Boosting two men to the penitentiary just twelve hours after the commission of a crime is a Linn county record which shows that the boost spirit has taken hold of us.—Albany Democrat.

The boosting spirit should get hold of Scio. A few hundred dollars spent in judicious advertising would result in bringing many new people to this locality, and, also, some manufacturing enterprises as well.

Hon. M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, is favorably mentioned as a delegate to the Democratic national convention, to meet in Denver, Colorado. WEST SCIO ITEMS.

Mr. Winston and Mr. Logan, of Portland, were looking over land here, recently, with a view to locating, in the near future.

Machinists must be somewhat scarce in Portland, as Paul Tompkins had another urgent request to come down and help again, for two or three weeks. To which he responded by going on the morning train, Tuesday.

At 1:30 a. m. Tuesday, Roe Phillips and wife were awakened by an awful noise, and upon going out saw their chicken house in flames. The lamp of the incubator had exploded, and it was impossible for them to save anything; or even go into the building. There were over eighty young chicks, besides lots of other things including garden implements and tools, burned in just a short time. They had to work lively to save adjoining buildings. They say they have quite suddenly made up their minds, that as for them, they will, hereafter, stick to the good old fashioned way of raising chickens.

Wish I could send more items for your paper, Mr. Editor, but West Scio is small yet and I'll have to wait until it grows, and there is more happening to write about.

EVANDA.

A Political Blunder.

The majority in congress is making a political blunder. The six eventful months just passed have brought to the front many matters calling for constructive legislation. Several far-reaching court decisions have thrust conditions into the foreground requiring remedial legislation. More than a million men are in the country, unemployed, as a result of the October financial crash. That crash and the causes that led to it, exposed a lamentable need of reformed conditions in the country's banks and currency. It showed that the whole financial system is a pyramid, resting on its apex, with nothing but confidence as the chief supporting stone in the narrow foundation. Supreme court decisions have thrown the labor of the country into consternation and upset rights hitherto regarded as sovereign in the states.

There never was a time when so many pressing problems knocked at the door of congress for solution, and there never was a time when congress proceeded upon so do-nothing, so makeshift and so patch-work a policy. There never was a time when the people so universally thought that congress ought to be active, vigorous, potential, and constructive. The inaction is a blunder that, if persisted in, is certain to make trouble, rather than benediction, for the Republicans in the coming campaign.

The efforts of the minority members to lash the majority into an earnest endeavor to enact remedial legislation, is to be applauded. They are demanding the passage of an employers' liability bill, a bill to give publicity to campaign contributions, a free wood pulp and free print paper bill, and a bill against ex-parte injunctions used as a superclass of law by a sovereign state. The passage of most of these measures has been specifically recommended by the president, and they, with other remedial legislation, ought to be passed. The game of petty politics should be dropped for the sake of the country and the people. What do the members of the Oregon delegation think about it?—Oregon Journal.

DROPS DEAD.

George Crabtree, One of Our Aged Citizens, a Victim of Apoplexy.

Last Sunday evening just at supper time, Mr. George Crabtree, one of our newly acquired and respected citizens, was stricken with apoplexy and died, almost instantly. A bullet through the heart would not have resulted in death more quickly.

Mr. Crabtree had been in his usual good health, had gone to the pasture after his cows. After placing the animals in the barn, he went to the house. Observing that supper was about ready he remarked, "I will not have time to milk before supper" and went immediately to the pump in order to wash his hands and face. After combing his hair, he started from the kitchen to the dining room. Just as he entered the doorway, he was observed to make rather peculiar motions with his arms and, almost immediately, he fell to the floor, his head striking violently.

James A. Bilyeu, who was present, went immediately to his aid and raised his head and body up somewhat. Feeling that the heart had ceased to beat efforts were made to restore heart action.

Dr. Prill was summoned at once, when he arrived some ten minutes later, he saw at once that any attempt to revive the stricken man would be futile, and after sufficient examination pronounced life extinct with apoplexy as the cause.

