Among the new things in Scio, during this year, will be a milk condensery, a Catholic church and, probably, a sawmill,

Rev. Norcross, of Eugene, filled his appointment at the Christian church in this city, last Sunday. The NEWS family acknowledge a pastoral call from him while he was here.

Two real estate transfers have occured in the vicinity of Scio, within the past week; Mrs. Francis Wesely deeded a 125-acre farm to her son Rudolph and S. F. Zysset deeded a small body of land to Paul Kopecky.

C. E. Rodgers, of Detroit, Michigan, who sold and will set up the milk condensery machinery, arrived Wednesday morning. Work of placing the machinery in position and fitting up the building, will be commenced at once.

The winter of 1908-9 in Oregon, will be spoken of in the future as a "Hard winter." But there have been, comparatively, no losses of stock, which shows a care by the owners of stock for their herds that was not exercised in the past.

The question is being agitated of extending the city limits both North and South, one-fourth of a mile in each direction. There is certainly a need of more building lots and, too, the abutting land should assist in bearing the burden of the city government.

L. W. Parker, of the Thomas Creek Lumber Co. and two gentlemen who are interested in the lumber business and who are contemplating buying an interest in the Thomas Creek Company, came up from Portland Wednesday evening and went on up to the mill on the following morning.

It is reported that Ed Jones, out at Shelburn, has a sow which farrowed a short time ago, giving birth to 19 pigs. Evidently the mother thought she had a too large contract on her hands, for she destroyed four of the little youngsters. She if now taking care of the litter of 15 in good shape.

Our Bohemian fellow citizens have purchased seven acres of ground near Crabtree bridge, upon which the society "Telocvicna Jednota Sokol Bratri Osvety" will build. (If any of our American readers will pronounce the name of this society, correctly, the NEWS will furnish them with a chromo. Ed.)

The Linn County Fair Association will probably, secure an annual appropriation of $1150 from the state. The bill has passed the senate and has passed the second reading in the house and is now in the hands of the approoriate committee: It may reach final action in the house, this week. $1000 of this amount must be used for paying premiums alone and no part of which can be used for paying purses on races. The $150 is for printing to be done by the state printer.

Free Instruction in Horticulture.

A six week course in horticulture is now under way at the Agricultural college, Corvallis, Oregon, and there is a large attendance from different parts of the state, the attendance being more than double that of last year. Some of the most interesting work in the course is yet to come. Many fruit-growers are unable to attend the course for the entire six weeks, but are able to come for a few days or several weeks. The course is open to them at any time. There will be two weeks more of apple packing and work in budding and grafting. In addition to this, special lectures are given on the various phases of fruit-growing, truck gardening, and landscape gardening.

Beginning on February 8 a special course of two weeks will be given in walnut grafting. This should be of great interest to people contemplating engaging in this industry. The most important methods of walnut grafting will be taken up, including the very successful and famous Payne method. In addition to the lectures practice will be given in the work including nursery grafting, and the top-working of the large American black walnut trees found scattered over the state.

In the last two weeks of the course two hours a day of practical instruction will be given in spraying, pruning, staking and setting of orchards. This work includes apples, grapes, peaches, cherries etc.

Special lectures will be given by some of the best authorities on horticulture to be found in the Northwest. These courses are open to any one interested in horticulture. Come at any time.

Bridge Stands Strain.

The falling of the water in the South Santiam river has disclosed the fact that Sanderson's bridge, the longest wagon bridge in Linn County, has successfully withstood the flood. The river washed several yards into the East bank during the high water, and it was feared that the east approach and perhaps the eastermost part of the three spans would fall. The approach was weakened, but the pier was not undermined as much as expected and the bridge will stand.

This bridge, which spans the Santiam nine miles east of Albany, has always been a source of trouble in high water because of the shifting channel of the Santiam at that point, and in building and repairs has cost Linn County $87,000 already.

Wild Boar Chase.

Last week Lawson Craft, Dick Craft and John Rockwell were hunting coons on the mountain above Mr Cladek's farm and routed a wild boar from his sleeping den. Several have hunted for him during the last ten years, but he was an elusive brute. His history tends to show a record of fences thrown down, gardens plundered and other depredation. People have lain out nights watching to get a shot at him, but of no avail. But at last begun a chase. Dogs after the boar and the three men after the dogs; up hill and down hill through some of the wildest regions in Oregon. After a mile chase, the dogs "bayed" him. Then the fun began. The hog displayed all of the viciousness of his ancient ancestors and resolved not to be taken. He stood champing his mouth, hair on end, tusks or tushes gleaming in the sunlight, forming, altogether, a most exciting scene. After a few charges by the boar and return charges by the men, a couple of shots laid him low. His shoulders stood as high as an ordinary table His jaws were a foot long. The four canine teeth, after being extracted, are eight and one-half inches in length. They do say that when he charged he appeared to be as tall as an ordinary man. It is a good riddance. Children and even men, were in danger, if he were to make a return charge after a dog, which might attack him.

ANNUAL FAIR MEETING.

Nevertheless the Weather, the Attendance was Good.

