LOCAL BREVITIES.

Cheat hay for sale. Inquire of L. E. Miller.

Tom Large made a business trip over to Albany, on Monday.

George Ray, of coyote chasing fame, spent last Sunday in this city.

E. C. Peery has lately become the possessor of a fine driving horse.

Bread—Starting in January 17, I will handle Rose City Queen bread. F. M. Arnold.

Father Moran, of Albany, will hold services at the Wesely-Cain hall next Sunday, February 7, at 10:30 a. m.

Grandma Calavan was taken quite sick Sunday evening, but has recovered or, at least, is better at this writing.

Leave your subscription for the Oregon Journal, on bargain day, February 3, 1909, with Miss Willia Mc Knight at Post office, Scio.

The moving of the condensery boiler in from West Scio, is proving to be quite a job. Rollers are employed the same as moving a building.

It is said to be post office law that no one except those who have been especially sworn should be permitted access to the office and mails.

W. J. Bilyeu was in town Saturday, looking after the feasibility of renting and operating the Morris hotel, just at the South end of the bridge, in this city.

A four-horse load of lumber, now-a-days, would be but half a load for two in the summer. The Monks are delivering a few thousand feet to the condensery.

Work on the condensery comes at a time when it is most needed by our work people. Mr. Rodgers is employing Scio help exclusively in the installation of the plant.

Representative Munkers' sickness is very unfortunate for the Linn County Fair bill. He had introduced the bill in the house but his sickness has prevented his pushing matters as they should be.

N. I. Morrison completed the removal of his family to this city and has domiciled them in the Donahue house at the East end of Mill street. On Monday morning as carpenter in chief, he went to work on the condensery.

Fred Gooch and family came down from Goochville, just above Lyons, last Saturday, for a Sunday visit with Mrs. Gooch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Titus, of this city. Mr. Gooch went to Portland on the early train Monday morning.

Dr. A. G. Prill and R. W. Gill, president and secretary of the Linn County Fair Association and S. H. Goin and F. J. Denny went to Salem Monday morning to explain the merits of the Linn County Fair appropriation bill to the legislators.

Wm. Ehler, of near Lebanon and of Mexican mining fame, was in this city last Friday. He stated that a meeting of the directors of his company would be held in Lebanon this week, at which time disclosures would be made which will be highly interesting to the public.

T. J. Munkers, a recent resident of Scio, but now of Portland, spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday visiting old friends in this city. He had been to Southern Oregon to inspect a mining proposition. While here he exhibited one that would almost make one's eyes water because of its richness. Assays show its value to be $700 to $800 per ton. Mr. Munkers will, probably, invest extensively in the proposition.

The Jordan store team became frightened, last Monday, at the condensery boiler which had been moved, but a short distance from the West Scio depot, and despite the efforts of the driver commenced to run away. Clifford Trask the driver, endeavored to guide the team into the fence on the right, but failed to do so. The driver was thrown out and the run-away soon came in contact with an S. P. building which caused a cessation of the run-away. One of the horses was bruised somewhat, but it is not thought he was seriously injured. Mr. Trask hired a horse in Scio with which to help haul the load home. Harness and wagon was injured somewhat and the driver would have felt better had he not been thrown out.

County Treasurer Francis came over from Albany, Wednesday morning.

Miss Grace Gill has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Dr. J. W. Cole, for the past week.

Scio is a splendid location for a sawmill and several sawmill people are lining out about it.

Wesely & Cain state their January sales, just closed, have been the best of any of their previous January clearance sales.

It probably may not be known that Rev. Carman is an old time antiquary expert, yet such is the case, and we are indebted to him for a few hours work at the case this week.

Franklin Butte Stock Co.'s day—Feb. 17. Two of the best stallions in the valley will, on that day, be sold at public auction. If you want the best of either German Coach or the Percheron breeds, it will be to your lot best to attend.

James H. Hay, who enjoys the distinction of being the father of triplets, called at this office Wednesday and had his subscription moved up a year. He stated the "boys" were getting along nicely and weigh 11, 13 and 14 pounds respectively.

Grange Deputies Walker and Shaw came over from Albany, Wednesday, to complete the organization of "Banner" grange in this city. The movement has proven a most popular one. The charter lot now numbers 162, which will be increased to 250 by next meeting, when the charter will be closed.

For Sale—A 9 room house complete in every particular; with hot and cold water, bath room, out houses and barn, and an entire block of ground; has electric lights, telephone and water connection; price $2500. A 3 acre plot of ground adjoining the premises will be sold with the property, if desired, the whole for $2700. Inquire at this office.

Dr. W. H. Davis, county health officer, came over last Friday, from Albany, to make an official examination of the M. M. Peery property at the North end of Pentland avenue. The occupants of the property have, one after another, been sick for several weeks. The unsanitary condition of the property is due to the well, is the decision of Health Officer Davis. The well has been condemned for all future use and the house unsanitary. The occupants moved from the house the first of the week.

