BOYS

We want to send you, free of all cost, 10 copies of our journal, which you can sell for 50c. You retain the entire amount to pay for your future supplies, which we will furnish to you at a special rate in order to encourage you to build up a permanent monthly route. Address a postal card to Dept. A and we will send the papers by return of mail. This pays you 50c and will only cost you 1c, so attend to it at once, as we can only supply them to a limited number in each district. In fact, to only one if it is in the country.

S. V. Hall, of the Hall Lumber Co., was an Albany visitor the first of the week.

George Geisendorfer, of Cascadia springs, passed through town Wednesday.

G. W. Morrow and wife went to Portland Wednesday, for a final look at the fair.

Jack Jones returned from an over Sunday visit to Albany, Monday morning.

Peter Rund, of Bilyeu Den, returned from a business trip to Albany, Saturday morning.

Mis Alda Powell, who has been in Portland for several months, is home for a visit.

J. Y. Turner and wife, of Douglas county, Wash., are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

A. J. May, Wm. May's father, who lives over in the Prineville country, is visiting his son.

Dr. Browne reports three cases of typhoid fever at or near Lacomb, contracted at the hop yards.

Road work is now in progress on the Joe Young lane under the direction of Supervisor Pomeroy.

Enoch Shelton and family, Mrs. L. W. Pomeroy and Gene Pomeroy went down to the fair Sunday.

President E. W. Langdon, of the First National Bank, Albany, was doing business in this city, Wednesday.

Geo. Phillips, Woodburn's barber, came up the first of the week for a few days pheasant shooting.

Rev. J. W. Mount left Monday evening for Eugene to attend the Baptist state convention this week.

Slate Williams with a crew of men have been engaged, this week in placing the Morrow barn in secure position.

Did you see the turkey with legs as large as telephone poles they are giving away at the Farmers Meat Market?

W. W. Slade, of Boone, Boone county, Nebraska, paid his friend Ed Balschweid of this city, a two days visit last week.

Chas. Wesely is this week moving into his elegant new store building and is opening up a large stock of new goods.

A freshet, caused by the recent rains, broke the log boom above Jefferson and scattered 600,000 feet of logs down the Santiam river.

Fred Bilyeu and wife went to Eugene Wednesday, for the purpose of making that city their home. The News follows them, of course.

Peter Brenner and family, of near Arlington, Oregon, who have been visiting relatives in this locality, returned to their home, the first of the week. Twenty-three years ago, Mr. Brenner was a resident of this city.

John Craft, of Lebanon, who fell out of an Independence barn a couple of weeks ago, is at a Salem hospital, with no hope of recovery. His back was not broken, as was reported, but his spine was so injured that paralysis resulted.

Wm. Brenner has brought a part of his cattle from the mountains. They were pasturing on ground that had been lately burned over, and were not doing as well as he thought they would do on the home pasture; so the transfer was made.

Monday George Griffin, Art Shelton, Vardie Shelton, Frank Shelton, Norman Daly, Henry Bilyeu, Mike Bilyeu, Geo. Daly and John Turner, went to Portland to attend the Lewis and Clark fair, and a part of them to attend the Grand Lodge of K. of P. Messrs George Griffin and Art Shelton being the delegates selected by Leonidas Lodge, of this city.

Linn county seems to be faring pretty well at the Lewis and Clark fair. At the close of last week 121 medals, 44 of which are gold, and the major portion of the balance being silver, were awarded to Linn county. T. J. Munkers, of this city, being among the latter, for white winter wheat; R. Shelton, silver medal for orchard grass; Scio Flax Mills, gold medal for flax and tow. (When the final awards are made we will give a list of those coming to Linn county-ed.)

This is the last week of the Lewis and Clark fair. A large majority of our citizens have paid it a visit during the season and think, as a rule, that they were well repaid for the time and expense. But all lines of business in the valley, outside of Portland, has been somewhat slack, to what it would have been if the people had not been required to spend their money visiting the fair. But, let us hope, the people received full value in the way of information and enjoyment, for the expense incurred.

That $1000 Prize.

When the judges to make awards in county exhibits, down at the Lewis and Clark fair, compared their markings for first place, it was found that six counties had tied for first place. The only way of the dilemnia was to devide the $1000 equally among the six counties, which was done. The counties are Marion, Coos, Linn, Umatilla, Wasco and Lane. This action may, have seemed best to the judges, but it was not in accordance withe terms of the contest. The prmium should have been given to one of the counties. Compromise verdicts are, as a rule, simply a means of dodging responsibility. Linn county was entitled to the first prize, or some one of the other five were and should have received the whole of the award.

Grand Officers.

The Grand Lodge, K. P. elected the following officers, in Portland, this week:

Grand Chancellor, Marion F. Davis; vice grand chancellor, J. M. Wall; grand prelate, G. C. Moser; grand keeper of records and seals, L. R. Stinson; grand master of exchequer, J. W. Maloney; grand master-at-arms, C. J. Howard; grand inner guard, L. Bronough; grand outer guard, Frank Thompson; supreme representative, Judge H. M. Cake; grand trustee, L. M. Curl, Organization of Literary Society.

On Friday evening of last week the young people of Scio met in the school assembly hall for the purpose of organizing a Literary Society; Wade Cyrus acting as temporary chairman.

Miss Winnefred Munkers, Mr. Anderson and Miss Stevenson were appointed as a committee on Constitution and By-laws.

On motion the chairman appointed Miss Sylvia Munkers and Miss Grace Gill as a committee for the entertainment of the Society on next Friday evening; and they have arranged for the following programme:—

Buys a Scio Home.

Last week John Frost (not Jack Frost) purchashed the Peter Bilyeu property in south Scio. John states that it is his intention to erect an $800 to $1000 residence thereon next spring. This is somewhat of a strange notion for a bachelor to take; but then you can't always tell what fool notions a bachelor will entertain. Evidently some of the fair daughters of the Forks of the Santiam could throw floods of light on the proposition if she only would do so. Any way we will gladly welcome John as a fellow townsman.

Took a Slide.

Last Thursday night George Morrow's barn must have concluded that is was some sort of a boat, for it made quite an effort to launch itself upon the bosom of the raging waters of Thomas creek. The south end of the barn stood some 7 or 8 feet high. For some reason the foundation gave way and the barn nearly sliding into the water. Mr. Morrow's horse and cows were in the barn when it made the tumble; but, luckily were not injured in the fall. It will cost several dollars to place the barn as it was before the tumble.

Wretched Service.

About the most wretched service that can be found on any railroad, probably now exists on the Woodburn-Springfield branch of the S. P. The trains are what are called "mixed," and they are rightnamed for the whole business seems to be badly mixed. The carrying of the Scio mail, south bound, by and returning it the following morning is getting to be quite a common occurrence. On Wednesday of last week, the conductor, who is express messenger, neglected to deliver the express matter and carried it on up to Springfield, returning it on the following morning. Last Saturday the mail agent was asleep as usual and carried all of the paper mail on south. Nor does it seem to do any good to kick. Postmaster Gill and the News have both protested; but the trouble still exists Wake up! boys and give Scio a square deal.
