Bread—Starting in January 17, I will handle Rose City Queen bread. F. M. Arnold.

Miss Neva Bilyeu, of Lebanon, was visiting friends and relatives in this city, last week.

A chinook wind and light rain set in last Thursday, which soon converted the snow into slush.

Dr. A. G. Prill and John Wesely went to Portland Sunday in the interest of the Scio Condensed Milk Co.

G. W. Garland, one of the sturdy old wheel horses of agriculture over on Crabtree Creek, was on our streets, Monday.

Leave your subscription for the Oregon Journal, on bargain day, February 8, 1909, with Miss Willie McKnight at Post office, Scio.

Thomas Creek came up as rapidly, last Friday, as at anytime in the past, so says the old settler. 12 inches per hour was the rate.

Miss Beulah Hyde, of Prineville, daughter of Dr. E. O. Hyde, a former resident of this place, is visiting numerous friends in Scio this week.

W. A. Ewing was a passenger for Albany Monday evening. Allen will also visit Salem Tuesday and be present at the Senatorial battle, which begins at the legislature on that day.

H. C. Miller has secured a contract for 30,000 ties, so we understand, and will begin cutting the same this week at his saw mill, near Aumsville. Norman Daley, Jess Rogers and Walter Stam will enter his employ at the mill.

Miss Hattie Canfield, who has been dressmaking in our city for the past three months, has returned to her home in Portland, preparatory to taking a position in the trimming department of the wholesale millinery establishment of Lowengart & Co.

Henry M. Myer, after several weeks absence, returned to his home, in Scio, last week. He had been at home but a few hours when he received a telegram that his grandfather, at Dallas, had been seriously hurt, in consequence of which, he returned forthwith to Dallas.

S. W. Gaines, of Santiam Farm, was in town Monday and in conversation with him, he stated that he believed that fully 50 per cent. of the potatoes held by the farmers was frozen during the recent zero weather, and 90 per cent. of the apples and other vegetables.

Services at the Baptist church, Sunday night, were conducted by Rev. A. H. Carman, who preached from the text, "Be ye not troubled, for the end is not yet." The attendance, while not large, was appreciative; for the text was handled in a manner that showed much thought.

The first damage of the snowstorm reported to the News is the collapse of a cow barn out at the Wesely farm. By good luck none of the cows were injured. The hay that was in the barn was damaged somewhat by wet snow and rain. Ed Wesely states the damage is about $75.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Rex, the newly wedded couple, returned Saturday morning from a two weeks tour, having visited various points in the valley and are now settled down to home life and will take their places in the ranks of the good substantial married citizens of our town.

Since the thaw (after a period of zero weather) it is a very common sight to see men on the street with a rod of grass pipe in one hand and a pipe-wrench in the other and with a look on their face that seems to say "I'll fix that leak or tear the whole darned thing out."

Miss Beattie Morris returned the latter part of last week from a two weeks visit at her sister's, Mrs. M. M. Peery, of Springfield.

Miss Grace Gill, the popular and obliging lady clerk of Hibler Gill Co., is again back at the counter after an absence of two weeks on account of sickness.

Mrs. Anna Payne and two sons, Earl and Leon Lewis, of Portland, are visiting at the home of W. E. Arnold. They are thinking somewhat of locating to our city.

The fifth one of the members of the honorific family, who live in M. M. Peery's residence, is down with typhoid fever. Two of the other that had it took a relapse and were dangerously ill.

G. R. Cyrus has been our new gambler, this week. If our local columns are unusually interesting, charge the credit to his account. If there should be any libel suits result we understand that he has the city courts subsidized.

If the locals in this week's issue of the News are a little below the standard in quantity and quality, attribute it rather to the head than to the heart of an inexperienced news-gatherer, as the chief scribe is away this week, and has left the gathering of the locals to one of the unsophisticated.

The many friends of Grandma Allison, who is now visiting relatives in Minnesota, will be pained to learn that she has been stricken with a gangrenous affliction of the foot, probably necessitating its amputation. Grandma's advanced age would naturally make an operation of that kind very dangerous.

For Sale—A 2 room house complete in every particular; with hot and cold water, bath room, out houses and barn, and an entire block of ground; has electric lights, telephone and water connection; price $2200. A 5 acre plot of ground adjoining the premises will be sold with the property, if desired, the whole for $2700. Inquire at this office.

Wm. Brenner and Wm. Downie, with the aid of their hounds, during the deep snow succeeded in capturing two large wildcats, a few miles East of town. They tread a third one, but owing to the density of the foliage of the tree in which he took refuge, and their inability to climb the tree, they were obliged to come away and leave him.

Fred Daley, in whose charge are the two fine imported Percheron and Geman coach stallions belonging to the Franklin Butte Stock Co., reports that he has brought them through the recent cold weather without ruffling a hair, and that the coming spring will see the horses in such fine fettle that it will do a horseman's eyes good to look upon them.

