PERSONAL MENTION.

Chas. W. Young is visiting Corvallis relatives this week.
 Riley Shelton went down to St. Johns the first of the week.
 Chas. Wesely made a short business visit to Portland the first of this week.
 W. T. McBride arrived in this city from Aberdeen, Wash., on Wednesday morning.
 Editor Kirkpatrick, of Lebanon, paid this office a fraternal call on Monday. The News editor, however, was so busy moving, that the office force had to do the entertaining act.

CARRIER PIGEONS.

Miss Bessie Morris, as a pastime, engages in raising carrier pigeons. She has given her birds several flights during the past two months. At the close of the fair she sent two of them to Springfield to be released. One of the pair reached home in 2 1/2 hours, while the other was more dilatory, taking eight days in which to make the return. The distance from Scio to Springfield is about 50 miles.

ENGINE DITCHED.

Harry Johnson is chief engineer of one of our wood sawing outfits and for power is using a traction engine. Tuesday he was going to saw a job for Mr. Lewis, who lately purchased the R. B. Miller place at the head of the Mill race. In order to reach Mr. Lewis' wood shed it is necessary to cross the mill race on a bridge near the old fax mill. When Harry ran his engine onto the bridge it proved to be insufficient to sustain the load and the whole business, including Harry, dropped into the race where the water was fully five feet deep. Harry escaped with simply a good ducking and the engine was rescued from the ditch the following day by Fred Goodrich with his big traction engine. Harry says the water is setting to be quite cool.

FINE APPLE CUPS.

The fourteen silver cups to be presented for the best apples in their class at the big Linn county fair here on the 6th and 7th of November, have been received and are on display at French's—a splendid lot of prizes, worth any fruit raiser's best effort. The fair promises to be one of the best things Albany has ever had.—Democrat.

Cups were on exhibition at our fair on Albany day, and are certainly worthy the acceptance of any fruit raiser. We understand the Apple Fair to be an annual event over at the county seat. If a fruit fair will stimulate our orchardists to make greater endeavor to care for the orchard in the least, most improved up-to-date manner, the Albany Apple Fair will be worth thousands of dollars to Linn county.

ing 60 and the bride 67 years of years of age. The News extends congratulations.

The first of the local option cases to be tried in Albany resulted in a hung jury. Five were for acquittal and one for conviction. The second case to be tried was taken up Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Porter. The entire day was taken up in securing a jury, and night found but four accepted.

Arrangements are being made, it is said, to have the Springfield train which arrives at 7:10 a. m. and leaves at 8:00 p. m., instead of at the latter time leave immediately after the Portland train at noon. A petition has been unanimously signed in Brownsville and other places, circulated by the company's passenger agent, W. H. Jenkins. It is also said that the bridge over the South Santiam may be rebuilt, and that surveys have been at the site running lines. A good money, though, doubt, the rebuilding of the bridge.—Democrat.

It is said "God helps those who help themselves." The people of Scio and vicinity have pulled well together in establishing a fair organization and in giving a fair that was creditable to the association and satisfactory to all who attended it. If we will all pull together in the establishment of any other enterprise as we have for the fair, we are sure of success. If Scio grows she must have business enter rises established which will carry a pay roll. Let us select some desirable enterprises, talk for it, work for it, spend our money for it, and we are sure to get it.

Charles W. Young returned last week from a four years' sojourn in the Yukon mines up near Dawson City. Mr. Young returns in robust health and states he had perfect health during his stay in the far North. While he did not return penniless by any manner of means, he did not bring back the large fortune that he would have brought had not the Canadian authorities interfered with his mining operations. The authorities literally robbed him of a claim from which he was extracting from $200 to $300 daily. Mr. Young has filed a claim for damages which he thinks the Canadian government will be compelled to allow. It is his intention to spend the coming winter in Scio.

PIONEER MINISTER KILLED.

E. V. Christopher, Alderson, 124 East Nicklin street, St. Johns, a pioneer Methodist minister, was struck by a freight train and instantly killed at Albany Saturday morning while crossing a trestle over Penniwinkle creek. The body was thrown to the bed of the creek and after a coroner's inquest prepared for removal to Portland.

Rev. Mr. Alderson had been visiting in Albany with Mrs. Alderson and was walking towards the depot to catch the train to Portland when killed. Mrs. Alderson is visiting a daughter at Ashland having left Albany Friday night.

Rev. Mr. Alderson was about 82 years of age and one of the oldest ministers of the Oregon Methodist conference to which he had served a long and honorable record. He came to Portland to reside with his family about four years ago and has many friends among the church and laity who were greatly shocked at the news of his tragic death.

S. W. GAINES IN OLD MISSOURI.

SAVANNAH, Mo., Oct. 11, 1907.

EDITOR SANTIAM NEWS:

I will pen you a few brief lines, as the old man is having the time of his life among Missouri people, when I find wholesome and hospitable.

This is a fine country, fine stock and fine crops. Fruit is a total failure in this part of the state this season. The country is somewhat rolling, with deep hollows. Farms are a nice, consist of 20, 30, 40 to 100 acres each.

I will now give you an idea of the farm upon which I am now stopping. The farm embraces 625 acres and is run by a man 32 years of age. The land is divided up as follows: Orchard, 27 acres; corn, 150 acres, which yields 75 bushels per acre; 25 acres wheat, yielding 35 bushels to the acre; 31 acres of oats, 42 bushels per acre. The stock consists of 125 head of cattle, 50 head of which are being fattened for market; 75 head of calves; 150 head of hogs, 180 of them now being fattened and which consume a full wagon load of corn daily; 140 head of sheep, 100 of them fattening; 20 goats; 25 mules and 15 head of fine horses. All stock is pastured on fine grasses. The wife has 400 chickens, 150 Pekin ducks, 75 geese, 150 Guinea fow, and 150 turkeys.

Two farm hands, who have been employed for the past three years, work the farm at $17 and $20 per month respectively. They work from 5 a. m. until dark, and do the chores after night. They are not like the Oregon hands who look at the sun every five minutes and are afraid they will work a minute over-time. One hand will do as much here as two average Oregon hands, and for less than one-half the pay. As they all have steady jobs the year through, they are able to lay up money even at this small wage.

This is a wonderful country for blue-grass and fat stock is the rule. I see very many fine teams of mules, 17 hands high, weight from 4100 to 1500 pounds each.

The weather is very fine. Farmers are on the run, seeding wheat, gathering grain and feeding stock for market. It is a sight to visit a large stock farm and see the fine stock. The farmers are very prosperous in this section of the state.

I hope to be able to greet my Scio friends about November 25.

S. W. GAINES.