Rev. S. A. Lougias, pastor of the Baptist church at Albany, preached in the Baptist church, in this city, each evening last week and was to have continued this week, but catching a severe cold resulting in a sore throat, he phoned Sunday evening that he could not be here. Rev. Carman is, therefore, conducting the meetings alone. Next Sunday will be his regular day to preach so there will be service morning and evening. On Saturday of this week will be the regular business meeting of the church and all members are requested to be present at two o'clock.

Our friends, in the neighborhood of the Devaney schoolhouse have a great treat in store for them on to-morrow (Saturday) evening. The pupils of the Scio High school have prepared with great care, the play "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" and have delivered the same to large and appreciative audiences both in Scio and Stayton. By request they will reproduce this old but ever popular and instructive play at the above named schoolhouse. The Scio High has developed a dramatic troupe of very ordinary amateur troupes for school boys and girls. They are well worthy of listening to.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ITEMS.

The weather will not permit of outdoor sports, this week, and the pupils are forced to play indoors.

Miss Daisy Buckner is absent from school this week.

The tenth grade has organized and elected class officers as follows:

Burdelle Brenner, president; Walter Wynman, vice president; Daisy Buckner, secretary; Ivan Miller, treasurer. The colors selected are green and cream; the emblem a star; and the motto, "More beyond."

Mrs Ernest Rex and Miss Nora Donahue visited the school Friday. The first piano has been returned, being unsatisfactory, and has been replaced by a new one. Miss Ethel Wallace has started to school, taking up the 8th grade.

The players of the troupe wish to express their appreciation to the Spokan News for the encouraging words spoken in their behalf.

The Book-keeping class has made splendid progress this year.

THE BROWNSVILLE HOMICIDE.

Not for many months has Linn county been responsible for a homicide. The Oregonian a short time ago publishes a list of homicides in the various counties of the state. Linn county was not included in the list. But she has now broken into the homicide column before the year was one month old.

Charles Powell, a prosperous and law-abiding farmer, of Brownsville, is now confined in the county jail at Albany, charged with killing a young man by the name of Roper. Powell had a wayward daughter, 15 years old, with whom Roper had become acquainted. This acquaintance finally culminated in the elopement of the couple. The Powells followed the couple up, secured the return of their daughter and forcible Roper having any further intercourse with their daughter.

Roper paid no heed to the commands of the Powells and at a neighborhood dance, managed to secure an interview with Miss Powell, they retiring from the house for that purpose. A brother of the girl noticing the absence of his sister from the hall room and knowing of Roper's presence, at once sent word to his father.

Evidently threats had been made by Roper for when Powell went to look for his daughter he went armed with his Winchester rifle. When the scene of the shooting was reached, Roper and the girl had become separated. When Roper saw Powell he at once called out "I have the drop on you," evidently intending by bluffing to intimidate Powell. But Powell, feeling that the honor of his family was at stake, did not wait for any further invitation, but at once commenced the battle by firing three or four shots in rapid succession, one of which took effect in Roper's brain. When searched Roper was found unarmed. Powell made no effort to get away, but quietly awaited the coming of Sheriff Smith, when he was arrested and taken to Albany. The Coroner's jury found a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Powell is one of Brownsville's best citizens and has the sympathy of all his neighbors in his trouble. Roper was a young man without principle or reputation, else this unfortunate affair would never have occurred.

If there is anything under heaven which would create a homicidal mania within the bosom of a parent, it would be to have a wayward daughter, scarcely having passed her babyhood, enticed from her home and virtue. Mr. Powell has the sympathy of all parents who would protect their daughters from the despoiler.

LATER.—The examination of Charles J. Powell for the killing of Homer Roper at the Neess farm near Brownsville last Thursday night, before Justice Swan was held in the Court House, the great interest in the case calling out a larger attendance than could be accommodated in Mr. Swan's office.

Details which have been ascertained since the tragedy occurred show that three friends of Roper went with him to the Neess party and took horses, promising to aid Roper in eloping again with Leah Powell.

After the killing, the three friends took the horses and disappeared, and after going some distance, they discovered that one horse was wounded. They made an effort to get it home, but it died on the way. The other horse was returned to his owner before morning. Attorneys J. K. Wyatt and H. H. Hewitt who are to defend Powell, visited the scene of the crime accompanied by ex-County Surveyor Hagy v. Fisher who made measurements and drawings of the ground in the vicinity of the killing. Deputy District Attorney Gale S. Hill, Sheriff Smith and Coroner Fortmiller were all in Brownsville Saturday at the post mortem examination of Roper's body. A number of people who were at the Neess party were summoned to testify to the preliminary examination of Powell before Justice Swan.

A great many people from Brownsville and other parts of the county came in to hear the preliminary examination; the court room was crowded at the hour appointed. The case was quickly settled for the present, however, as the defendant waived examination, and was held to the grand jury in the March term of court, and remanded to the care of sheriff Smith.

Great sympathy is expressed for Mr. Powell and offers of assistance from many quarters. A subscription has been started by one of his warm hearted life long friends, R. M. Fletcher, and liberally subscribed to for the purpose of aiding in a financial way during Mr. Powell's incarceration, a commendable proposition.—Aldany Herald.
