Thompson of Lewiston, Me., reports great benefit to her little girl from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly purified her blood after an attack of that blood-poisoning disease, scarlet fever. Hell!
A young lady, desiring to communicate with a certain society house, was told to call him up by telephone at his club at a certain hour. She rang up the exchange, gave the number and waited. Presently a voice said:

"Hello," she called. "Is Mr. S. there?"

"Mr. S.?"

"Mr. S. No."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, sure. We have no record of any one of that name being here."

"Please look and see if he isn't somewhere about."

"There's no one looking, ma'am. We have 'em all down in the book."

"Well, it is strange. I was told that he would be there at this hour."

"Say, look here, what number do you want?"

"Why, 23."

Lincoln's First Election.

Lincoln's election to the legislature of Illinois in August, 1834, marks the end of the pioneer period of his life. He was done now with the wild carelessness of the woods, with the rough jollity of Clark's Grove, with odd jobs for his daily bread—until all the details of frontier poverty. He continued for years to be a very poor man, harassed by debts he was constantly laboring to pay, and sometimes absolutely without money, but from this time on he met and worked with men of wider knowledge and better trained minds than those he had known in Gentryville and New Salem; while the simple social life of Vandalia, where he went to attend the sessions of the legislature, was more elegant than anything he had yet seen.—St. Nicholas.

IN THE NATIONAL HALLS OF CONGRESS

Monday, March 12.

Washington, March 12.—There was a sharp division of opinion in the senate today over the question whether the Tillman-Gillette resolution instructing the Interstate Commerce commission to inquire into the railroad holdings of coal and oil lands justified the president's message regarding it. Tillman complained that the resolution charged congress with insincerity, pretense and ignorance. Lodge and Spooner took the position that the charge of ignorance was warranted.

The debate was interrupted at 2 o'clock, when Culberson was recognized to speak on the railroad rate bill. He read a section of his bill to create emergency powers for the Interstate Commerce commission, which he will offer as a substitute for the pending measure.

Foraker took issue with Culberson when he declared congress itself had contrived the commerce clause of the constitution as giving it power to fix rates, by granting a Federal charter to the Union Pacific railway. In that act it reserved to itself the power to regulate the commerce clause in that legislation. This Foraker contended should not be so held.

Washington, March 12.—Carrying on the recommendation of the commission that investigated the wreck of the Valencia, Senator Piles and Representative Humphrey today introduced a bill authorizing the construction of an ocean-going tug for use on the North Pacific coast from the entrance of Puget sound southward along the coast of Oregon. This tug is to be designed primarily for use in times of emergency, such as shipwreck, and intended to be otherwise useful in caring for life and property along the north coast.

No specific appropriation is made by the bill, the size of the appropriation to be determined by a committee, but it is stipulated that the vessel shall be built under the direction of the secretary of the treasury, and shall be controlled by the revenue cutter service. Her crew shall include skilled men detailed from the life-saving service.

Senator Piles also introduced a bill authorizing the establishment of three life-saving stations on the Washington coast between Gray's Harbor and Cape Fattery.

Friday, March 9.

Washington, March 9.—A resolution and a bill designed to amend the Tillman-Gillette resolution for the Interstate Commerce commission to inquire into the railroad holdings of coal and oil lands were introduced by Representative Townsend of Michigan, and the bill by Representative Gillette of Texas.

Townsend introduced an appropriation of $50,000 to carry on the investigation, and the Gillette bill makes an appropriation of $100,000 for the same purpose.

Washington, March 9.—Today at 5:45 p. m. the senate passed a bill for the admission of a new state called Oklahoma and to be composed of the Territory of Oklahoma and Indian Territory. It was the house joint resolution bill with all the provisions relating to Arizona and New Mexico.

The motion to strike out was made by Burrows, and it was carried by the close vote of 37 to 35, after having been lost by the still closer vote of 35 to 35.

Immediately after the disposal of the statehood bill the house railroad rate bill was made the unfinished business, but, as the senate adjourned over Saturday and Sunday, the question of consideration of the measure will not begin until Monday.

Thursday, March 8.

Washington, March 8.—Today afforded the last opportunity for general debate on the statehood bill, and the session was devoted to that order of business. Starting with a speech by McCumber, which began a few minutes after 11 o'clock, there was no cessation in the speaking until adjournment.

The whole time was occupied by three senators, Beveridge, McCumber and Patterson, the former supporting and the latter two opposing it. Beveridge contended, that while Arizona and New Mexico were unprepared for separate statehood, it was unjust to keep them out of the Union as one state.

He took the ground that the statehood amendment, which allows each territory to vote separately on the question of statehood, was a violation of the principle of equal representation.

Water Rights for Irrigated Towns.

Washington, March 7.—The house committee on irrigation today favorably reported the senate bill authorizing the withdrawal of 160-acre tracts under government irrigation projects for townsite purposes and authorizing the granting of such water rights to such towns, which shall be paid for by the towns, the money to go into the reclamation fund; also authorizing the secretary of the interior to lease water power under all government projects where water can be utilized without interfering with irrigation.

Hermann as a Plagiarist.

Washington, March 7.—Representative Hermann, probably a fit of sentimentality, today introduced another joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

This is the second time that Hermann has introduced this resolution, and in each instance he offered resolutions that had previously been introduced by other members, running down through the name of the original author and writing his own.

Justice to Seized Sealers.

Washington, March 7.—The senate today passed senator Fulton's bill providing for the return of sealers' vessels seized in Belting sea by American revenue cutters to bring suit to recover on losses sustained. This bill, it is passed by the house, will put the sealers on an equal basis as foreigners who suffered from like seizures or as American sealers whose ships were seized by the Russian government.

Allot Colville Reserve.

Washington, March 12.—There is every reason to believe that the congress will pass the bill now pending before the floor of the senate. There is no other important legislation now pending that can reasonably be interposed to command prior consideration.

The statehood bill, the Philippine bill, the Panama bill and the Senate Domingo treaty are all out of the way for the time being, at least, and there is nothing to prevent continuous consideration of the rate bill, at least until the 30th of the month, when the committee on privileges and elections.

Railroad Bill Now Up.

Washington, March 12.—The railroad rate bill is now on its feet on the floor of the senate. There is no other important legislation now pending that can reasonably be interposed to command prior consideration.

The statehood bill, the Philippine bill, the Panama bill and the Senate Domingo treaty are all out of the way for the time being, at least, and there is nothing to prevent continuous consideration of the rate bill, at least until the 30th of the month, when the committee on privileges and elections.
