COUNTY HIGH SCHOOLS.

There is the first Oregon county to establish the County High School. But Linn is following closely in her footsteps. Petitions are being filed with County Court, asking that this question shall be submitted to the voters at the coming election.

Should Linn County adopt the proposition, as she undoubtedly will, then it will become the duty of the County Court to levy a small high school tax, to take care of the high school work. Now, the News is well aware, that when ever the question of a high school, there is a class of our people who, without searching the matter in their minds thoroughly, will say "no." To such disposed voters, we wish to appeal at this time.

But few of our boys and girls are afforded, either the time or money, to attend college. A year's attendance at college, even with the most frugal management, means an expenditure of at least $175 to $200. Of course this cost prohibits a college education for a very large majority of our boys and girls. Now, college or high school education has become almost a necessity, in these modern days. The girl or boy without it, is seriously handicapped. He is destined to go through life, a mere hewer of wood or carrier of water. The door of opportunity is, in a large sense, closed to him.

So, if the college is impossible to most boys and girls, it becomes our duty as citizens, so far as within our power, to supply the deficiency. The County High School opens the way.

If adopted, any school either in town or country, may become a high school. That is to say, it will be no longer necessary to include in its course of study, all those branches excluded in the sixth, seventh, eighth and twelfth grades, and to prepare the student to enter the Freshman year at the State University. In a few country schools have neither suitable buildings nor a sufficient number of pupils, the high schools, to most of us, will be limited to towns. But the doors of the high schools, would be opened to pupils from any part of the county, free of tuition charges.

To illustrate, Scio would be an excellent point for the location of a County High School. Pupils from a distance of four or five miles in the adjoining country districts could attend, yet have at home most of the time. As we have an excellent building, the expense in establishing a school of this class, would be nominal. The teacher or teachers would be paid out of the high school fund, as the law provides that the county must pay the per diem cost of pupils. Linn county pays 15 to 25 cents per day for high school pupils. It would in no way interfere with our present district schools, for the pupil would not be admissible until he had completed eighth grade work. The additional expense to the county would be no more than a two mill tax at most. This would increase the tax per 1000 assessment, just two dollars; or a total of about $20.00 for the county.

There would, probably, be not more than five or six high schools in the county. In most cases, not more than two additional teachers would be required; as each teacher could handle two grades handsily.

Schools of this class would place a reasonably advanced education within the reach of nearly every boy and girl in the county; both in the matter of distance and expense. As most farmers are situated so that they could convey their children daily to and from school, or move to the town during the winter at least, the expense for this necessary high school education would be trifling as compared with the same number of years at Englewood or Corvallis.

The college is beyond the reach of a vast majority of the people at the present time; but the county high school is within the reach of nearly all. As the value of an advanced education is unquestioned, it behooves us as citizens, to make use of the only means within our power to secure this advanced education for our boys and girls. County high schools should win out on November 3 by a very large majority.

Carman, Pastor.

It is said railroad employees are being ordered to vote for Taft, by the railroad bosses, under the penalty of losing their jobs. This is a free and untrammeled ballot with a vengeance. How long will or can the American people stand this sort of thing. There ought to be a law making such action as above indicated, a crime, punishable with imprisonment only.

THE FIRST GUN.

The Democratic political campaign will be formally opened at Weesly & Cain's Hall, at 1 P. M. on Tuesday, Oct. 6. At that time, Hon. Geo. Fred Williams of Massachusetts will be present and deliver the leading address. Hon. M. A. Miller, Oregon's National Committeeman, will be present and introduce Mr. Williams.

Mr. Williams is one of the brightest lights of Democracy in the nation and is one of the most eloquent orators of either party.

Let everybody be present. Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, and Prohibitionists. It is the first time that an orator of so great fame has honored Scio with an address. Let us give him a fitting reception.
