lost track of each other. In fact neither knew that the other was living. Last year Mrs. Fleener concluded that, if possible, she would discover her sister if she was in the land of the living and by judicious advertising the long lost sister was located in the Ohio metropolis. Correspondence was opened and has culminated in the present visit. Mrs. Fleener and Mrs. White are both of the opinion that it pays to advertise.

Harvest Accident.

L. R. Bierly, residing in Syracuse, was assisting in unloading some hay at his place Saturday when he met with an accident that is liable to terminate fatally. The hay fork after being tripped slipped off the end of the trip and fell. Mr. Bierly was directly underneath. He raised his right hand to ward it off, when one of the prongs of the big fork went down in a slanting direction between two of the ribs, the weight of the fork then throwing the tip into his lung several inches, causing a bad wound. Dr. Hawk, of Jefferson was called, and today Dr. M. H. Ellis was sent for in consultation, and reports a dangerous wound—Albany Democrat.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

On the morning of July 5, George Healy, who was compositor in the News office for the three preceding months, suddenly disappeared. While Healy is a traveling printer, who as a class the News has found to be very unreliable, he appeared to be fairly well contented and satisfied with his job. On the evening of the 4th, he had been drinking somewhat, though so far as we could see not to excess. On the morning of the 5th, he went to work as usual. We had been out of the office about one-half hour and upon returning found Healy absent; since when no one here has seen him. By some he was thought to be somewhat muddled in mind, and at times he talked somewhat suicidal. He left what extra clothing he had at this office and at the Richardson hotel, where he boarded. While everything may be all right and he has just taken a walk and has forgotten to come back, still his going is odd, to say the least. There was no money due him of any consequence, nor was he in debt about town to amount to anything, so far as we have learned. He was about 55 years old, florid complexion, rather of heavy build, about 5 feet 8 inches tall and would weigh 180 or 190 pounds.

Ranch Sale.

I will sell, at public auction, my farm of 53 acres, situated 4 miles east of Scio and adjoining Mart Blyen's farm on the west; about 30 acres in cultivation, balance pasture and some timber; house and barn, small orchard and good spring water. Also 1 span of brown horses; 4 milk cows, fresh; 2 yearling heifers; 1 head of hogs; 1 wagon; 1 set of harness; 1 load of iron; 1 iron harrow, chickens, ducks, geese, some 16-inch grub oak wood and all my household goods.

Sale to be at said farm, commencing at 1 p. m.

ON SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1905.

Terms of Sale: All sums of $10 and under, cash in hand; all over, note with approved security, bearing 6 per cent interest and due October 1, 1906; 5 per cent off for cash on sums of over $10.

Sutherland's II Epistle to Dugger.

Dear brother Dugger: I greet you with a happy "How are you?" Since writing chapter I, some changes have taken place and some events happened and gone.

First—the celebration of the 4th on top of Grizzly mountain and some five or six other places in the country. I was sick on that day, so did not attend any of them. The next (about) feature of the 4th was the general drinking of graft by the stands, whiskey drinking, and dancing in the evening. It does not seem to me, that many people enter into the spirit of the principles that characterized this day, by those who celebrated it first. Perhaps some other day in this generation which may be made as sacred to us may be observed in as bad or a worse way. I noticed a piece in "the News" of June 30, touching upon the theme hitting the nail square upon the head that will finally bring this event to pass he did, "Assessors and their duties." "Taxation without representation." When the wealthy classes receive their property from taxation, thereby making the burden fall heavier upon the poorer classes. This, in time, will bring a revolt among any people or nation—but enough of this.

Some changes have taken place in this country since my last epistle, relative to the crop conditions. During the past week the hot winds from the north-west have made a most wonderful change in the outlook of spring sown grain. Farmers say that much of it will not be worth cutting. So, all together hot winds, sage rats and wheat aphid the prospect looks blue. I notice a field of wheat that I pass through going to and from dinner, that the wheat aphid is as bad as any I ever saw in the valley. Sage rats are as thick as the lice in Egypt and are destroying much grain.

This country is not as flush with money as one often hears in the valley. There are many, many poor people out here. Those who depend upon farming are in no better condition than those in the valley. Most of them are greatly in debt. Many of them juggle a few dimes in their pockets but have large accounts not paid and collections this fall will, certainly, be hard to make.

I bear some talk, and it seems to be pretty generally believed, that the Columbia Southern R. R., is going to be extended into this country this summer and fall. But I can't see now what there is in this country that would pay one to build and operate a railroad. It seems to me, if any railroad would pay, it would be the C. & E. It is only about 90 miles due west from Lamonta to Scio and 70 miles from Scio to Portland, making 160 miles. From here to Portland, via the Columbia Southern is about 200 miles. The difference in the distance of the two routes would be quite an item in travel and freight.

Brother, there are some beautiful scenes from nature to be had from Lamonta. On the night of the 4th, we witnessed the display of fire works from the very top of Mt. Hood. Mt. Jefferson looms up grandly, when kissed by the morning sun, only about 50 miles N. W. of us; to the S. W. the Three Sisters show up quite as fine, and almost due west are Three Fingers Jack and Squaw Nipple—all snow capped mountains. I tell you it is a beautiful scene when the morning sun first kisses them. I wonder why it is that some poet has not written something of these beautiful scenes from Lamonta.

I will close by giving you a short verse of my own composition and when you have read it, I know you will say I was born a poet.

Old Mt. Hood is mighty big,
Jefferson can be seen,
Three Sisters father to the south
Squaw Nipple in between.
Now Sutherland is at Lamonta,
But home, he would love to be,
Instead of writing poetry,
For all his friends to see.
Good bye brother, I don't know what chapter III will be.

GEO. L. SUTHERLAND.

Wedding Bells.

A very pleasant wedding took place at the home of A. M. Shelton last Wednesday at noon when his youngest daughter Miss Maud Shelton was united in marriage to Dr. H. E. Burmaster of North Bend, Coos Co., Ore. The wedding was witnessed by only a few friends and immediate relatives. The bridegroom, Miss Adelle Shelton, was a beautiful bride organically and the bride a cream silk bearing a bouquet of carnations, glaucs and lilies. The bridegroom and his attendant Mr. Aurthur Deaver were dressed in black and all did their parts well. Rev. J. W. Mount of Scio in a brief but unique ceremony pronounced the happy couple husband and wife.

Dr. Burmaster graduated from the North Pacific Dental college last May and located in North Bend where he now enjoys a good practice in his profession. He is a most worthy young man of whom the citizens of Linn Co. justly feel proud and wish him success and much happiness.

Mrs. Burmaster is a beautiful and worthy lady for whom her parents and friends have a special fondness. The parents of both parties are pioneer citizens of Jordan valley well known and liked in the country.