The postponed annual meeting of the Linn County Fair Association was held at the city hall on last Saturday.

President Prill in reading the annual financial report for the year, showed the association to be in good financial condition.

He estimates that about $1000 in improvements will be necessary for the coming fair and urged that this amount be raised by the sale of new memberships. There are now outstanding 241 certificates of membership, held by 176 individuals. It is hoped that 100 more members of the association will be secured, as it is very desirable to have the people generally interested.

Election of officers was then declared in order and Dr. A. G. Prill was placed in nomination to succeed himself. President Prill, in accepting the nomination, stated he would not accept the nomination unless those present would each agree to assist in any way they could to make the 1909 fair a success, and called for a rising vote. As everybody rose to his feet President Prill thinks he will have plenty of help this year. The following officers were then elected by acclamation:

A. G. Prill, president.
T. M. Holt, vice president.
R. W. Gill, secretary.
F. D. Meers, treasurer.

There was ten names placed in nomination for places on the board of directors. When the vote was counted the following six were declared elected: W. G. McDonald, J. A. Bilyeu, M. C. Caines, John Wesely, A. E. Randall and S. H. Goins.

To this number will be added three directors to be appointed by the governor, providing the bill appropriating $1150 for the fair annually by the legislature is passed.

The following officers have been appointed by the board of directors:

Chief marshal, I. A. Munkers, Albany, with power to appoint his own assistants.

Supts. of sheep, goats and fowls, C. G. Relts, Harrisburg.

Supts. of ladies' pavilion, Mrs. W. F. Gill and Mrs. A. G. Prill, of Scio.

Supt. of horses and cattle, Wm May, Scio.

Thus it can be seen that the outlook for the fair of 1909 is the best ever. Now if our farmers, dairymen, stockmen and chicken fanciers will do their part and bring the stuff for exhibition, the fair of 1909 will be second only to the state fair at Salem.

Banner Grange Organized.

What we believe will become the most flourishing grange of Linn county was organized under the name of "Banner" Grange with a good charter list, in Scio, on last Wednesday afternoon. There was a degree of enthusiasm manifested which insures a doubling of the membership in a short time. Organizing officers C. H. Walker and C. L. Shaw, of Albany, had charge of instuting the new grange. It was decided to hold the charter list open for one week.

The following officers were elected:

Master, F. J. Denny.
Overseer, Geo. L. Sutherland.
Lecturer, E. C. Peery.
Steward, R. W. Gill.
Asst. Steward, Wm May.
Chaplain, J. A. Bilyeu.
Treasurer, J. T. Funk.
Secretary, T. L. Dugger.
Gate Keeper, John E. Cyrus.
Ceres, Mrs. Maggie May.
Pomona, Mrs. Iva Abbott.
Flora, Mrs. Meda Bilyeu.
Lady Asst Steward, Miss Alda Powell.

State Deputy, C. L. Shaw then instructed in the unwritten work. Adjourned to meet Wednesday February 3.

Banner Grange of Scio, starts off under most favorable auspices. It is thought the charter list will be increased to 100 or more by the time of next meeting when the organization will be completed. In no other organization can the farmer, orchard, dairy household science be discussed and new and better methods encouraged, like it can be in the Grange; for such is the object of the organization. Whatever organization, whether it be an Agricultural society or Grange, whose object is to discuss improved method of farming, dairying, fruit raising, or matters pertaining to the science of housekeeping, is beneficial to society and should receive encouragement from everyone.

Have Made a Hit.

It is not often that a public school develops a dramatic troup that makes a hit with the public. Yet Scio's public school has done the turn. "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" is a heavy play which requires men and women of mature years to render effectively; Yet Scio's public school has a troup of boys and girls in their teens, rendering the play so realistic as to bring tears to the eyes of their auditors.

Prof. Reed determined that the Scio public schools should have a piano. In order to secure the funds, this play was prepared. Some weeks ago, it was rendered at the Public School hall with such good effect that the troup was asked to deliver the play at Stayton and at the Devaney school house. Last Saturday the troup went to Stayton and produced the play in the evening to a full house. Spectators who were present both at Scio and Stayton, say that the rendition of the play at Stayton was much better than at Scio.

The troup will go to the Devaney school house on Saturday evening, February 6.

The following constitutes the troup: John Sticha, Ivan Miller, Lester Arnold, Ardee Powell, Rolla Shelton, Edna Myers, Maud Andersen, Beatrice Devaney, Birdelle Brenner, Chas Balschweid and Prof. I. W. Reed.

In addition to the troup, R. M. Cain and Miss Alda Powell, Francis Arnold and Miss Stella Flemming, attended the play at Stayton.

The members of the troup desire the NEWS to express their most profound gratitude to the people of Stayton for the cordial treatment they received while there. All say they could not have been treated better.

Train Ditched.

Wednesday evening the West bound C. & E. train, a short distance East of Shelburn, by some means jumped the track, ditching the engine and six cars. Fortunately no one was injured. A stub train came over from Albany to get the passengers. It is said some 200 to 300 feet of track was torn up.