George Crabtree, whose age at his time of his death was nearly 72 years, came to Oregon with his parents in 1851. For the past 30 years or more, until last fall, he lived in Marion county, from whence he moved to Scio.

He leaves his aged wife, four sons and two daughters to mourn his sudden demise.

The burial occurred at the cemetery near West Stayton on Tuesday.

Uncle George was a good citizen, jovial and warm hearted, his friends were limited to the number of his acquaintances, only. Honest and upright his word was regarded as good as his bond. We can ill spare citizens of his character.

HON. W. M. CAKE, OF PORTLAND.

Candidate on Republican Ticket For U. S. Senator—Stands on Statecraft I.

Prominent in Oregon as a champion of pure politics, and an advocate of the eradication of the dangerous system, is Honorable W. M. Cake, of Portland. Mr. Cake is seeking the Republican nomination for United States Senator and is doing so in a way that appeals strongly to the people of Oregon.

Fortunately for those of us who possess little admiration for a wearer of the senatorial toga who has achieved his exalted position by chicanery or politics, Mr. Cake is nothing of a politician; he represents the other type, the reserved conservative and able lawyer who believes in the active policies of Roosevelt and has unlimited hope for our State of Oregon.

Though his record is not a political one, Mr. Cake has probably done more towards the development of Oregon, than any other private citizen. It was he who inaugurated the plans of development and advancement that are being so successfully accomplished by the Portland Commercial club and the Oregon Development League. Mr. Cake for several years, was President of the Portland Commercial club and in that position, brought it to its present state of efficiency.

Oregon at this time has sore need of proper representation in Congress. No one will deny that our growth and development has been retarded by want of proper representation at the nation's capitol.

Mr. Cake is an ardent admirer of President Roosevelt, believes in his policies and is convinced that it is to the nation's best interests that they be continued.

To Discuss Proposed Laws.

Last Monday night a few of our citizens met at the city hall, for the purpose of organizing a non partisan political club, the purpose of which is to discuss the proposed amendments to the constitution and initiative laws which the people will be called to pass upon at the coming June election.

A temporary organization was effected by the election of T. L. Dugger as temporary chairman. After some general discussion as how we should proceed, it was decided to effect a permanent organization on Monday night, April 6.

It was, also, decided that the subject for discussion for that time, would be the proposed new tax law. O. B. Cyrus was appointed leader to affirm and E. C. Peery to deny. After which a general discussion would be held, speakers to select either side as may suit his fancy. Leaders to have twenty minutes time each and other speakers to be limited to ten minutes each.

It is hoped a full attendance will be on hand at this time. The 19 measures proposed are very important. They will either become laws or they must be defeated. The responsibility rests upon the voter. Come and let us reason together. If you dodge responsibility by not voting upon these measures, you may not only injure yourself, but allow the entire state to be injured as well. If we as voters assume the roll of law-makers, it becomes our duty to inform ourselves upon the various questions at issue.

City Water System.

Scio can boast of being one of the very few towns in Oregon which owns both her light and water systems. Both systems have proven too limited for our needs and a few weeks ago at a special election, our citizens voted to bond the city for the purpose of enlarging and extending both systems.

At a recent meeting of the city council the contract for digging the trenches for the new water system was let to J. E. Cyrus at thirty five cents and forty cents per rod, the higher price being for digging in the heavily gravelled streets.

Last week a plat of the various pipe lines was carefully prepared and on Monday together with the order of purchase was forwarded to the Tacoma, Washington, firm. The piping is to be of heavily wrapped and treated wood, the mains to be six and eight inches in diameter.

A new pump will be purchased, the whole to be installed in the early summer.

The new 1000-light dynamo for which the city contracted, was shipped several weeks ago and is expected to arrive at any time. When the whole is installed Scio will be one of the best lighted and best watered little towns in the state. Both lights and water are supplied at about one-half the rates charged in other towns where the plants are in private ownership.
