LOCAL BREVITIES.

A D S Liver Pills. A D S means quality. A full line of jewelry at Wesely & Cain's. Clothes cleaned and pressed—B. Morris. The annual mohair pool is being formed in Scio. Try one of those A D S Special Cigars at Peery's. A D S Cold and Grip Tablets will cure when others fail. Premium prescriptions sold and guaranteed by E. C. Peery. Mrs. A. F. Beard is recovering from quite a severe spell of sickness. All kinds of grass seed, clover seed land plaster, etc., for cash only, at Wesely's Grocery. We make a specialty of dairy supplies. If we do not have what you want we will get it. Chas. Wesely. Miss Grace Gill, a special student at O. A. C., Corvallis, came over Saturday for a two-weeks stay at home. Hon. J. K. Weatherford came over from Albany, last Saturday, to look after business matters in Scio. Ask the Farmer's Meat Market, Scio for the highest price for veal and hogs. They are in the market all the time. J. F. Wesely will buy all your dressed hogs and veal for cash. Call him up on the phone before you are ready to sell. Mr. Michen, who was formerly connected with the Hazelwood Creamery, Portland, was a Scio visitor last Saturday. Full line of Lily's and Prusain stock and poultry remedies, oyster shell, bone, grit, oil meal and chick food at Wesely's Grocery. Chas. Wesely contemplates the erection of a number of new dwellings as soon as the roads settle so that lumber can be delivered. A large petition of Scio citizens was forwarded to the county court, asking that a bridge 24 feet wide, uncovered, be erected in Scio this spring. L. W. Pomeroy says he has engineered a number of deals in real estate in Scio lately, but if he had to live on the commission he received for the deals he would starve to death. Houses are in demand in Scio. Not a vacant house in town and in one or two instances two families occupy the same house. Apparently a good many people have faith in Scio's future. You can give your friends no better advice than to recommend Hickory Bark Cough Remedy for all coughs and colds. Sure cure! Sure cure! For sale by dealers everywhere, and E. C. Peery, Scio, Oregon. L. E. Miller was taken over to Albany last Monday evening and placed in the hospital. An operation was pronounced necessary to cure him of his ailment. His situation is regarded as being grave by his physician and friends. Last Saturday, Chas. Wesely purchased of G. N. Crabtree his residence property embracing lots 19 and 50, on the corner of Main and Race streets; consideration $500. Mr. Wesely thinks money can be made in leasing in Scio real estate as well as at St. Johns. Hickory Park Cough Remedy, made by the Hickory Bark Remedy Co., of Salem, Ore., guaranteed to be pure; guaranteed to cure your cold or money refunded. Guaranteed to make a friend of you. For sale by E. C. Peery, Scio, Ore., and first-class dealers everywhere. Uncle Jim Haseler, of up Crabtree Creek, who is 76 years old, was able to ride horseback from his home to Scio last week. Uncle Jim, for a number of years, was in feeble health, but this winter he is robust and stout and bids fair to be on the active list for many years. L. M. Taylor, of Waterloo, announces himself a candidate for the office of assessor on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Taylor comes well recommended as a citizen and appears to be well qualified for the office for which he aspires. It is his purpose to visit every precinct and become acquainted with the people. From all accounts J. B. Leatherman is making good headway in his canvass for the trusteeship on the Republican ticket. He possesses the advantage over his competitors of being a veteran of the civil war. When the votes are counted

WEST SCIO NEWS.

All was wild excitement for a little while at agent Dannen's last Friday morning, when the house took fire in some way not exactly known to them. Mr. Dannen got up early, built a fire in the sitting room, then proceeded to attend to his duties at the depot. Mrs. Dannen was suddenly awakened to the fact of fire, by the smoke and heat. Finding nearly every thing around her burning, she rushed out with the baby, returning for the other child, being obliged to literally pass through the flames to get them to a place of safety, which surely proved her bravery and presence of mind. Of course they called for help, and, though it is a wonder to them now how they ever accomplished it, they were very fortunate in being able to subdue the fire and confine it to the two rooms where it started. Mr. Dannen is feeling badly over the loss of a new suit of clothes and five over coats, which were ruined. Row Phillips, owner of the house, says the damage is about one hundred and ten dollars, covered by insurance, and is being rapidly repaired. Mr. Whiteman and family, of Portland, had decided to locate here and will build a house on a ten acre tract of land. He is both carpenter and blacksmith, but thinks he will follow the former trade. J. B. Kistler has returned from Portland and accepted the position as assistant to Mr. Dannen at the depot, as the nine hour law forbids that any agent or operator shall work over that time. Wallace Perry's wife is quite sick, also Mrs. Row Phillips is very poorly again. In fact there are quite a number in this neighborhood who do not feel as well as they wish they might. EVANDA.

The Poverty Ball.

