LOCAL
 City election next Monday.
 Herald—Solo—Saturday, December second.
 Thanksgiving was a remarkably quiet one in Solo.
 Jimmy Daley, of Stayton, came over last Friday.
 Christmas gifts at F. M. French's jewelry store, Albany.
 Our business houses closed up for the day at noon Thursday.
 John Leffer shipped quite a large bunch of sheep this week.
 W. J. Murphy, of Monks, spent Thanksgiving in Albany.
 A great many Oregon towns will hold city elections next Monday.
 Miss Annie Anderson, of West Solo, paid Albany a visit on Monday.
 Wesley & Cain relate a story about mate 13 this issue. See their adv.
 Joseph Zeller, of this vicinity, paid Albany a business visit last Friday.
 R. Shelton partook of turkey with his family at Corvallis on Thanksgiving day.
 Farmer Ira Feren spent Thanksgiving in this city among old friends and relatives.
 Henry Lyons, of Lyons, was a passenger on Wednesday evening's C. & E. train.
 Don McKnight is again at his post of duty on R. F. D. No. 1 after his severe illness.
 It is said that the "wet" and "dry" proposition will figure somewhat in the Albany city election.
 A basket social was given at the Red school house, two miles east of Solo, Thanksgiving evening.
 Misses Agnes Wesley and Emma Marrow went over to Stayton on yesterday morning's C. & E. train.
 Pat Thomas says he is going to move down in Chickamauk county, between Oregon City and Portland.
 M. E. Blyen, county janitor over at the court house, Albany, came over for a day's visit last Saturday.
 Just remember your home paper is working for your own interests. It is worthy of your support.
 Ira Abbott, (Jack Rabbit), who has been at Moro for several months, returned to Solo last Thursday.
 Work on the grain elevator is moving along slowly. Another month will be required to complete the building.
 A. W. H. guy is now at Salem receiving medical treatment. His friends earnestly hope that the cure may be permanent.
 Leave your orders for election tickets at the Solo office on Saturday. The price will be less than if you bring the order on Sunday.
 C. S. Harnish will be at the Solo gallery Saturday morning, 2 to 5. He will remain three days. This will be the last trip this winter.
 John Fuhite, of Salem, came over from Albany on Saturday morning's C. & E. train and went out for a few days visit with his brother.
 The News family is indebted to Uncle John Richardson for some most excellent squashes—the best ever. They are even better than sweet potatoes.
 Paik Thomas, an old-time resident of Solo, but who has during recent years lived in Eastern Oregon, is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.
 While we are having but moderate winter rains, snow blizzards are the order of the day in Eastern Oregon and in the Northern Mississippi states.
 Don McKnight thinks one horse and cart is hardly sufficient to cover his mail route daily, considering the weather, so he now utilizes two horses and a buggy.
 Wm. Brenner took a car load of fat cattle, the choice of the county, to Portland Wednesday. He expects to get at least three cents per pound, live weight, for them.
 Albany has a few cases of diphtheria and a number of cases of measles. Measles is afflicted with diphtheria to the extent that the public schools have been closed.
 Gene Fomeny is slowly convalescing after his long and severe illness. He is now able to sit up part of the time and hopes, in a few weeks, to be restored to good health.
 H. W. Blyen, of Tecoa, Washington, came down to Albany last week to take treatment from the Chinese doctor over there. Hub thinks he is troubled with cancer of the stomach.
 Low—One red cow with white spots, left ear split and branded No. 2 on right side; also one red steer, one-year-old; any person finding trace of them notify MIKE WYORNA.
 Tucker & Jones contributed $50 to the city's exclusive last Monday morning for having kept open house Saturday night extending well into Sunday morning, and for permitting gambling.
 We are showing a very large line of watches, jewelry, diamonds and cut glass, and silver novelties suitable for Christmas presents, and at very reasonable prices. F. M. French, jewelry, Albany.
 Mrs. Mary Hume, of Monms, Wash., only sister of the News editor, who has been visiting in this city for the past two or three weeks, started last Friday night for Los Angeles, to visit another brother.
 Quite a large number of our young people who delight in "tripping the light fantastic toe," attended the Thanksgiving ball at Stayton last evening. The Western orchestra furnished the music.
 The entertainment given at the public school hall Wednesday evening by the little folks is pronounced good by everybody. The receipts at the door were $25.50; in the refreshment room, $12.50, making a total of $38.00.
 Frank Vavra was the lucky man in the Wesley & Cain drawing in being the first name drawn from the bag; consequently the money was refunded him that day. The prize was $1,000. J. W. Compton drew the rattle and Ernest Rain the pair of socks.

