Crabtree is now, owing to the South Santiam railroad bridge being out of business, greatly discommodated in mail and freight matters. Just how soon the railroad will make repairs to the bridge is not stated.

Geo. M. Blyen lately purchased from his brother, J. M. V. Blyen, the latter's interest in their father's homestead. J. M. V. does not yet know what he will do, but thinks favorably of locating again in or near Sci.

The turkey market that prior to the prices promised to be brisk and at good prices, now has successfully hold down the young and buoyant spirit of boys and young men to a staid and mature standard. As an evidence that Mr. Morris has this sympathetic feeling for the boys he is the instigator of the project to create a public gymnasium and reading room for the free use, during the evenings, of the young men and boys. To this end boxing gloves, bats, traps, etc., have been ordered, and for the present the City Hall will be used as a gym. It is also his purpose to supply the room with food, wholesome reading matter, lights and fire, so that the young men and boys can have a place in which to spend a pleasant and profitable evening. As before stated, all this will be free. Hot boys, and young men, you will be expected to be as quiet as gentle men while in the room. No strict set of rules for your conduct will be prescribed further than gentlemanly conduct and courteous treatment of each other. If every small city and town would inaugurate some such enterprise as this, more would be done to encourage the formation of correct habits and right conduct by our boys and young men than by almost any other course. Save the boys!

Great Slump in Turkeys

Owing to washouts on the Northern Pacific from Portland to Sound points, turkeys dropped from 17c to 12c per pound from Saturday to the following Monday. The decline, however, is only temporary. As soon as traffic is resumed to Sound points the Thanksgiving bird will resume its usual 17c to 20c per pound.

TWO-THIRDS NOW RAISED.

Thirty-Five More Subscribers Wanted. 1. Order to Organize.

About two-thirds of the stock necessary to insure a Fair at Sci next Fall has been subscribed. Now the Fair project has been undertaken solely for the benefit of the farmers, stockbreeders and dairymen of this locality. The few persons who have taken the leading active part in the enterprise have no personal interest in the matter at all. Their work so far has been simply given for the general good of the community. Now these parties feel that others who are more deeply interested than they, ought not to expect them to run after and beg the stock to be taken up. The enterprise is purely voluntary on the part of the people and the obligation rests just as much upon A as it does upon B. Now let us not let the matter drop for lack of interest. The enterprise should be fully organized, officers elected, preliminary lines arranged, etc. It is arranged, so that exhibitors will have plenty of time to select and prepare their exhibits. If you do not have the time to come to Sci, a letter to Dr. A. G. Pridl signifying your willingness to take a share will be sufficient. Remember that a well-conducted district fair, because of the advertising that it will give this section of the country, will increase the value of your farm at least ten per cent.

Just to show you believe in this enterprise and that it will be of advantage to this entire section of the country, we publish the complete list of subscribers, each of whom has subscribed for one full share ($20) of the stock:

Mail Order Nuisance.

Nearly every day Wells-Fargo's express brings a number of large voluminous catalogues from mail order mercantile houses, to many of our citizens. Of course these catalogues offer great bargains in almost everything from a paper of pins to a threshing machine. But are these advertised bargains, real bargains? The News thinks not. Montgomery-Ward or Sears & Roebuck are not in business for their health. They deal in the cheapest of cheap goods. They have accumulated millions by furnishing these so-called bargains. Besides they do not contribute one cent to keep up our schools, churches, roads, etc. If you think they do, write and ask them to donate to support the preacher, build school houses or public roads, and see where you will get off at. Our home merchants assist in all these public enterprises, pay taxes and offer you a better grade of goods than these mail order houses deal in. As a sample of these mail orders, a farmer a few months ago obtained a set of harness from a mail order house. In a few weeks the harness was taken to the shop for repairs. The leather was of such poor quality that the harness will not last but a year or two. Of course the harness was bought for a one-third less price than could be obtained from the home dealer and it will last hardly one-third as long. It pays to patronize home people.

In the Ditch.

In addition to being a station of great importance on the main through line to California and having an all-right telegraphic service, Shelburn has had the distinction of having a railroad wreck that blocked traffic for a day. Last Friday, because of spreading rails, a heavy freight engine and three freight cars were gotten off the track. It was necessary to call in the service of a wrecking crew to adjust matters. Someone of the train crew telephoned to this city for "22" physician. Dr. Pridl at once responded to the situation and responded, "skiddoo." No damage was done further than the delay caused the train service on both the S. P. and C. & E. roads, which covered a period of seven or eight hours.

A Peculiar Formation.

James Abbott brought down from the line of the Calapaya Wagon Road a specimen of crystallized quartz that is both odd and beautiful. The specimen is in size about 8x12 inches and probably three inches thick. The bottom is a dirty black, while the face is the usually rough surface of crystallized quartz. From this face a number of mushroom-looking quartz formations seem to grow. They have a very plant-like appearance and seem to be rooted in the quartz bed. The News would like to hear the opinion of geologist, or rock sharp, about the matter. The specimen is undoubtedly a valuable one and would attract special attention if placed in any cabinet of specimens.

Bargain Period Has Expired.