Last Friday night there occurred at the Wesely-Cain hall what was denominated "A Poverty Ball." The costume of each dancer was supposed to represent poverty in her most intense aspect. And they did; for a more measly bunch of hoboes ever gathered together would have been ashamed of themselves to see the outrageous costumes that whirled in the mazy dances of the evening. The following is the list of hobos and hoboes present. Mrs. Edna Lewis, Dean Kinsey, Rose Beran, Mary Svoboda, Mrs. Dan Lewis, Rosa Steich, Agnes Wesely, Ella Cyrus, Leta Woodmansee, Clarence Ledler, John Simanek, Emma Ehler, Martha Ehler, Willie McKillop, John Wesely, Rodger Cain, Andy Devaney, Dean Morris, Lester Bilyeu, Ernest Rex, Owen Cyrus, Joe Wesely, Wilma Gumm, Emma Wesely, Bessie Morris, Will Knauft, Mrs. John Wesely, Ethel Arnold, Ray Lee, Arthur, Ehler, Vera Griffin, Wade Cyrus, Emma Cyrus. Miss Wilma Gumm and Dean Morris were decided to be the most dilapidated in the king hobo of the bunch and, accordingly, were awarded the prizes.

Dog Poisoner Again.

Some contemptible sneak succeeded in poisoning two of the most valuable dogs in Scio, last Sunday night. Joe Wesely's "Bessie" and Dean Morris' "Cap," the two valuable bird dogs were found dead at their homes, evidently having been given strychnine some time Saturday night. Some one with malice and forethought gave the poison, without a doubt. A person who would do as dastardly an act as this, ought to spend the rest of his natural life behind prison bars. The owners of the dogs and others talk of offering a reward of $100 for the discovery of the poisoner. Should he or she become known the climate about Scio would become entirely too tropical to be comfortable for the person.

Fire at West Scio.

Last Friday morning agent Jack Dannen, of West Scio, arose at his usual hour, built fire in his sitting room and kitchen, then went to the depot to get ready for the train, which reaches the station from Crabtree, shortly after 6 A. M. Mrs. Dannen arising soon thereafter went to the kitchen to prepare breakfast. Having occasion to turn to the sitting room, she was amazed to find the room and adjoining bed room and hall, in flames. Promptly she and daughter applied a few well directed buckets of water which, happily, quenched the blaze. The furniture in both rooms, clothing hanging on the wall and a part of the bedding were destroyed. Jack announces that, with unparalleled heroism, he was able to save his pipe. The News has not learned what Mr. Dannen places his loss at, nor whether he carried insurance. The measure to increase legislator's pay from $3 to $10 per day, will probably be buried so deep in a bank of snow, next June, that it will never see daylight again. If the election of United States senators did not require the biennial session, the people would gladly vote that the legislature should meet only once in ten years. The legislature is considered by most people, to be a most expensive luxury.

School Directors Convention.

Superintendent Jackson has sent the News an invitation to be represented at the School Directors Convention, which meets at the court house in Albany on Wednesday March 11, 1908, to which all friends of education are invited. The topics of the program, as indicated, will be introduced by school officers and friends of the Public School, with the view of a general discussion. The program in part is as follows: "Compulsory Attendance Law"—Cyrus H. Walker, Trustee officer. "The Teacher"—Hon. M. A. Miller of Lebanon School. "Exchange of School Books"—Hon. F. D. Cornett of School Dist. 114. "The School Board in School Government"—J. W. Mitchell of Sedaville School; C. O. Pransel of School Dist 75. "School Libraries"—(a) Lew. (b) How to use the Books. (c) How to select books—Miss Cornelia Marvin, State Librarian. Address—Hon. J. K. Weatherford of Albany School. "Higher Education in the Rural School"—Pres. P. L. Campbell of State University. Address—Supt. J. H. Ackerman. "Miscellaneous Topics"—Discussion by Directors.

MARRIED

GILL—CALAVAN—At the home of the bride's parents in North Yakima, Wash. on Wednesday Feb. 26, 1908, Dr. John G. Gill, of Echo, Ore., and Miss Myrtle Calavan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Calavan. Both contracting parties are well and favorably known in Scio, having spent nearly all of their lives in this city. Mrs. Gill moved with her parents from this city some two years ago, first to Echo, and then to North Yakima. She has been employed as a teacher in the public schools in that city. Dr. John G. Gill, who until a few weeks ago lived and practiced dentistry in this city, opened an office in Echo, where report sayeth, he is building up a fine practice. The happy couple will reside in Echo. The News congratulates.

DIED.

LEVER—At his home, one mile South of Providence church, on February 25, 1908, William Joseph Lever; aged 32 years, 6 months and 19 days. William J. Lever was born September 6, 1875, grew to manhood on his father's family home, near Providence. He was educated in the public schools and at Monmouth Normal school, from whence he graduated in June 1898. He was married to Miss Lottie Edmiston, of Monmouth Ore., June 26, 1901. To this marriage two children have been born—Dale and Florence. Mr. Lever was a model young man, a loving husband, an affectionate father and a kind and obliging neighbor. Full of ambition and hope, it is particularly sad to see him cut off at the brightest and most hopeful period of life's young manhood, ere it was yet noon. He was not a church member; yet lived nearer the ideal of a true Christian than many who wear the name. Always willing to help in any cause for the betterment of humanity, he told his sorrowing wife he was not afraid to die and meet his God. He leaves a wife and two small children, an aged father two sisters and one brother besides a host of relatives and friends, to mourn his loss. Seldom is there seen such a crowd of sympathizing friends assembled, as were at his burial. The funeral was conducted by Geo. L. Sutherland.

Just Arrived.

A full carload of buggies and wagons They will be sold right. Samples all up and ready for inspection. Call in and see them. CHAS. WESLEY.
