Geo. F. Simpson, an Albany pioneer of 1850, died at his home in that city on June 27; aged 74 years. Mr. Simpson was the first superintendent of the Albany Farmers Warehouse Co., serving in that capacity for seven years.

Quite a number of our citizens have had pressing business over at the present county seat, this week. On Monday J. D. Griffin, L. Osborn, E. G. Balschweid and the News man went over. Tuesday E. C. Peery, Ben. Gooch and J. A. Bilyeu, and on Wednesday Dr. Prill, Mrs. E. G. Balschweid and Dr. Sanderson, followed suit.

Our Country, its advantages for developing true manhood, some of its needs, dangers, duties of its citizens, etc., will be the subject of the sermon or talks in the Baptist church next Sunday evening, July 4. Several of our citizens have promised to speak on these themes. Come and hear them. Regular services in the morning at 11 o'clock.

The Albany Herald objects to the allusion in the NEWS, of last week, in speaking of Albany as the "present county seat." What is the trouble, brother? Isn't Albany the present county seat? The NEWS is fully satisfied that Albany has been the county seat in the past, is so at present and will probably continue to be the county seat of the future. But, perhaps, the Herald, knowing that the Scio people do things when they undertake them, is afraid that a delegation of Scio's pushing citizens will, some dark night, actually go over to Albany and purloin the courthouse, bag and baggage and remove it to Scio. No brother, do not be alarmed! Scio has no such intentions, at least at the present time. In the mean time, we notice that the present county seat is really taking on a city appearance with modern plate-glass fronts to her store buildings and paved streets, etc.

Card Of Thanks

In the hour of our bereavement, we desire to tender our most heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors, who so kindly sympathized with and aided us during the sickness and burial of our son and brother.

MRS. N. J. NEAL AND CHILDREN

Died

NEAL—At the home of Mrs. N. J. Neal, on Saturday, June 26, 1909, of typhoid-pneumonia, David C. Neal; aged nearly 40 years.

The attack of sickness was severe from the start and though the fever had been broken, his weakened condition was such that the rally toward his convalescence could not be made. He leaves a widowed mother, three brothers and one sister to mourn his loss.

Last Thursday afternoon, just after the NEWS had gone to press, the fire bell brought our fire department and the citizens in general quickly to the streets and to the scene of the fire, which proved to be the residence of J. R. Gill. The fire boys soon had a stream of water playing upon the flames, which were confined to the one-story ell. The fire started beneath the roof and above the ceiling, probably, from a defective flue. Quick work prevented any great damage being done. The residence was insured in the McMinville company, the loss being adjusted within two or three days after the fire.

Will Bore For Oil

C. W. Taylor, secretary and manager of the Cascade Petroleum company, accompanied by C. H. Vehrs and C. W. Tebault, was in Scio yesterday, coming from Lebanon in Muesse automobile. This is the company that is undertaking the development of this field for oil and gas, thereby carrying out the purposes of the local company organized some time ago. The drilling will be done on C. H. Vehrs' farm, south of Scio, where the company has already constructed its big derrick. Part of the machinery is being delivered on the ground today, and it is expected the balance will arrive in time to commence drilling operations by July 15. The company has announced a picnic and barbecue to be given in celebration of the commencement of operations.

Salem 2, Scio 1

The above caption was the final score of the Salem-Scio ball game at Woodburn, last Sunday.

Owing to the fact that the day was damp and cool and the further fact that a picnic attracted many of the ball fans, the crowd was not over 400; but these four hundred witnessed about the fastest game of ball ever played by amateur teams in the Willamette valley.

Promptly at 3 p. m. the game was called with Salem at bat. For five innings neither team was able to get a man across the home plate. In the sixth Salem broke the ice by pushing Hunt around and across the home plate for a run. Scio, in her half, succeeded in returning the compliment, by Gooch making the circuit of the diamond, thus tying up the score. In the seventh, Scio seemed to have gotten off on an unlucky foot. By bunching four errors, Bowen of Salem, was permitted to register the winning run; for neither team, thereafter, was able to score.

The features of the game were three-doubles by Scio and a sensational one-hand catch of a long fly by Salem's center fielder. Had this catch not been made, Scio would have scored two more runs which would have won the game. But the catch was made and Scio went down to her first real defeat for the season.

The teams were evenly matched, nevertheless Scio was crippled by the absence of Short Stop Swan. The game was played in less than one hour and thirty minutes and was enjoyed greatly by the Woodburn fans.

The same teams are matched for two games at Salem on July 8 and 9 and for July 18, the place is not yet named, but Woodburn will, probably, be chosen. Should Scio win two of these games, a fifth will then have to be played, to find out which is the better team.

Fair Ground Improvements

Workmen have been engaged for the past two weeks in making improvements at the Fair grounds for the Fair of 1909. A nice commodious barn 24x200 feet with a projection of the roof of three feet on either side. The barn is divided into 50 box stalls. The barn is for the track horses. A kitchen to be used by the restaurant, has also been erected, the dining room will be a large tent. New closets, gates, etc., are being constructed, all of which will be completed. When two or three wells have been sunk, the grounds will be in condition for the Fair.

From all indications there will be double the amount of stock on exhibition ever exhibited heretofore and the speed horses will be here in abundance. So a most interesting and enjoyable time may be expected.

Spring Clothing Now on Display

The garments that we are displaying are distinctive enough to be out of the rut, yet never loud enough to offend good taste.

Tailoring, which is good as head-and-hand can devise. Good enough to hold the style permanent as long as the garment is in service.

We want to show you. We can also fit your purse. A first rate, all wool worsted for $10; some cheaper.

A winner for $15; $20 will buy one good enough for anybody; and if the best is none to good for you, then $25 is the limit.

Always the best for the money.
