FOR A SANTIAM FAIR ORGANIZATION.

The splendid success of our street fair last Saturday, has started the ball rolling to organize a regular district fair society, with grounds located at Scio and with at least a three days fair to be held annually.

Nothing could be done, by our citizens, that would build up our stock and agricultural interests more rapidly, than the organization of an Agricultural Society, whose annual exhibitions would bring together the best of stock and agricultural products for comparison with each other.

If a stock breeder wishes to improve the value of his herds, he can see at a fair of this kind wherein he can make the desired improvement, and where he can obtain the parent stock, etc. Also with agricultural products, the farmer can compare notes with his neighbor and see wherein he can obtain the better results, by adopting improved methods.

On each day of the fair an address from some noted speaker on agricultural subjects should be a feature.

The NEWS suggests that a preliminary fair organization should at once be formed, by a call for a public meeting to which all who feel interested in establishing a district fair should be invited to be present. At which time a plan could be devised, by which sufficient funds can be supplied for the desired purpose.

Probably the better plan would be to lease for a term of years about 40 acres of ground, or if deemed best by the tract outright. Then during the coming winter, when labor is slack, the necessary fencing and building could be done.

The best plan the NEWS has in mind to raise funds is to sell certificates of life membership in the society, at $20 each. It is believed that from 100 to 150 of these certificates can be sold easily, payable either in cash or work on the grounds. Then there are a number of ways by which the funds can be added to. If $3000 can be provided, the necessary buildings, stables, sheds and fencing can be supplied. Then from entrance fees on exhibits, concessions on the grounds, gates receipts, etc. a very creditable premium list can be provided.

Nothing could tend towards the building up and advertising the Forks of the Santiam more than an organization as outlined above. The only thing to do about the matter is for every body to take hold and give the enterprise a good strong energetic push and the trick is done. Scio and the people of the Forks are noted as people who do things. As a rule, whatever our people undertake to do, they do it well. They leave no stone unturned if it will add to the success of any enterprise they undertake. We want the "Santiam Fair" and want it badly. It depends entirely upon the exertions of the people. It is the duty of one as well as another to take hold of the matter. If all will unite in the right spirit as the NEWS believes will be done, and work together harmoniously, success is certain.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.

Last week William R. Hearst was nominated for governor by the New York Democrats. Now, so far as the NEWS knows, Mr. Hearst has as much right to be nominated governor of New York as any other man. Yet, his selection has kicked up the greatest kind of racket among certain of the Democratic politicians. Of course this political racket in Democratic ranks is eminently satisfactory to the Republicans for, otherwise, Republican success looked exceedingly doubtful in that state at the coming fall election. But a Democratic quarrel, coupled with the nomination of a first-class candidate in the person of Mr. Chas. E. Hughes, has greatly encouraged the New York Republicans.

But why should Mr. Hearst be so bitterly opposed by certain of the Democratic politicians and party bosses? They say he is a very bad man and that he publishes several newspapers which they denigrate as "yellow."

If Mr. Hearst is a bad man, his public actions since he has become of National repute, do not indicate it. It certainly was not a very bad act when he was the first to start a train load of supplies to Galveston, when that city was destroyed by a tidal wave a few years ago. Neither was the prosecution against the trust, last winter, of which Mr. Hearst was the instigator and who bore the expense, an evidence of badness.

As a matter of fact William R. Hearst is a man that does things. He is an example of the successful modern business man. In newspaper work, the principle line of his business endeavor, he has been an unparalleled success. True he was among the first, if not the first, publisher to introduce illustrations in several colors in his publications. This fact earned him the name of "Yellow Journalism," but as nearly all of the big dailies have adopted the same methods since and among whom are his detractors, this cannot be put down as a proof of badness.

The truth is, as the unprejudiced sizes matters up, Mr. Hearst is not the bad man that many of his jealous newspaper rivals attempt to make him. Whatever his object may be, he has done a number of public acts that places him in the position of a friend to the people. His championship of the cause of labor is another evidence that his heart is in the right place.

As a politician, Mr. Hearst may do unwise things; but, so far, in New York politics, the people will love him for the enemies he has made. That he is popular with the masses of the people outside as well as in the city of New York, was evidenced when he was nominated on the first ballot at the late Buffalo convention, in spite of the antagonistic bosses.

Mr. Hearst may be defeated on election day next month. But the class and manner of the opposition he has inspired will go far towards insuring his election. This opposition, as was the case in the primaries a short time ago, is sure to rebound. Another thing is true. He is no tyro in managing a political campaign and a great many people are liable to awaken on the day following election day, badly surprised.

