The most contemptible of all thieves is the literary thief. He steals something which can do him no lasting good and which, generally, results in his dishonor and disgrace. The NEWS has lately been imposed upon by a thief of this class. The matter may result in a financial loss to the NEWS; but the perpetrator will suffer from a guilty conscience as long as he lives.

Use Diamond chick feed, composed of a great variety of seeds and grains mixed in proportions of bone, grit, shell, charcoal, dried meat and blood. In all there are 20 different ingredients, giving the little chicks just what they need to keep them healthy and to grow well. Get it at Wesely's grocery.

Preaching in the Baptist church next Sunday at the usual hours. It will be worth hearing at least. Special music for the occasion.

A complete line of "Lillys Best" garden seeds, alsike clover, red clover, white clover, alfalfa, red top, English rye grass, field peas, vetch, and timothy seed—prices always reasonable at Wesely's Grocery.

When in Albany last week, we called at the First Savings bank, of that city, which had just opened its doors for business. Cashier Irvine, who is in charge, is one of Albany's bright young business men. He will handle the affairs of the First Savings bank in a manner alike satisfactory to patron and owner. The NEWS wishes and believes the new enterprise will be a success from the start.

Must Go To School

Mr. John Bino, living in the Munkers' school district, was last Saturday arrested upon a complaint sworn out by Truant officer C. H. Walker before Justice Bilyeu in Scio, upon the charge of keeping his son Frank, aged 12 out of school.

Friendly letters from the truant officer to Mr. Bino proving of no avail, legal notice was sent by registered mail for Frank to be in school last Monday, but the notice was disregarded. The parents admitted keeping the boy out to work, and contended he was past 14, but furnished no proof save their verbal statement, while the prosecution showed that by the census of Nov. 1907 taken in Albany where the Bino's then resided, Frank's age was given at 11 years and the census of Nov. 1908 in Munkers district at 12, and the boy also gave in this age to the teachers when he entered school last fall.

A fine of $5 the lowest limit, was imposed upon Mr. Bino with costs at $3.75. Mr. Bino refused to pay these sums. After consideration on the part of the prosecution and Justice Bilyeu the fine was remitted, owing to the evident ignorance of the parents. Refusing to pay the costs commitment papers were executed when Mr. Bino paid the sum due and was given to understand Frank must be in school next Monday morning.

The truant officer has no discretion in the matter where it can be plainly shown parents or guardians have violated the law. Sometimes there is criticism of his acts, but if error has been committed it has been on the side of mercy rather than to do any parties an injustice. —Albany Democrat.

The Stayton Bank Robbery

An attempt at bank robbery over at Stayton, last Tuesday, proved to be a failure. The robbers did not have enough nerve to carry the matter through.

Shortly after noon two masked men appeared at the Stayton bank and demanded "hands up". The cashier, not liking the looks of a 44 presented in a threatening manner, complied apparently with the command but, at the same time, succeeded in setting off an alarm which communicated with another business house. The alarm was at once given and men with guns in their hands were on hand so quickly that the burglars did not have time to secure any loot. The territory about the bank became too warm for their comfort, so a retreat across the Santiam was in order. A posse followed up the would-be robbers as quickly as possible. In the chase a number of shots were fired, but we are unable to learn whether or not any one was injured.

There is something wrong when men will run such desperate chances as these men undertook. Of course, a law-abiding citizen cannot understand such work. They are not prepared to resist or protect themselves from it. Our Stayton friends are to be commended for their promptness in responding to the alarm. Let us hope that the would-be burglars will yet be captured. The bank of any small town is liable to have such visitors and the citizens should be prepared for them.

Scio Wins First Game

The weather of last Sunday being fair nevertheless it looked threatening in the morning, the Corvallis and Scio teams crossed bats on the Scio grounds. Owing to the fact of the uncertainty of the weather and the farming community being in the midst of seeding, the crowd was small. Promptly at 2 p. m. Umpire P. H. McDonald called the game and at the command "Play ball!" trouble began with Corvallis at the bat. Nevertheless this was Scio's first game of the season, the Corvallis side was retired in 1, 2, 3 order. Scio in her half managed to get John Wesely over the home plate. Inning 2, ended with goose eggs for each side. Inning 3, Corvallis got down to work and when she retired, had scored 3 runs, while Scio received another coating of whitewash. Inning 4 proved a blank for Corvallis while Scio sent 3 men across the home plate. Inning 5, goose egg for Corvallis and Scio annexed another run to her credit. Inning 6, Corvallis got busy and put 2 men around the diamond. Scio retaliated by sending 5 of her huskies around to the home plate. This bunching of runs seemed to rattle the visitors, for no more of them could get within halting distance of the home plate. Scio in the 7th canto made another tally, just to show the visitors that she still had her run-getting clothes on, but after the 7th neither side was able to score.

The score by innings was:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Corvallis 0 0 2 0 0 2 0 0 0 5
Scio 1 0 0 8 1 5 1 0 0 11

The Corvallis boys are a nice gentlemanly set of fellows and apparently, enjoyed their visit and the game, nevertheless they went down to defeat. Scio has an excellent team and with a little more practice, can go up successfully against any amateur team in the state.

11. "Sing Here, Sing There," School.

The Condensery Starts

Yesterday Scio's milk condensery commenced business. The first batch of milk was carried through the condensing process. To say that this large enterprise means much to the people of Scio and vicinity, is not overstating the matter in the least, a fact which a few months will demonstrate. The business starts up under most favorable auspices and the men who have charge, are a guaranty that the public will receive fair and honorable treatment.

In our next issue we will endeavor to give a complete description of the plant and the process of condensing, etc.

A full line of Guaranteed Prussian stock and poultry remedies at Wesely's Grocery.

W. T. Hickman Instantly Killed

W. T. Hickman was instantly killed at his home, three miles Southwest of Scio, at about 8 a. m., on Tuesday morning. As nearly as the NEWS can learn, the facts are as follows:

Hickman had loaded a cord of wood on his wagon the previous evening preparatory to hauling it to Scio and unhooked his team from the load at the side of the public road. When the start for Scio was made, the left forward wheel almost immediately dropped into a sink or hole. This threw the weight of the load upon the wheel and it gave away. This caused Hickman to fall from the wagon and overturned the load upon him.

The alarm was at once sent to the nearest neighbors and Wm. Young and Fred Sommers soon arrived. When the wood was removed, Hickman's head was discovered to be horribly crushed and all semblance of life had disappeared. He was quite dead.

A young son of Mr. Hickman was on the load with him, but escaped from the fall without injury.

Mr. Hickman was a first-class citizen, a hard worker and was absolutely honest. When the fatal accident occurred he was hauling wood with which to pay his drug and doctor bills. He was about 57 years old and leaves an invalid wife and four children, the eldest of whom is but 14 years old, to mourn his loss.

The funeral and burial occurred at Franklin Butte cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

It is seldom that the NEWS is required to chronicle so sad a tragedy. We are again admonished that life is most uncertain and may be snuffed out at any time and instantly. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family.
