PERSONAL MENTION.

O. A. Crawford drove over to this city from Tallman on Wednesday.

Chas. Wesely was an Albany business visitor Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, of Silverton, visited the Scio Knapps over the 4th Sunday.

G. T. Cary, of four miles north of Corvallis, came over Monday for a few days' visit with Scio friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gill and children, of Spokan, arrived on Tuesday for a few days' visit with Scio relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gill, of near Stayton, came down Tuesday for a visit with their brother, Roy and wife, at the paternal home.

Mrs. Harriet Miller brought in a sample of the fruit grown in their orchard, on Tuesday. The sample consisted of apples, pears and peaches.

Father Taylor, superintendent of the Trappist Fathers' saw mill in Rhyen, Ore., is sick with typhoid fever. Dr. Peery has made several visits to his bedside.

M. C. Gaines called at this office Wednesday morning, and stated that he was in one more week in his neighborhood in one more week. Grain yields were satisfactory.

Mrs. T. W. Dilly and son, of Oroville, Cal., who were visiting Scio relatives, were summoned to their home by the illness of another member of the Dilly family. They started on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker, of Arizona, who have been visiting Mrs. Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wendt, of Blyden, Ore., for the past two months, started on the return to their home on Wednesday.

Henry Cyrus, now a resident of Corvallis, returned from London Springs without receiving any benefit from the trip. He now weighs but 109 pounds. In health he was a man of 160 to 170 pounds.

CHEAP NOTORIETY.

Sam Dolan, of football fame, is getting considerable notoriety in the Portland papers for the part he is said to have taken in the Bonquet accident at Summit last Monday morning. As a matter of fact, Dolan, nor anybody else touched Bonquet until after he had received his injury and had rolled away from the track. The News editor was standing on the car platform and witnessed the accident. We dislike to deny Mr. Dolan this choice bit of notoriety; but such a cheap way of getting into print is disgusting. Mr. Dolan may have been one of the party that picked Bonquet up after the accident had occurred. But the statement that he (Dolan) probably saved Bonquet's life, is all bosh. There is not a word of truth in it. Dolan should be content with his fame as a football expert and not pose as a hero upon such a questionable basis.

GOV. CHAMBERLAIN ASKS ROOSEVELT'S AID.

Governor Chamberlain has sent the following message to President Roosevelt, asking his intervention in the interest of arbitrating the differences between the striking telegraphers and their employers: "The President, Washington, D. C.—Dear sir: I respectfully suggest your intervention and the appointment by you of a board of arbitration in settlement of differences between telegraphers and companies throughout the country." "GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN, Governor."

A LIGHTNING FREAK.

Oregon seldom has a genuine electrical storm; but last week was one of the times when the weather clerk favored this locality with a genuine supply of the aerial fireworks. Last Saturday night at about 9 o'clock, the Thomas Creek Lumber Co.'s saw mill was injured by a bolt of lightning. Two of the posts of the mill building were knocked out and the watchman, an old man, was knocked down. He was not injured to amount to anything, and the damage to the mill was trifling.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

George M. Blyden, living three miles east of Scio, had the misfortune to shoot himself through the right foot on Saturday last. The ball from a 22-caliber rifle entered the instep and came out at the bottom of the foot. Dr. Peery was called and dressed the wound.

BORN.

KOBERLIN—August 26, 1917, to the wife of M. Koberlin, a son.

DANNEN—August 18, to the wife of Mr. Dannen, agent S. P. Co., West Scio, a son.

A TRIP TO YAQUINA BAY.

Last Friday S. B. Dugger and wife, of Canbyville, Ill., W. W. Crawford and Miss Eva Blodgett, of Tallman, and the SANTIUM NEWS man and better half, all went over to Yaquina to spend a couple of days at Newport down by the sea. There was also, perhaps, 150 other people on the train that were affected with a desire to absorb a few buckets full of Pacific ozone. Contrary to the assertions of Representative Jones, of Polk, there was plenty of room for all on the cars, and while some of the coaches presented a rather antiquated appearance, the seats were comfortable and the coaches reasonably clean.

Arriving at Yaquina at 5:30 p. m., we were met by the "Gazelle," a large-sized, two-story gasoline launch, with a barge in tow, in which passengers, baggage and freight were conveyed to Newport by the sea, arriving at 7 p. m. We soon found a wagon to convey our baggage and camp outfit over to Nye Creek, where we purposed establishing camp. Just as we started up the hill, we were overtaken by Mrs. Mary Blyden, who informed us that a camper had just moved out of the yard of the cottage she was apparently occupying and we could have the place if we desired.

Of course we headed for "Graham Cottage." Arriving there, we were disappointed to find our tent had been left in the yard at Newport. The drayman at once returned for it. In the meantime Mrs. Blyden extended an invitation to spend the night in her cottage, which we concluded to accept, and we were soon engaged in arranging bedding, etc., for the night. Our party was an exceedingly jolly one and was very congenial as well.

About midnight rain commenced falling, and which was probably continued at intervals until morning. This fact made us feel very glad that we had a roof over our heads. Suffice to say it rained at intervals during the two days of our stay, and we—well, we stayed in the cottage.

A close inspection of the jetties will convince any one that if they were extended a few feet further, or until the outer bar was reached, a really first-class harbor could be made of Yaquina bay. At the present time there is 22 feet of water on the bar at medium high tide. This depth is sufficient for most of the smaller sized sea-going vessels, and if the jetties were completed as first contemplated when the project was under way, a depth of water would be secured sufficient for the entrance of any ordinary steamer or sailing vessel. Dockage room in the bay could be provided for a great many vessels, as the entire bay front, from Yaquina City to Newport, could be utilized. At all events, Yaquina harbor, with a good depth of water on the bar, could take care of a very large commerce, even to the extent of the terminal business of a transcontinental railway.

But before the C. & E. could handle a heavy freight business, many of the sharp curves should be straightened out somewhat, and other improvements made to the roadbed that a heavy traffic would require.

We noticed quite a good deal of improvement to the city of Newport and vicinity in the way of cottages for summer residences; and all of them have the appearance of being of having been occupied during the present season.

Newport by the sea is now a popular summer resort and, in our opinion, is destined to grow in popularity. Even now, the hotels, of which there is a dozen, have taken on the habits of popular watering places; for the boards at any one of them for any considerable length of time, must have a well-filled purse. Surf bathing on Nye beach is the leading pastime of visitors, while there are various innocent amusements for the entertainment of guests. Fishing in the bay and on the reefs out in the ocean is said to be good. Trout fishing in a stream near Seal Rocks, six or seven miles below Newport, furnishes sport for the lovers of fly fishing. Our party returned on the Sunday morning train which, in order to catch Nye Creek campers, must arise at the uncomfortable hour of 4 a. m.

The only accident of the trip occurred at Summit on the return journey. At that point, a Corvallis young man, had left the train for some purpose and attempted to get on after the train had started. After he had grabbed hold of the iron railing preparatory to jumping, he tripped on the edge of the deep platform. This caused him to let go with his left hand, which threw him on his back on the ground and the toes of his left foot on the track. As a result, he will hereafter be minus the great toe of his left foot. So far as we could see, Mr. Bonquet was alone to blame for the mishap. The train was stopped and the injured man put aboard and in the care of two doctors, who, fortunately, were passengers.