Should Mr. Hearst be elected, he is too wise to do many of the absurd and foolish things, his enemies say he will do. If elected, the NEWS thinks he will make a good (for the people) governor. He may not be popular with the machine, but what is the odds?

THE UNITED STATES INTERVENES.

As seemed quite probable when the issue of the NEWS of last week went to press, the United States has intervened in the Cuban embargo. Secretary Taft has proclaimed himself, provisional governor of the Island and Federal troops are about to land at Cuban ports to enforce, if need be, his authority. It is believed that there will be but little, if any, armed resistance to his authority. One of his first official acts was to release a number of political prisoners. These released prisoners were high in the councils of the Insurgents and will use their influence to have all parties submit to the beneficent rule of Uncle Sam.

The NEWS predicts that this intervention means, in the end, the annexation of the island of Cuba to the United States. Spanish peoples, as a rule, seem incapable of self government. The Cuban Republic with the election of President Palma and the formation of his government started in with self government, under favorable auspices. President Palma was one of the chief resistants to the rule of Spain and was regarded as one of the chief Cuban liberators. Yet, in a few months, their experiment in self government has proven a failure and Uncle Sam is forced to take charge of his ward, in order to prevent anarchy. Nor will any government that the Cubans, themselves, organize be of any longer duration, than was the Palma government. Secretary Taft will not be long in reaching that conclusion, if he is not of that mind now.

Spanish peoples are of such a fiery, combustible nature that they will only submit to a government of force, for any great period of time. While it is true that President Diaz seems to be managing Mexico nicely, he wields about the same power as that of a king. His is a master mind, sufficiently comprehensive and broad, to maintain control. President Diaz cannot live always. With his death trouble will begin in Mexico. Had Palma had the ability as a ruler of a Diaz, Cuba would now be at peace with herself and all nations. But, to Cuba's misfortune, Palma was unequal to the task he assumed. His ideas of securing results, partook too much of the old Spanish methods and it did not take the Cubans long to find it out. The taste that the Cuban safety men had had of American control, the safety given property and the general stability of government control, made them more than anxious for Uncle Sam to take charge again. If the business men of Cuba can influence governmental affairs, it is safe to say, Secretary Taft or some American successor will stay at Havana indefinitely, which means annexation.

WHO IS THE AUTHOR?

Word from Scio says that soon the construction of an electric line will be commenced from that place to Salem, and extending from Scio to Thomas creek and Crabtree, where the timber will be tapped in the Cascade mountains.—Capital Journal.

Just who is responsible for the above report, the NEWS is not informed. We hope it is well founded and will develop into the truth. There is no question but what an electric line will soon be built from Salem southeast, touching Stayton, Scio and Lebanon. The business would justify such an enterprise and pay from the start, aside from our large timber interests.

Forest fires are becoming of almost annual recurrence and owners of timber lands are, no doubt, anxious to realize from their holdings. The increased demand for lumber with the prevailing good prices would insure the building of several large sawmills as soon as way is provided for the shipment of lumber. Capital that desires investment in an electric railway enterprise, cannot find a better field for investment. We have the water to supply the power, and plenty of business as soon as the road is in operation. Other enterprises will be inaugurated besides the lumber industry. Without doubt some company will take hold of the project within the next few months; but if there is any particular company now figuring on building, the NEWS would like to be informed.

Summons

In The Circuit Court of The State of Oregon for Linn County, W. A. Ewing, Plaintiff, vs.
Martha Charlton, Ory Estrella Hardman, Oroy Lawrence Hardman, Christopher C. Hardman, Mary Bertie Hardman, Samuel Hardman, Sylvia A. Hardman, Archie E. A Square Deal

We assure you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicine—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas attached under each, as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forest. And, in the patient's case, are perfectly harmless, to the most delicate woman's system. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. They are pure, and contain no opium, or any of the poisonous properties of their own, being a most valuable and safe and permanent, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

It is a pleasure to play an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and weak stomach, attended by sour eructations, heartburn, food heaving, coated tongue, poor appetite, growing thinness, nervousness, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, bowels, or stomach. Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels, or bladder organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy, if the system is properly treated. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment. To cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, or other pulmonary troubles, except consumption in the advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those instances, having coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the mucous membrane. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, but it is so good to cure consumption in its advanced stages, and in those cases where it is not cured, it is the best medicine that can be taken.
