The News has a number of correspondents in the Forest of the Santiam, who have for months been conspicuous because of the absence of their communications. Now the press of the busy season's work is over, let us hear from you again. New letters from our various neighborhood adds much to the interest of the local paper. As the business of the year is now coming to a close, in settling your accounts, don't forget the printer. Strange as it may appear, printers cannot live on a wind diet any better than a farmer. Besides, paper and printer bills come around distressingly regular every Saturday night or at the end of the month. Any way call in and tell us you will pay next week or next month and make us happy with anticipation. A few years ago August King purchased a farm in Lyon county for which he paid in cash and a $2000 mortgage was put on the place. For several years he labored to bring to bid the mortgage by raising wheat, but he almost gave up in despair, and many a time he felt that he would let the old farm go to pay the $2000 and interest. He went to raising sickle clover and cleared each year much more than enough to pay off the $2000 interest and all, and he has never had a crop failure since he commenced the new kind of crop. He is now one of the wealthiest farmers in the Willamette valley.—Corvallis Republican. Dressed turkey selling today in Portland, 17c to 19c per pound. They will probably sell at much better prices for the Xmas trade than at Thanksgiving. It is unlikely that such large quantities will come here from Southern Oregon as were received before Thanksgiving. Shipments should be made by express to arrive in Portland Saturday 21st or Sunday 22nd. Page & Son are the principal dealers in live and dressed poultry and produce in Portland and can sell your shipments immediately on arrival to best advantage. They remit post office order or check the following Wednesday. This firm is reliable and responsible. Write them for shipping tags.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT.

Wednesday night at about 7:30 o'clock the startling warning tones of the fire bell brought our citizens to the streets and the fire boys to the engine house in quick order. Hose car and hook and ladder truck were out in a jiffy and were drawn rapidly east on Mill street to the scene of the fire. By the time the hose car reached the burning mill the fire, which sent the thrill of excitement and alarm through everybody's nerves, had burned out of its own accord.

A burning chimney in G. W. Phillips' residence on Pentland avenue, having been the cause of the flurry. This is the first alarm of fire since the disastrous conflagration of over one year ago, when an entire block was swept away in smoke and one of our leading citizens, J. H. Holland, lost his life.

Our fire boys are to be commended on the promptness and vigor with which they responded to the call of duty. Muddy as the streets were, every one joined with zeal, well knowing that the first few minutes at a fire are precious in the saving of property. No cleaning resulted except the labor of cleaning clothes and fire apparatus of the mud.

SANTIAM EARM

EDITOR OF THE NEWS: I have just returned from a trip to Northeastern Washington, Seattle and along the sound to Bellingham, Custer and Birch bay. I found a finely timbered country and one which shows a vast amount of work being done in the timber business. At present most of the mills are shut down with three to twelve million feet of lumber stacked in their yards. They are shipping but little by rail owing to the enormous freight rates, thus throwing thousands of men out of employment, who are wandering about with packs upon their backs begging for work with which to support their families. Some are begging for something to eat, which looks bad in this land of plenty. This condition means something to them and, also to the thinking man. The timber about the sound is getting considerably worked out. They now have to go well back to get their logs. Men are grubbing stumps and plowing the logged off lands and are making fine timber where it was once heavily timbered! About Bellingham, Custer and Birch Bay is a fine dairy country. Trains are loaded every morning with cream for the Bellingham creamery which, by the way, is one of the largest creamery plants on the coast. While at Birch Bay I called on an old friend John Gieseler, to see his dairy farm and barns. He owns 136 acres, 75 of which are fine past lands, upon which he raises four tons of hay or 1.0 bushels of oats per acre, the balance is in fine clover pasture. The farm borders on Birch Bay for 80 rods and is one of the finest summer resorts to be found. His two large barns, one for dry cows and young stock, is 80 x 135, and is neatly arranged. The dairy barn a model of workmanship and taste, is 60 x 138 feet, it is conceded by all who see it to be most conveniently arranged in stalls, stanchions and feed mangers, of any structure of its kind on the sound. Mr. Editor, I had a most delightful trip and feel well paid for time spent.

MARRIED.

GRIMES—FLEMING—On Wednesday, December 4, 1907, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Geo. M. Griggs and Miss Maud M. Fleming.

The bride was tastefully robed in cream costume, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The groom was dressed in the usual black. The parlor was tastefully decorated with ivy, ferns and white crysantheums. A large number of friends and relatives were present, to the number of forty-five.

After a sumptuous dinner tendered the guests, the happy couple departed amid a shower of rice, on the C. & E. to Portland and Eastern Oregon on their honeymoon tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimes will be at home to their friends on and after December 15th, at the Fraternal Fathers hall.

We are showing a very large and choice line of Watches, Chains, Rings and Silverware, suitable for Christmas gifts, and invite the citizens of Scio and vicinity to call when in Albany and see our display. Mail orders will receive careful and prompt attention. F. M. FRENCH, Secretary.

SPECIAL SALE.

We will offer our entire line of bugles at factory prices after November 1. Now is the time to buy. Yours, for business, CHAS. WESELY.

Bear in mind THE NEWS does all manner of job work quickly and for reasonable prices.

Governor Chamberlain has succeeded in persuading the American Surety Co. to settle in full with the state for the money deposited by State Treasurer Steel in the defunct Portland banks. Treasurer Steel will now be required to give bonds amounting to $60,000, else quit the job. The state will lose nothing from Steel's bad judgement in selecting banks in which to place the state's cash, and the Surety Co. shows itself to be honest and substantial, by the prompt settlement.

The preliminary work of the national political campaign has begun. Last week the Republican national committee met, elected Harry New as chairman, named June 16 next as the date for the opening of its national convention and Chicago as the place of meeting. The Democratic national committee is to session this week and probably selected June 2 as the date of holding its national convention.

The Republican party has surely become a very bad number when the Oregonian will desert it. But then, you know, rats will desert a sinking ship, and —

All of the big battle ships of the Atlantic fleet have now assembled at Hampton Roads and will start on the long voyage to the Pacific Coast, next Monday.

Corvallis carpenters don't like it because the new college barn is being built by Portland Men. The contractor is buying his entire force.—Albany Democrat.

A SPECIAL SUBSCRIPTION COMBINATION.

THE SANTIAM NEWS is now prepared to receive subscriptions for the American Farmer of Indianapolis, Indiana, in connection with THE NEWS, at the price of THE NEWS, only $1.00 a year. I will continue the wagon on the road on the routes established and supply choice cuts at reasonable prices.