The Albany Democrat of Thursday of last week, says: Mr. Hiram Parker, of the Parker saw mill, near Scio, returned from Portland, where he ordered a $4,350 logging engine. When it gets set in the woods, with all its equipment it will mean an expenditure of about $8000, a good sign that the lumber business is picking up. Mr. Parker left for home on the Detroit local.

The DeMoss Concert Co. gave an entertainment at the Baptist church in this city, last Thursday evening. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, it was not as largely attended as its merits demanded, and as it otherwise would have been. They are a troupe of rare musical ability and rendered many selections in a manner that was particularly pleasing to the audience.

Wade Cyrus returned to his school at Kingston, Monday, after an enforced vacation of two weeks due to the deep snow and severe cold. Many of the country schools closed for the same reason; for, as a rule, the country school houses are not built for zero weather, neither are the native Oregonian school children built for a cross-country walk of a mile or two in snow to their knees, with the thermometer marking such a frigid temperature.

Since the snow practically lasted 'till Sunday, anyhow, many of our young people, and some that are not so young, wish that the thaw had been postponed 'till after Sunday in order that they might have had one more day's coasting. The previous Sunday found the larger part of the city's population out on Myers' hill South of town with all kinds of sleds and toboggans taking hair-raising and breath-taking slides down the half-pitch slopes of the aforesaid hill.

Professor Reed and Raleigh Shelton went over to Stayton Saturday to make arrangements for putting on the drama entitled "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," which will be played in that city on Saturday evening, January 23rd. The personnel of this troupe is composed entirely of pupils of the Scio Schools and they gave a very creditable performance here some two or three weeks ago. While they do not pretend to have any Edwin Booths or Ethel Barrymores in the cast, still the histrionic ability displayed is very creditable for school boys and girls, and compares very favorably with many of the traveling troupes. The play is clean, moral and wholesome, and we bespeak for them a liberal patronage.

BORN.

SIMANER—To the wife of John Simanek, January 16, a daughter. PHILLIPS—To the wife of H. Phillips, of Lyons, on January 19, a son and his name is "Dick."

Since the weather for the past two weeks has been of such a rigorous nature, business and work of all kinds has been suspended more or less, and many of our citizens have been wont to gather at the "Temple of Justice," presided over by our learned barrister Jas. Bilyeu, and discuss the various affairs and problems of life. The subjects discussed range all the way from Transmigration of the soul to the more homely joys of coon hunting. Uncle Isaac Bates is a regular attendant at these meetings and often holds the audience spell bound with a recital of his various deeds of valor and the strange hold that he has on some of the knotty problems of life. As we passed the "Temple" to-day we peeped in and Uncle Isaac had the floor, and had all his listeners, except Justice Bilyeu, who sat in a chair near the door gasping for breath, talked to a state of utter insensibility.

Arrival of Machinery.

Two car loads of machinery and fixtures for the Scio Condensed Milk Co's plant arrived at West Scio Monday night. It will be moved to the building and work begun on its installation within a few days.

Before you are aware of it, Scio will be turning out a condensed milk product that is second to none, as we think the natural advantages for producing a superior product are scarcely equaled anywhere. The herds from which the supply will be drawn, will at all times have access to the purest of mountain water, and the freshest and most succulent of grasses. The management have been very fortunate in selecting a table, both for its beauty and significance, and we are of the opinion that when the finished product is placed on the market that it can successfully hold its own against all competitors.

Adjourns Fair Meeting.

Every member of the Linn County Fair association has been notified of the adjournment of the annual meeting of the Linn County Fair Association from January 9 to Saturday, January 23. All of the annual business will be transacted at this adjourned meeting. It is most important that every member of the association be present. As the storm is now practically over and business is not pressing, all can be present with but little inconvenience.

Insanity Dodge.

According to the Oregonian James A. Finch is about to change his tactics and play the Twain game, that of insanity. The story is that the fractured place on his head was secured five years ago, at Salem during a drunk, affecting his brain. Seeing that he can not get clear in the regular order, this is to be used as the basis for insanity. Mrs. Finch, who has some property, according to this story is going to stand by Finch and do her best to save his neck from the gallows.—Albany Democrat.

Homer Davenport. Stories.

We have made clubbing arrangements with "Human Life," a weekly magazine, published in Boston by Alfred Henry Lewis, by which we can supply both "Human Life" and the News for $1.75. Homer Davenport, the Silverton boy, now the leading cartoonist of the world, traveler and lecturer, has engaged to write a series of articles descriptive of his life in Oregon, which will be highly interesting to Oregonians, at least. The magazine is well worth the price asked for both.

MARRIED

VAUGHAN-ROGERS—At the residence of Frank Thorp, in Albany, Ore., on January 17, by Rev. Elliot, Mr. Mack Vaughn and Miss Winnie Rogers, two popular young people of near Scio. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn will take up their residence at Parker's Mill where Mr. Vaughn has employment, and will go the remainder of life's journey in double harness, accompanied by the best wishes of their many friends.

