LOCAL BREVITIES.

Don McKnight and family are taking an outing up at Breitenbush hot springs. Order your suit now for the fair. 700 samples to pick from at Wesely & Cain.

R. B. Miller is having his residence property decorated with a coating of paint.

Albert Randall and family went up to Seaside, last Saturday, for a several weeks outing.

This continued dry weather will cut the late gardens and potato crop short. It is needed badly.

We make a specialty of dairy supplies. If we do not have what you want we will get it. Chas Wesely.

T. K. Sanderson, dentist, Scio Oregon. All classes of dentistry. Office between the lively stable and harness shop.

H. M. Myer returned from Portland, Wednesday, quite sick; it being necessary to call Dr. Prill to attend him.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kneuth and daughter, of Brownsville, visited over last Sunday with Mrs. C. A. Knopf.

Ask the Farmer's Meat Market, Scio for the highest price for veal and hogs. They are in the market all the time.

We have a full line of Wall Paper, Carpets, Paints, Oils, Sash, Doors and Glass. Give us a call. Chas Wesely.

George Shelton, of Ashland, is spending a few days in visiting among his old home friends and relatives, in this city.

Dr. A. G. Prill went to Albany, last Friday, to participate in the organization of the Willamette Valley racing circuit.

John M. Miller last week removed his family and household goods from Marion county, back to his home in this city.

The first new wheat for the season was brought to the Scio mills on Monday. The berry was plump and of full weight.

W. A. Ewing and W. F. Gill left early last Friday morning for a few days' outing at the famous soda springs on the South Santiam.

The infant son of Thos. B. Prospal, whose birth we chronicled last week, died a few hours after its birth and was buried at Franklin Butte cemetery.

A purse is being raised to offer as a premium for the exhibition of triplets at the Fair. As we know of but one set there is not much danger of competition.

J. L. S. Rossell, who hauls lumber for the Thos. Creek Lumber Co., has moved his family from this city up to the mill to be more convenient to his work.

The addition to the grand stand and the new stalls at the Fair grounds are now complete. But little more work will be required to place the grounds in readiness for the Fair.

During the Fair the Editor of the News will be found at the secretary's tent on the grounds where subscriptions will be received and receipted for. Nor will new subscribers be rejected.

Last Tuesday we wrote the item that gardens and potatoes were suffering for rain. Before the item was in print the steady gentle downpour of rain of Wednesday was refreshing the people and vegetation.

Eugene Pomeroy, an employe of the Portland street railway, is spending his vacation at the home of his father, L. W., of this city and in making an occasional fishing excursion up Crabtree and Thomas creeks.

Hickory Bark Cough Remedy, made by the Hickory Bark Remedy Co., of Salem, Ore., guaranteed to be pure; guaranteed to cure your cold or money refunded. Guaranteed to make a friend of you. For sale by E. C. Peery, Scio, Ore., and first-class dealers every where.

Albany placed one of her "blind pig" artists in the city jail for safe keeping last Monday night. The afore said "pig," made his escape therefrom sometime during the night and is now roaming the country regardless of the fact that the Albany sleuths would care for him.

Mine Host Abbott, of the Scio hotel, had three hogs in a pen in the rear of the hotel, to eat the slop. Yesterday (Thursday) he went to feed them and found them all dead. He was unable to ascertain the cause of their death. The porkers would weigh about 150 pounds each.

Considerable evidence exists that a stranger, who posed as a bronco buster when here, sold both whisky and beer on the Fair grounds, some two or three weeks ago. Should he return, if for the same purpose, he will probably be arrested. Several parties will be on the lookout for him.

Editor O'Brien, of the Albany Herald blew into the News office Tuesday morning. He said he came over to get acquainted with Scio and her people. Mr. O'Brien is an all around booster and believes in publicity in every line. He expects to be in attendance at the Fair during the entire three days.

While here he proposed a purse and subscription of $5 of the amount himself, to have the hay tripits exhibited at the Fair.

Mr. Joo. A. Hulbert, who recently purchased the Lewis property in the Northwest part of Scio, came up from Portland, last Friday, to look over his new purchase. Mr. Hulbert is said to be well fixed financially, owning several homes in Portland; but came to Scio for a nice, quiet home in his declining years. During his active business life he has been engaged in the engine room department of the railways of Oregon and Washington.

A Shut Out For Clackamas.

