Some men's idea of economy is to spend less money for some other necessity and more for clothes.

Because of the methods, organization and immensity of the tailor shops that the clothes we measure men for come from no stinting is necessary to obtain here a suit or overcoat of as good value as the local tailor can give you for 100% more.

And every garment made strictly to each man's measure—to modify every abnormality—to build up every shortcoming.

HARRY BEARD ARRESTED.

Taken Into Custody in This City by Sheriff D. S. Smith.

A warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Smith on September 19 for the arrest of Harry Beard, of this city, for the crime of larceny by bailment. Sheriff Smith knows his business thoroughly. He also knew the character and habits of the man he was commanded to arrest. He knew that if he kept quiet for a few days Beard would conclude that danger of arrest had blown over and would come out from cover. The Sheriff's conjecture was correct. By some means he ascertained that Harry was at his home here in Scio last Monday and accordingly about noon the Sheriff drove into Beard's home at the North end of Main Street. Knocking at the door, Mrs. Beard (Harry's mother) answered the summons. The Sheriff asked if Harry was there. Mrs. Beard did not give a satisfactory answer and attempted to close the door. The Sheriff, however, crowded into the room and seeing A. F. Beard (Harry's father) asked for Harry. Mr. Beard said he was in that room, at the same time indicating a door. Entering the room, Harry was found and the warrant of arrest exhibited to him. When asked if he was ready to go, Harry responded affirmatively and at once accompanied the Sheriff and deputy to the Scio City Jail. He was here left in charge of Deputy Bilyeu while Sheriff Smith secured some dinner, after which the first stage of the journey to prison was taken.

When Sheriff Smith arrived in Albany with his prisoner, he was at once arraigned before Justice L. L. Swan. Beard waived examination and his bonds were placed at $500. As no one came forward to sign up on the bonds, Harry now languishes in the County Jail, where he will have plenty of time to meditate over his misdeeds.

BUTLER CREEK ITEMS.

We have had a fine refreshing rain, and for a few days we imagined we were living in the Valley again.

Evelyn Bilyeu and Maud Irvine arrived home from the Valley two weeks ago. Evelyn began teaching the 17th and Maud is the only pupil she has who comes from the Valley.

Price Munkers, L. L. Calavan, and Claud Calavan arrived home from Adams the 6th. Since then Messrs. Munkers, Calavan, and Al. Moore have been hauling posts from the mountains, preparing to fence their ranches.

Ed. Seifling came out from the Valley and is now preparing to build his house and establish a residence on his homestead.

A. L. Richardson and wife are now on their homestead.

Erma Irvine and Myrtle Calavan went down to Fossilton last Saturday to visit a few days. Miss Calavan will go on to North Yakima, Wash., where she will soon begin teaching.

George Daley was out from Ione last week visiting his friends and improving his homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Munkers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wiggleworth, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Vincent, Mike and Evelyn Bilyeu visited Calavan's last Sunday and ate watermelons with them.

A story is told of some "Sky ranch" young people who started out to attend a home-stayed party last Wednesday night. They drove two small ponies (we will not tell the names of the owners for fear it might spoil their trading chances) hitched to Al. Moore's spring wagon. These little cayuses grew weary and decided to stop, and the occupants of the wagon soon decided to put the girls on the ponies while the boys led the way on their own peglegs to the cabin on the hill, where the party was held. It must have been an unusually long party for the young people did not reach home until three o'clock the next afternoon. The strange part of it is that the ponies arrived home several hours before the wagon and its occupants came. The participants have been too sleepy and cold since the affair to give a satisfactory explanation.

Myrtle Calavan and Erma Irvine have decided that Mike Bilyeu's driving is strictly on the bum. He took them to town with him when he went to meet his sister and Maud Irvine. The moon hid its face and Mike, not having the eyes of a cat, drove into a washout and threw the girls out of the wagon. The coupling pole broke and Mike had to un hitch his horses and send the girls home horseback, while he walked in, the distance of about five miles.

THE FARMERS' FIRE RELIEF

Association, of Butteville, Oregon, insures farm property at the actual cost of insurance. They insure only dwellings, barns, granaries, country churches, and school houses, and their contents, and only $2000 on any one risk. Hence they cannot lose more than $2000 in any one fire. Consequently the liability of loss and the cost of insurance is as light as it can be in any mutual insurance company.

STOCK BREEDERS' FAIR

Scio Will Devote September 29 to Stock Breeders' Interests, Award Prizes, Etc.—Franklin Butte Stock Company Will Give Two Prizes of $20 Each.

It has been generally understood that the Franklin Butte Stock Company would hold a colt show some time during the present Fall in this city, at which awards would be made for the best specimens of the get of the two stallions, "Luben's Choice" and "Dominant."

Our business men have decided to extend the exhibit so that all classes of stock might be placed on exhibition so that the public might see the quality and classes of stock produced in the Forks of the Santiam.

Dr. James Withycombe, of Corvallis, has been invited to be present and deliver an address, and also to assist in judging the merits of the exhibits.

This is the first annual Scio stock fair, and it is the purpose of our citizens to give similar exhibitions annually. The following list of prizes will be awarded:

MODERN PYRAMID BUILDERS.

Endowment Principle Incorporated in Plan of Fraternal Insurance.

The Modern Pyramid Builders is the name of a new fraternal insurance order, founded in Albany. It is said to be the first fraternal insurance order in the world to incorporate the endowment principle in its plan of insurance. It also pays sick and disability benefits. The plan of payment for a policy is by assessments. The organization combines both the fraternal and beneficiary principles in its plans.

The articles of incorporation were filed with County Clerk Miller last Monday, with Dr. J. L. Hill, M. Sorenson, and George E. Sanders, of Albany; William F. Tucker, of Hillsboro, and Dr. A. G. Prill, of Scio, as incorporators. The first board of officers is: Supreme Chief Builder, Dr. J. L. Hill; Supreme Foreman, M. Sorenson; Supreme Scribe, W. F. Tucker; Supreme Custodian, Geo. E. Sanders; Supreme Physician, Dr. A. G. Prill.

The News will have more to say about the Modern Pyramid Builders when we learn more definitely its object, purpose, etc.

CHANGE IN SCIO ROAD.

Distance Lessened One Mile and Bad Stretch of Road Avoided.

By a change for which the County Court is now arranging the main road from Albany to Scio, via Sanderson's Bridge, will be shortened one mile and a bad stretch of hilly, dangerous road replaced by a smooth hard road.

The stretch of road which runs from the Kelly place, about four miles from Scio, past the Oakview schoolhouse to the Quigley farm, will be abandoned. It runs along the edge of the foothills, is badly cut up and is almost impassable in winter. At the Kelly place the new road will turn to the left and go up the valley past the Sommer and Gilkey places, joining the old road at the Quigley farm. The proposed road is smooth all the way, the land is suitable for a good, hard roadbed and it will not be necessary to construct any bridges.

Road notices for the change have already been posted and the new road will be laid out as soon as the proper legal steps can be taken.—Albany Herald.

THEY RAN A SPECIAL TRAIN.

The Albany-Lebanon train made a special trip from Albany to Lebanon recently just to carry a passenger from Tallman to Lebanon. The passenger had purchased a ticket from West Station to Lebanon. When informed by the conductor, when his ticket was taken up, that there would be no train from Tallman to Lebanon because of their train being some three hours late, the passenger informed the conductor that the railroad had contracted to carry him to Lebanon and he guessed it had better do so, and refused to telegraph to Lebanon to have a carriage come to Tallman for him. The passenger had the whip hand. The Albany train was telegraphed from West Scio, and the special trip was the result.