The two-weeks' bargain period to the FAYETTE NEWS expired last Saturday, and the original rate of $1.25 in advance is now restored. We will, however, still supply you with a subscription for a friend or relative at a distance for $1, providing you are a subscriber yourself. We will install, within a very few days, a new press and other material which will enable us to greatly improve the News. Give us a liberal support and we will give our very best endeavor to making a newspaper that Sci will not be ashamed of. Any subscriber who knows himself to be delinquent, will confer a favor by settling same at once.

New Business Firm.

Rodgers & Shelton is the name of a new business firm in Sci. They have bought the stock and fixtures of the business, lately owned by Guy McKnight and now prepared to serve best meals at all hours; and have for sale Fresh Candies, Cigars and Tobacco, etc., at their new restaurant and confectionery establishment at the South end of the bridge, Sci, Oregon. We solicit your patronage.

SANDERSON BRIDGE DAMAGED.

Short Span of the South End Went Down Last Sunday.

Sanderston Bridge is now impassable and will probably remain in that condition for some weeks. The 117-foot span at the South end of the bridge, the land end of which rested on a piling, fell into the river last Sunday. The swift current of the swollen stream cut into the South bank and undermined the piling so that the bent went down for lack of support. Repairs cannot, probably, be made before next Spring, when the stream will assume the summer stage. The same difficulty exists at the site of this bridge that confronts the S. P. Railroad bridge, a short distance further up the stream. The river banks are low and are composed principally of sand and gravel. By formation of gravel beds in the river, the channel is continually changing and washing away the banks. The C. & E. Railroad, while it has the same same kind of banks to deal with, protected them with heavy rock riprap, which seems to be successful in holding the river to a permanent channel. Sanderston Bridge has already cost the County above $50,000 and will probably continue to be the most expensive piece of building the County owns.

The washed out span has entirely disappeared and no trace of it can be found anywhere near the site of the bridge.

JORDAN JOTTINGS.

Mrs. Noah King and Mrs. Ritter are now on the sick list.

Quite a number of our neighbors were Stayton visitors this week.

The farmers in the vicinity are greatly in need of a good shower.

This has been a real business year for the up-to-date Jordan merchants, L. C. Tress.

Roy Cole has returned home from Fox Valley where he has been working for some time.

Germany's school has outgrown its seating capacity and new seats are now being installed.

Al. Walker cut the top of his head with an ax a few days ago. Al. how has the "swellhead."

The continued rains have practically stopped all lumber hauling from the sawmills in the vicinity.

The wedding bells were ringing in Germany Tuesday morning. Leo Hinn and Miss Fink were the contracting parties. The writer extends congratulations.

Church was well attended Sunday. Rev. S. R. Cole is of the type that the people like. Church services will be held at 11 o'clock A. M., the first and third Sunday of each month.

Mrs. Jungwirth, who left for North Dakota to visit her parents, reports that she reached her destination safely, but owing to the blockades of snow her journey was prolonged a few days.

The J. edan grist mill is just about completed and the wheels will begin to roll in the very near future. Mr. Kimble has put the mill in first-class condition and is justly deserving the patronage of the community.

Mrs. Peppering and daughters, Mrs. John Feltz and Mr. Frank Linderman, boarded the C. & E. train Friday for Lebanon to visit the sickbed of the former's daughter. Owing to the washouts they were compelled to go via Albany.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

President Proclaims November 29 as a Day of Thanksgiving.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES:

The time of year has come when, in accordance with the wise custom of our forefathers, it becomes my duty to set aside a special day of thanksgiving and praise to the Almighty because and in gratitude for His bounties and for prayer that His blessings may be continued. Yet another year of widespread well-being has passed. Never before in our history or in the history of any other nation has a people enjoyed more abundant material prosperity than is ours; a prosperity so great that it should arouse in us no spirit of reckless pride, and least of all a spirit of heedless disregard of our responsibilities; but rather a sober sense of our many blessings, and a resolute purpose, under Providence, not to forfeit them by any action of our own.

Material well-being, indispensable though it is, can never be anything but the foundation of true national greatness and happiness. If we build ourselves upon this foundation, then our national life will be as meaningless and empty as a house where only the foundation has been laid. Upon our material well-being must be built a superstructure of individual and national life lived in accordance with the laws of the highest morality, or else our prosperity itself will in the long run turn out a curse instead of a blessing. We should be both reverent and earnestly bent upon turning it into a means of grace and not of destruction.

Accordingly, I hereby set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and supplication, on which the people shall meet in their homes or their churches, devoutly acknowledging all that has been given them, and to pray that they may in addition receive the power to use these gifts aright.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 23rd day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-first.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

MARRIED.

GILL—SHEATON.—At Airline, Polk County, Oregon, on Thursday, November 13, 1906, Mr. Byron Gill, formerly of Sci, and Miss Bertha Sheaton, of Airline.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill arrived in this city last Saturday for an infir visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gill. Byron is a splendid young man and is in every way worthy of an equally splendid wife, which we presume Mrs. Gill will be. The News extends congratulations.

KNIFE—SHEATON.—At the Presbyterians parsonage in Albany, November 21, 1906, by Rev. G. W. Nelson, Mr. William J. Knud and Miss Laura Sheltou, both of Sci.

The happy couple, we understand will begin the journey of married life on the Knud farm, near this city.

Notice of Final Settlement.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned has filed in the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, his final account as executor of the last will and testament of James A. Miller, late of said County. Accused, report that said Court has filed Saturday, the 25th day of December, 1906, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon, as the time for the bearing of objections to said account and the final settlement thereof.