In last Sunday's ball game the first inning demonstrated that the Scios were too fast company for the Clackamas aggregation. While Clackamas made errors without number almost, Scio played very nearly an errorless game. For the first seven innings Clackamas went down before the Scio battery in one two three order, a safe hit seemed impossible for them. When the agony was over the score sheet showed Clackamas 0 Scio 18.

The Clackamas lurch are a nice gentlemanly set of ball tossers, capable of playing winning ball with the ordinary high school team, but when they meet up with a team of real ball players of the caliber of the Scios, they are not in it a little bit.

On Sunday August 23, The Union Meat Co's team, the strongest of Portland's amateur ball teams will cross bats with the Clackamas on the Scio grounds.

Church Services.

As the News has very kindly offered space for church notices, I desire to remind the busy people of the services next Sunday. An effort will be made to have good music, and in the evening a solo and perhaps other special music, and a practical talk which ought to be of interest to everybody. Come and fill the little church, and we will at least make an effort to fill the minds with thoughts worthy the day and the occasion, as well as to entertain you. Certainly Scio and vicinity ought to fill one church every alternate Sunday even with many away, several sick, and others full of work during the week. The entrance way to the church has just been brightened up and made more inviting, and other improvements are contemplated. Come and see and hear. A. H. CARRAN, Pastor.

Fair and Racing Circuit.

At the rooms of the Albany Commercial Club last Friday evening the Willamette Valley Fair and Racing Circuit was organized by representatives from Portland, Salem, McMinnville, Eugene, Scio and Albany, which will belong to the circuit, and two or three other cities have applied for admission. Albany was represented by S. S. Bailey, Portland by A. C. Lohmire, McMinnville by R. L. Bewley, Scio by Dr. Prill, Eugene by Dr. Harris with B. I. Dasset as proxy, Salem by H. W. Hatch with Mr. Lohmire as proxy.

A. C. Lohmire, of Portland, was elected president, R. L. Bewley, of McMinnville vice president, Dr. A. G. Prill, of Scio, secretary and D. O. Woodworth, Albany, treasurer.

A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Lohmire, Woodworth and Prill.

After a discussion of plans for the perfection of the organization adjournment was had to Dec. 17, at Portland. It is proposed to have the Circuit in operation next year, which promises to be the beginning of a big thing in racing, bringing the fast horses of the coast to our towns.

Upon motion of Mr. Bailey it was ordered that at the proper time application be made for membership to the National Racing Association, and national rules will prevail.

Mr. Taft and Guaranteed Deposits.

In his speech of acceptance Mr. Taft puts himself squarely on record as being opposed to guaranteed deposits. He says: "The Democratic platform recommends a tax upon national banks and upon such state banks as may come in, in the nature of enforced insurance to raise a guaranty fund to pay the depositors of any bank which fails. The proposal is wholly impracticable unless it is to be accompanied by a complete revolution in our banking system, with a supervision so close as practically to create a government bank. If the proposal was adopted exactly as the Democratic platform suggests, it would bring the whole banking system of the country down in ruin."

Why seek to confuse the people on a simple proposition? We are supposed to have government supervision of national banks now. Supervision does not mean a government bank; it simply means that the national bank inspector will do just as they are expected to do under existing law—make their examination of banks thorough and make prompt and effective correction of any irregularities discovered. So it will be difficult to frighten the people by the claim that guaranteed deposits mean thorough supervision of banks. That's just exactly what the people want.

It is absurd to say that guaranteed deposits would "bring the whole banking system of the country down to ruin."

What does "guaranteed deposits" mean? It means that the savings of the masses shall be secured so that when men and women deposit their hard-earned money in banking institutions, they need not worry for fear it will be lost through the recklessness and dishonesty of bank officials. The federal government demands of these banks security for the money it deposits. As a rule state governments and county governments and municipal governments make similar requirements. But now that it is proposed that depositors generally shall have some such assurance for the safe keeping of their wealth, we are told by the republican candidate for the presidency that the adoption of such a plan "would bring the whole banking system of the country down to ruin."

It is to save the banking business and to save the people's money that the plan of guaranteed deposits is advocated by Democrats. It is strange that Mr. Taft and the big bankers for whom he speaks can not see that the guaranteed deposits system is absolutely necessary for the prevention of panics, for the safe keeping of the money of the masses and for the preservation of the banking business in the hands of individual.—Bryan's Commoner.