 Subscriptions from this date to January 1, 1915, taken at this office for $1.25 each. We are not offering a free trip to the Sandwich islands, nor a rubber tired buggy as a bonus, but we do offer the best solid and editorial newspaper that we can make. Give the News a trial.
 Judge C. E. Wolverton will take his seat on the U. S. district court bench sometime next week, owing to the accumulation of business in that court since Judge Ballinger's death. It is said, however, that Hunt, of Montana, will try the Kings, Hermann and other prominent land fraud cases.
 A daily pastime of a number of our citizens is exercising the bear and, incidentally, to give some 15 or 20 dogs a little recreation. If the dogs could be put after a genuinely wild bear the probability is that Solo's dog nuisance would be solved in a great measure. There would be several dogs too to infect our streets.

A. T. Powell and his daughter from the Sautian country, were in the city yesterday and on their way home, in the edge of town, they lost a lady's hat. They returned to the city but found no trace of the lost article—Saturday's Albany Herald. She is one of our leading profit's and of course there is nothing regular in the above item.
 The price of the News is now the same as formerly, $1.25 in advance; $1.50 at the end of the year; $2 if not paid before the end of the second year. For clubs of two subscribers, if paid in advance, $2.25; for clubs of three, $3; for clubs of five, $5 and a year's subscription free to the person who gets up the club. These clubbing rates must not include more than one old subscriber.
 Some two or three months ago L. W. Fomeny publicly stated that he would not accept the position of road supervisor for road district No. 18. Later, when the solicitation of many residents of the district, he has reconsidered the matter and if the county court sees proper to reappoint him he will serve.
 Bids are now being circulated to that end in the district and are being generally signed. Mr. Fomeny is one of the best road bosses in the county. The manner in which he has built roads in the district during the past two or three years demonstrates that fact and the court will act wisely if it reappoints him.

Death of John J. Craft
 Our readers will remember that on September 24 John Craft fell from a barn at Independence and was injured, breaking his back. He was immediately taken to the Salem hospital for medical care where he remained until November 13. As no hopes of recovery were given by the hospital physicians, he was removed to the home of F. L. Smith, near Lebanon, where he was tenderly cared for until death, which occurred on November 24, ended his suffering. The funeral occurred at Providence on the 24th.
 John J. Craft was born in Chickasaw county, Iowa, December 5, 1862; removed with his parents to Grant River, Iowa, arriving there October 1, 1864, via the ox team route; removed to Williamsburg, Iowa, and settled near Providence, where he has continued to make his home. He was married to Miss S. L. Smith in September, 1880. At the time of his death he lacked but few days of being 42 years old.

The Quizzing Contest
 Last week the quizzing contest at the Farmers' market was a close one. The list of names, the number of which was the basis of the various guesses, was opened and there was found, by careful itemizing, the following list of winners: Ray, R. B. Eschelman and L. E. Miller led the counting. The turkey was won by Wm. Blyen, whose guess was 230; the goose to Kenneth Miller, of Croftree, who guessed 230; the duck to Dr. Prill, guess 227; the fat hen to E. E. Foster, 227; the Bologna sausage was awarded to the following: John Simons, 224; Wm. Miller, 247; E. E. Foster, 224; Dr. Prill, 219; Joe Simons, 219 and J. 217.

ITEMS OF NEWS.
 The Journal says that Portland ate 12,000 lbs. of turkey Thursday.
 The worst storm for thirty years was reported to be raging in the vicinity of Lake Superior on Monday.
 The Portland base ball team finished up the first series of games at near the cellar position as they count.
 Oregon's big foot ball game occurred in Portland yesterday between Portland and the state university team.
 The entire Russian Black Sea fleet is said to have departed and a released navy lieutenant has taken command of the fleet as commander.
 A Chinaman, Washington, man was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary for forging an order for a two-hundred dollar bill.
 Compare this sentence with that of Senator Burton and the courts are not so high in Arkansas.
 Ex-Congressman Dismore, of Arkansas, was fined $1 for smashing Governor Jefferson Davis, of that state, on the head with the butt of a revolver, and was fined $50 for carrying concealed weapon. Governors' loads are not valued very highly in Arkansas.
 Senator Burton has been sentenced to serve six months in jail and to pay a fine of $2500. If he had held up a man on the highway and robbed him of 20 cents, the robber would probably have been sentenced to the penitentiary for five years. Position in life counts largely with some courts.
 Smallpox is existing in a small way in Portland. One of the big department stores had one of the employees taken down with it. Several other employees in the vicinity. Every precaution was taken to prevent the spread of the disease.
 Hearst, the debated candidate for mayor of New York, has succeeded in obtaining an order from the courts to have the ballot boxes opened and a recount of the vote made. In every case where the vote was contested Mr. Hearst has been the winner.

MARRIED.
 RICHARDSON—WOODMANSE.—At the Christian parsonage in Albany, on Saturday, November 20, 1910, by Rev. J. Evans, Mr. T. A. Richardson to Mrs. M. E. Woodmanse, both of Solo.
 We have thought Tommy was giving more close attention to shipping matters at West Solo than his interests, as a stockman, required. The above notice is a satisfactory explanation. The Albany Herald, however, is mistaken in giving Mr. Richardson's vocation. He is one of our energetic stockmen, and not a herringman. The News extra congratulated one. Of course, Tommy will now learn telegraphically.