Arm Broken.

Last Saturday as Mr. and Mrs. Vana were coming to Scio, their horses took fright at a large snow ball in front of the Richardson school house and upset the wagon throwing both of them out. Mrs. Vana had both bones of the right arm broken besides other severe internal and external injuries. Mr. Vana also received severe bruises from being dragged by holding on to the lines until the horses stopped. Dr. Brown was called and set the fractured arm. Both are doing as well as could be expected.

Administratrix Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed by the county court of Linn County, Oregon, administratrix of the estate of M. W. Miller, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present same to the undersigned at her residence about five miles South West of Scio, Oregon, duly verified and with proper vouchers, as by law required, within six months from the date of this notice.

Dated this 21st day of January, 1909. ALICE M. MILLER, ADMINISTRATRIX. L. L. Swan, Attorney for Administratrix.

STATEMENT NUMBER ONE WINS OUT.

Governor Geo. E. Chamberlain Elected U. S. Senator on Tuesday.

Despite the fact that for several weeks politicians have been moving almost Heaven and Earth in their efforts to defeat the will of the people, the people won out in the election of Gov. Geo. E. Chamberlain as U. S. senator on Tuesday. State Senator Beach and others, aided by advice and the presence of personal representative of National Chairman Hitchcock, was insufficient to debauch the honor and integrity of Statement One Legislators. They regarded their pledges as binding as an oath and when the time arrived to deliver the goods, the goods were delivered. While the dose was, evidently better to the partisan Republican legislators who subscribed to Statement One and while a few of them registered their protests, he said for their honor, complied with the requirements of their anti-election pledges.

Some six or seven of the Statement Republicans cast their votes for Governor Chamberlain and registered a protest against doing so. Just where a protest would be in order, the News man failed to see. The Statement members voluntarily subscribed to the pledge prior to the June election. In order to get votes. Many of them would not have been elected, had they not subscribed to the Statement. When the time (Tuesday) arrived for the redemption of their pledges, they still had the option of staying away, voting for somebody else, or voting for the people's choice as their pledges required them to do. They voted as their pledges required, voluntarily and without compulsion. A "protest," which was entered by some six or seven members is the pleading of the baby act, pure and simple and places the members so pleading in a position very nearly akin to contempt in the minds of sane voters.

The vote on Tuesday was, in the senate: Chamberlain 19, Fulton 7, Calk 3, Ross 1; in the House, Chamberlain 34, Calk 14, Fulton 12.

The vote was ratified in joint assembly, as above, on Tuesday. The News man was a spectator at the capital at the time when the vote was taken for U. S. senator at Tuesday noon, during which time by courtesy of Senator Frank Miller, we were permitted a seat within the bar of the senatorial body of Oregon's law makers.

President Bowerman appears to be a presiding officer who is fully equal to the occasion. In his list of standing committees, it would be difficult to discover the least sign of political favoritism. Democrats were given chairmanships apparently as freely as if they had been Republicans.

During the taking of the vote for senator it was deeply interesting to listen to the various excuses given by Statement One Republicans for voting for Governor Chamberlain for that office. When Senator A. J. Johnson's name was called one could not help observing that for him to vote for a Democrat was a most bitter pill. After a speech lasting ten to fifteen minutes, the dose was gulped down, after the Senator had registered his protest at being compelled to do so. Just where the compulsion came in, would be difficult to see. Senator Johnson voluntarily and without persuasion by anyone, subscribed to Statement No. 1. There was no compulsion prior to his election as senator; nor when the vote was being recorded for U. S. senator on Tuesday except his honor as a citizen and as state senator. His protest against voting for Governor Chamberlain, which was the only honorable way he could do, was simply puerile. He would stand before his constituency in a much more honorable light had he simply responded "Geo. E. Chamberlain" when his name was called.

Senator Frank Miller should be commended for his manly honorable course in regard to the election of senator. While he did not subscribe to Statement One, he stated emphatically that no legislator who had subscribed to the pledge could honorably escape voting for "the people's choice." The Linn County Fair bill was introduced in the senate on last Monday by Senator M. A. Miller and into the house by Representative Munckers. Without doubt it will become a law.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ITEMS.

The Scio Public School troupe will play "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" in Stayton, at the opera house, Saturday, January 23.

Beatrice Dewdney and Ethel and Maggie McDaid have returned to school after a short absence. Ethel Arnold, after a brief illness, has again returned to school.

The 10th grade civil government class is looking for information concerning the Supreme Judges of the United States and their districts. We will be glad to receive any information on the subject.

Wade Cyrus was a visitor at the school Thursday and Friday of last week. The School would be glad to have anyone make it a visit who feels interested in our line of work.
